Michael Xavier Hugue

My name is Michael Xavier Hugue. I have been creating artwork and using my talent as an artist since the third grade. My parents encouraged me to participate in football, track and field, wrestling and baseball. Sports kept me focused in school and humble. When I was younger, I did not understand the importance of school. It finally hit me during my sophomore year of high school. I realized that sports were not always promised. So I strove to be the best and make A's and B's throughout my junior and senior years of high school.

Eventually all my hard work paid off and I graduated with a 3.5 GPA. Throughout life there are always valuable lessons taught or told. As an artist, I love to display those life messages and lessons through my artwork. I've named my entire collection, "My Story."

I attended Homestead Senior High School where I studied Art and Media Production. Shortly after graduation, I enrolled at Miami International University of Art and Design to pursue a Bachelor's degree in Graphic Design.

As an artist, I am deeply influenced by all types of music, ranging from R&B to rap and gospel. My skills are employed in various mediums such as acrylics, oil, watercolors and pencil. Mixed with my imagination these mediums make my body of work an insightful and colorful way of viewing life.

I displayed my art during Art Basel 2013, which was one of the highlights of my early career and will help me to set the foundation that I will use to continue to grow as an artist.
