As provided in Section 5.03(C) of the Home Rule Charter, the Board hereby authorizes the transfer of any portion of the earnings or balance of the several funds, other than sinking funds, for obligations not yet retired, to the general funds of the County provided that such transfer be deemed a cash advance to meet operating and other expenses approved by the Board, and that all such advances shall be reimbursed before the end of the fiscal year upon receipt of adequate tax or other appropriate revenues. Provided, however, that this section in no way limits or restricts the power of the Board to transfer any unencumbered appropriation balance, or any portion thereof, from one department, fund or agency to another as provided by law pursuant to Section 5.03(C) of the Home Rule Charter.

Section 6. Memorandum

MIAMI-DADE
COUNTY

Date: September 8, 2011

To: Honorable Chairman Joe A. Martinez
and Members, Board of County Commissioners

From: Carlos A. Gimenez
Mayor

Subject: Information for First Budget Hearing – FY 2011-12 Proposed Budget

This report accompanies the FY 2011-12 Budget Ordinances for your consideration at the first budget hearing on September 8, 2011. This document details all adjustments necessary to the FY 2011-12 Proposed Budget, as well as other adjustments the Board may wish to consider. The total value of all adjustments contained in this document is $4.858 million and is composed of the $4.7 million associated with the increased millage rate set by the Board for the Library System, $3 million associated with the decreased millage rate set by the Board for the Fire Rescue District, $4.474 million of expenditure adjustments in the General Fund, and overall increases of $3.177 million in grants and other proprietary revenues. This represents 0.01 percent of the Proposed Operating Budget of $4.4 billion. The Jackson Health Systems adjustments total $62 million.

The Proposed Budget was released on July 13, 2011. Subsequently, the Property Appraiser, as stipulated by State Statute, advertised the tentative millage rates as approved by the Board on July 19, 2011. The Countywide, Unincorporated Municipal Service Area, Fire Rescue Service District, and Library System tentative millage rates are 4.8050, 2.0083, 2.4496, and 0.1795 mills, respectively. The attached ordinances reflect the revenues generated by the advertised millage rates. Pursuant to State law, the tentative millage rates approved at the first budget hearing cannot be higher than those established in July without re-noticing all property owners and cannot be increased at the second hearing.

The ordinances also incorporate the reorganization as described to the Board in my September 2, 2011 memorandum (Attachment A) and include the departmental tables of organization revised to reflect the reorganization (Attachment B). Position adjustments reflect those included in the Proposed Budget and recommendations in this memorandum, but do not reflect potential reductions from reorganization opportunities. Technical changes and adjustments, corrections of scrivener's errors, corrections of appropriation posting errors, and current estimates of grants for agencies and departments are also included. Cash carryover for proprietary funds has been adjusted where appropriate. Amendments to various code requirements, and/or resolutions are recommended including waiving Section 2-1799(e) related to the disposition of unexpended commission district office budgets and amending, waiving or rescinding, if necessary, various chapters of the Code of Miami-Dade County, Florida, and creating Section 1-4.3 of the Code of Miami-Dade County, Florida to conform the code, applicable implementing orders and other legislative enactments to the County's Fiscal Year 2011-12 adopted budget as it relates to various administrative departments and delegations of commission authority, power, and responsibility associated therewith necessary to implement the proposed reorganization.

As part of this year's budget development process, we held 55 departmental resource allocation meetings and, as required under Ordinance 07-45, three Revenue Estimating Conferences, all of which were publicly noticed meetings. We also held 11 public meetings throughout the County on July 28, August 2, 4, 9, 11, 16, 18, 23, 24, 29, and September 6, pursuant to Section 2-1800A of the County Code, to discuss tax rates and fee changes (Attachment C is a copy of the advertisements for these meetings). We also have and will continue to respond to numerous letters, e-mails, and phone calls from the public with questions about the budget. Between the first and second budget hearings, my staff and I will continue to work with you and the Commission Auditor on further refinements to the budget, as required, and adjustments will be incorporated as part of the information that will be provided to the Board for the second budget hearing on September 22, 2011.

In addition, it is recommended that the provision of Section 2-1799(a) 5 be suspended for FY 2011-12 so as to extend the time period by when the size of emergency contingency reserve is equivalent to seven percent of the total countywide general fund budget.

Five Year Financial Outlook

As part of this memorandum, we are incorporating the FY 2011-12 Five Year Financial Outlook. This document has always been an integral part of the Proposed Budget; however, due to timing constraints, I was not able to release this plan concurrent to the release of the FY 2011-12 Proposed Budget and Multi-Year Capital Plan. However, given my vision of a two-year budget cycle, the value of this analysis is highlighted in defining the fiscal challenges we will be facing in the next 18 months. As you are aware, in developing the FY 2011-12 Proposed Budget, I directed staff to prepare a plan that would sustain operations for two fiscal years without millage rate increases or additional employee concessions. As this attachment shows, we have been successful, only needing to adjust for the elimination of the loan from Water and Sewer to the General Fund, the planned opening of the new Mental Health facility necessary to address concerns expressed by the Department of Justice, and current legislation related to the setting of the Florida Retirement System (FRS) pension rates. We have developed financial forecasts for all four County taxing jurisdictions (Attachment D), as well as for certain large proprietary operations such as Aviation, Port of Miami, Public Works, Water and Sewer, Transit, and Permitting, Environment and Regulatory Affairs (Attachment E).

A consistent set of assumptions was applied to both the property tax supported and proprietary functions. Concessions currently being pursued with our collective bargaining units are included in our projections, except in the Water and Sewer Department, as noted. Once concessions have been applied, the need for future rate adjustments will be reduced. Economic trends for growth are applied across all revenues consistently. With the exception of the tentative millage rates proposed for the FY 2011-12 budget, the Five-Year Financial Outlook assumes that operating millage rates for all four taxing jurisdictions will remain flat for the scope of this forecast. For planning purposes, the property tax roll is assumed to remain flat for FY 2012-13 and at three percent positive growth every year thereafter. No new incorporations are assumed and departmental service levels for FY 2011-12 are maintained for the next four years. General Fund support to the Miami-Dade Transit Department is set at 3.5 percent increases per year according to Ordinance 05-148, until FY 2013-14 when additional support will be required. FY 2011-12 proposed revenues reflect a one-time loan of approximately $25 million from the Water and Sewer Department to the General Fund, which will be paid back to the department in the next seven years. Based on analysis of recent expenditures and reserve levels, County contributions to the Health Insurance Trust fund will remain the same for the next two years. Contributions to the Emergency Contingency Reserve resume in FY 2013-14 with goal to reach $100 million no later than FY 2015-16. It is clear that future economic conditions will affect the ability the County may have to reinstate some of the employee concessions assumed as part of this forecast.

As shown in the attachments, the combined General fund carryover (Countywide and UMSA combined) balance has increased from $38 million in FY 2009-10, to approximately $110 million in FY 2011-12. This is most remarkable when one considers the fiscal restrictions the County had to operate within the last three fiscal years. Based on our conservative property tax roll growth assumptions, the combined Countywide and UMSA General Fund preliminary budgetary shortfall is estimated at $65 million in FY 2012-13, as a result of expected increases in the County's contribution to FRS as defined by the 2011 Florida State Legislature (approximately $30 million), the elimination of the Water and Sewer Department loan of $25 million, and the operating cost of the Mental Health facility scheduled to come on line in FY 2012-13. Thereafter, the Countywide General Fund shows ever increasing challenges as a result of additional subsidies to Transit, as well as the planned contributions to the Emergency Contingency Reserve. On the other hand, the UMSA General Fund reflects healthy general fund balance for the remainder of the five year outlook. The Library District System is able to maintain a positive fund balance through FY 2012-13; however, budgetary shortfalls are generated thereafter as a result of decreasing carryover balances. The Fire Rescue District preliminary figures indicates a budgetary shortfall as early as FY 2012-13, due to its heavy reliance on ad valorem revenues and the expected increase in the FRS high risk retirement rate. These schedules do not include any anticipated savings associated with efficiencies to be identified through the reorganization of County departments.

RECOMMENDED ADJUSTMENTS

The recommended operating budget adjustments total $4.858 million and are summarized in the table below and detailed in the following paragraphs.

Funding Source	$ in 000's Revenue
Fire	$ (3,019)
Library	$ 4,700
Proprietary/Other	$ 3,177
County Operating Budget Adjustments	$ 4,858
Public Health Trust	$ 62,000

Community-based Organizations (CBO)

As part of the FY 2011-12 proposed CBO funding allocation methodology, eight agencies were inadvertently misclassified, and therefore their proposed funding allocations reduced by 50 percent. In the revised list of allocations (Attachment F) full funding for those agencies is reinstated ($333,000). In addition, staff has identified thirteen agencies which either declined funding, went out of business, or did not execute a contract during FY 2010-11 ($571,000). The net effect of these adjustments allows $238,000 of unallocated funding to be placed in the CRA and Other Studies Reserve in the general government budget. The balance of this reserve, which will be $438,000 including this additional funding, may be used to fund a disparity study. Attachment F is a revised CBO listing of all allocations based on continuation funding and indicates which organizations have had revised allocations.

Adrienne Arsht Center for the Performing Arts

On April 25, 2006, the Board of County Commissioners adopted R-480-06 which stipulated that as of October 1, 2007, the Performing Arts Center Trust (PACT) will transfer $1.5 million annually to Miami Dade-County for a period of 20 years to assist with the funding of the Performing Arts Center Acceleration/Recovery Construction plan. A restructuring of the Sunshine Loan taken out to fund a portion of the Performing Arts Center construction, has resulted in reduced loan repayment costs which I recommend be credited to the payment obligations of the PACT for FY 2011-12 and beyond (Attachment G). It is recommended that the Board authorize the administration to execute an amendment to the operating management agreement between the County and the PACT to effectuate the new payment structure.

Permitting, Environment, and Regulatory Affairs - (formerly Building and Neighborhood Compliance, Environmental Resources Management, and the Zoning Division of the Department of Planning and Zoning)

Permitting, Environment, and Regulatory Affairs (PERA) and Miami-Dade Aviation Department (MDAD) have mutually agreed to reduce the number of PERA staff assigned to permitting and inspection activities at MDAD as a result of the completion of major construction projects. Two positions will be eliminated, reducing expenditures in the Aviation Department ($248,000).

Corrections and Rehabilitation

To address concerns raised by the US Department of Justice report regarding inmate treatment and overcrowding at the correctional facilities, it is recommended that funding be reinstated for the Miami-Dade Corrections and Rehabilitation Women's Detention Center (WDC). The Proposed Budget assumed the WDC would be decommissioned and included six months of operational savings. The cost of keeping the WDC open requires an additional $3.274 million and 21 positions (3 sworn, 18 civilian). To achieve the additional savings necessary to reinstate the operational need of the WDC, it is recommended that the program of assigning civilian personnel to posts which do not require sworn personnel be expanded by an additional 60 positions. These positions may provide opportunities for placement for County employees who may be impacted by the budget. As a result of this adjustment, the department would transfer 60 correctional officers to cover posts currently paid with overtime.

Furthermore, the Corrections and Rehabilitation department budget requires an adjustment of $487,000 to reflect reimbursements for personnel expenses associated with the deployment of 35 Correctional Officers to cover posts funded under the U.S Department of Justice OJP, Bureau of Justice Assistance Recovery Act: Edward Byrne Memorial Justice Assistance Grant (JAG). This will allow for the reinstatement of six Correctional Counselor positions of the ten positions that had been previously eliminated in the Proposed Budget.

Cultural Affairs

To correct a scrivener's error in the budget for the Department of Cultural Affairs, a transfer of $1.304 million to Cultural Affairs (Fund 125 Subfund 127) from Convention Development Taxes (Fund 160 Subfund 162) for the funding of community-based cultural facilities was inadvertently omitted and is now reflected in the budget ordinance.

Fire Rescue

On July 19, 2011, the Board approved a tentative millage rate that reduced the Fire Rescue District millage rate to 2.4496 mills, 0.0294 mills below the proposed millage rate of 2.479 mills, resulting in a $3 million revenue loss to the Fire Rescue District. Miami-Dade Fire Rescue (MDFR) has undertaken a number of initiatives to reduce expenditures in the department by $3 million during the last three months of the current fiscal year. Operational savings are being achieved by eliminating civilian and non-sworn administrative overtime, eliminating the purchase of various capital items such as office furniture, minor equipment, and computer replacement and various operational line items. There is also a projected savings for debt payments due to lower interest rates for the variable rate capital asset acquisition bonds ($600,000).

The MDFR Communications Division Quality Assurance (QA) Unit is currently staffed by four QA Specialists. Their job is to perform quality control activities of all incoming calls received by the 911 operators. Subsequent to the release of the Proposed Budget, MDFR and the Miami-Dade Police Department determined that two QA Specialists are sufficient to comply with review of 911 calls per State and Federal requirements. In addition, available 911 fees were identified to fund the remaining two positions ($144,000), resulting in a total General Fund savings of $310,000. In addition five overage civilian positions, funded by grant revenues, are being added that were inadvertently omitted from the Office of Emergency Management.

Community Information and Outreach - (formerly Government Information Center)

Subsequent to the release of the FY 2011-12 Proposed Budget, the Online Services Division of Community Information and Outreach (CIAO) secured an additional $213,000 in revenues for web and digital services through service level agreements with the Miami-Dade County Federal Credit Union, Zoo Miami, the City of Sunny Isles Beach, the Downtown Development Authority, and various other private partners. As a result, CIAO's operating budget is increased by $213,000 and five part-time positions added to support the additional workload.

In addition, on May 17, 2011, the Board adopted Resolution 140-11 granting authority to CIAO to apply, receive, and expend $100,000 in grant funds from the U.S. Department of Commerce Economic Development Administration (EDA) to support the creation of a pilot Economic Development Portal that provides real-time economic and quality of life information to the business community. As a result, CIAO's FY 2011-12 Proposed Budget is adjusted to reflect an additional $100,000 in grant proceeds for a total operating budget adjustments of $313,000.

Management and Budget - Grant Coordination Division (formerly the Office of Grants Coordination)

Subsequent to the release of the FY 2011-12 Proposed Budget, the Ryan White Program received the Notice of Grant Award for HIV Emergency Relief Project Grants from the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HRSA) in the amount of $25.199 million. In addition, the annual Edward Byrne Memorial Justice Assistance Grant (JAG) was awarded at $978,151, of which $756,262 will be administered within the Grants Coordination division. These grants are incorporated as part of the Office of Management and Budget Grants Coordination Division operating budget schedule.

In addition, the Grants Coordination division received notification of two grants awarded under the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act (ARRA) of 2009 (Miami-Dade County Association of Chiefs of Police Countywide Prisoner Processing Project and the Recovery Subgrant Planning and Evaluation Project). Therefore, the grant allocation amount for FY 2011-12 increased from $594,000 to $3.428 million for the development of a criminal justice system to improve the information sharing initiatives.

Community Action and Human Services – (Formerly Community Action Agency, Department of Human Services, and Human Rights and Fair Employment Practices)

After the release of the FY 2011-12 Proposed Budget, final negotiations with the Early Learning Coalition were completed. As a result of State funding adjustments, school Readiness funding decreased by $13.633 million, reducing the number of children served by 4,500. Voluntary Pre-Kindergarten (VPK) slot funding increased by $3 million, serving an additional 1,100 children, but at the same time, administrative funds decreased by $273,000. Finally, the Child Screening and Assessment contract decreased by $141,000 and the Inclusion Services contract decreased by $110,000, resulting in fewer administrative dollars but no direct service impact. These changes in grant funding result in the elimination of 32 full-time positions, and the creation of four new positions, for a net elimination of 28 full-time positions and a net loss of $11.157 million in grant funding. Also, the Self Help division is receiving an $85,000 increase in the Emergency Food and Shelter Grant (EFSG) award, from $120,000 to $205,000, allowing the department to serve approximately 613 additional clients with financial assistance for rent, boarding homes, and utilities.

In addition on August 17, 2011, the Department of Health and Human Services awarded the Head Start program an additional $1.352 million, to maintain the existing 100 expansion Head Start and 128 expansion Early Head Start slots (previously funded through ARRA) for another six months. A second increase to base funding is expected in 2012 to cover the cost of these slots for the remainder of the twelve month period.

Homeless Trust

Subsequent to the release of the FY 2011-12 Proposed Budget the Miami-Dade County Homeless Trust Board has approved an additional $361,000 in capital expenses for capital repairs to the Emergency Shelter Homeless Assistance Centers (HACS), as well as funding Homeless Prevention and Rapid Re-Housing services which have been previously funded through the Federal Recovery Act. These additional expenses will be funded from budgeted reserves.

Library

As tentatively adopted by the Board on July 19, 2011, the Library System millage rate was adjusted from 0.1506 mills to 0.1795 mills, which generates an additional $4.7 million in Library Taxing District revenue. As a result, the originally proposed closing of 13 library branches will no longer occur. Instead, 36 full-time positions be restored, which combined with a comprehensive restructuring of current branch staffing levels will allow the Miami-Dade Public Library System to keep all 49 branches open during FY 2011-12. Regional libraries will operate six days per week, branch libraries will operate five days per week, but as originally proposed no branches will operate on Sundays or extended evenings.

Jackson Health Systems (JHS)

The Financial Recovery Board (FRB) recommended an operating budget (which is heavily contingent on union concessions) of $1.813 billion at its August 29th budget hearing. This represents an increase of $62 million from their Proposed Budget. A detailed explanation and budget presentation is provided in the attached memorandum (Attachment H).

Port of Miami (POM)

Due to an adjustment on State security mandates, the POM is able to realign existing security staff and maintain a secure port. The POM has identified efficiencies allowing for the elimination of five security positions ($498,000) and operating adjustments of $1.502 million to appropriately reflect the total savings from staffing reductions that are part of the FY 2011-12 Proposed Budget, including other miscellaneous line item adjustments. This revenue will be placed in a maintenance reserve fund.

Sustainability, Planning, and Economic Enhancement

Because of the importance of the agricultural industry to the County's overall economy, nine positions in the Cooperative Extension division ($548,000, Countywide General Fund) and the Agricultural Manager ($100,000, Federal Grant and $79,000, Countywide General Fund) are restored.

In addition, as a result of the adoption of the Pain Clinic Ordinance requiring countywide registration of pain management clinics and associated physicians, the Business Affairs and Consumer division (formerly Consumer Services Department) will generate $122,000 in new revenue to support costs associated with one enforcement officer, for the creation of a pain clinics tracking database, and functions relating to registration and on-going enforcement. Funding will be provided from revenue generated from proposed fees and charges.

Vizcaya Museum and Gardens

Subsequent to the release of the Proposed Budget, the Vizcaya Museum and Gardens Trust has identified an opportunity to receive funding ($75,000 for planning in the coming fiscal year, and more than $200,000 in subsequent years) from the Florida Inland Navigation District (FIND) to enhance hurricane protection for Vizcaya's fragile bayfront gardens. To qualify for this funding, Vizcaya is required to offer the same general admission fee to residents of all 12 counties served by FIND. To comply with this request and take advantage of this important grant opportunity, the Miami-Dade County resident discounted fee will be eliminated ($10.00) and residents will pay the general admission fee ($15.00). The Vizcaya Museum and Gardens Trust will continue offering discounted admissions for seniors, students, children, and groups and will also continue to participate in community-based programs to provide free and discounted admission for local residents, such as the Cultural Affairs Department's "Golden Ticket" and "Culture Shock" programs, for seniors and youth, and the Library's "Museum Passport Program," through which residents may collect passes for free admission to Vizcaya at any Miami-Dade Library. Should this revision to the fee structure generate additional revenue, the department's budget will be amended during the fiscal year if necessary.

Aviation

The Miami Airport Affairs Committee (MAAC) revised the budget to reflect a decrease of $18.053 million to $854.318 million resulting in a reduction in aviation fees and charges of $58.551 million to $346.679 million, from a proposed $405.230 million and a decrease to the proposed landing fee rate. The landing fee rate, currently at $1.92 per 1,000 pound unit in FY 2010-11 will remain at $1.92 per 1,000 pound unit in FY 2011-12. This revision reflects a decrease of $1.67 from the recommended $3.59 per 1,000 pound unit in the FY 2011-12 Proposed Budget. Airline cost per enplaned passenger, currently at $19.89 in FY 2010-11 will increase by $0.32 to an estimated enplaned passenger cost of $20.21 in FY 2011-12. This revision reflects a decrease of $2.66 per enplaned passenger from the recommended $22.87 enplaned passenger cost in the FY 2011-12 Proposed Budget.

The FY 2011-12 Proposed Budget recommended $872.371 million for the operation of the Miami-Dade Aviation Department (MDAD). Rental revenues are being revised to reflect a decrease of $2.562 million to $116.042 million from a proposed $118.604 million; other revenues are being revised to reflect a decrease of $7.025 million to $15.638 from a proposed $22.663 million. Commercial operations revenues are being revised to reflect an increase of $10.086 million to $236.043 million from a proposed $225.957 million. Other adjustments include an increased transfer from the improvement fund of $40 million to $80 million.

Miami-Dade Aviation Department Revenue Reconciliation:

Description	Amount (000's)
FY 2011-12 Proposed Revenues	$872,371
Reduction in Aviation Fees and Charges	(58,551)
Reduction in Rental Revenue	(2,562)
Decrease in Other Revenues	(7,025)
Increase in Commercial Operations	10,086
Increase Transfer from Improvement Fund	40,000
FY 2011-12 Revised Proposed Revenues	$854,318

Departmental expenditures will be adjusted a corresponding $18.053 million to $854.318 million. This is comprised of a decrease of $2.772 million in operating expenditures coupled with a decrease of $15.281 million in non-operating expenditures. Operational adjustments include a net reduction in expenditures of $2.772 million to $422.199 million from the FY 2011-12 Proposed Budget of $424.971 million. Expenditure adjustments include a decrease of salaries by $350,000 to reflect a reduction of three positions and a decrease in other operating of $2.422 million due to revised maintenance estimates based on current year actuals.

Miami Dade Aviation Department Operating Expenditure Reconciliation:

Description	Amount (000's)
FY 2011-12 Proposed Operating Expenditures	$424,971
Reduction of Salaries	(350)
Increase of Other Operating	(2,422)
FY 2011-12 Revised Operating Expenses	$422,199

Non-operational expenditures will be adjusted to reflect a decrease of $15.281 million to $432.119 million from the FY 2011-12 Proposed Budget of $447.400 million. This adjustment reflects a decrease of $.431 million in cash reserves, decreased transfer of $1 million towards the improvement fund, a decrease transfer of $5 million to the debt service fund, and a decrease of $8.850 million transferred to the reserve maintenance fund.

Miami Dade Aviation Department Non-Operating Expenditure Reconciliation:

Description	Amount (000's)
FY 2011-12 Proposed Non-Operational Expenditures	$447,400
Reduction to Cash Reserve	(431)
Reduction Transfer to Improvement Fund	(1,000)
Reduction Transfer to Debt Service Fund	(5,000)
to Reserve Maintenance Fund	(8,850)
FY 2010-11 Revised Non-Operational Expenditures	$432,120

Other technical adjustments are required for other non-operating fund changes. These changes are primarily driven by cash carryover and transfers that result in adjustments to various funds appropriations schedule, which are outside the operating budget appropriation schedules. These include an increase in expenditure authority for the Improvement Fund of $23.900 million, an increase in expenditure authority for the Reserve Maintenance Fund of $28.150 million, and an increase in expenditure authority for the Interest and Sinking fund of $200,000.

Promotional Funding

Attachments I and J are the reports on Airport and Seaport promotional funds as required by Administrative Order 7-32.

General Fund Adjustments

As a result of the adjustments described above, including additional grant funding proceeds, the elimination of several general fund expenditures such as the executive car allowance, an adjustment to the required payments to Community Redevelopment Agencies based on calculations done utilizing the final preliminary property tax roll and tentative millage rates, and the re-appropriation of funding for a number of general fund subsidized activities, net proceeds of $3.277 million will be placed into the Wages, Separation, and Energy Reserve to help offset the costs associated with the delayed implementation of the collective bargaining agreements. Please refer to the following table for additional detail.

($ in 000's)

Expenditure Adjustments	CW	UMSA	Total

Total Expenditure Adjustments	$0	$0	$0

Recommended Fee Adjustments

The Self-Supporting Budget Ordinance (Agenda Item F) includes the proposed fee changes included in the FY 2011-12 Proposed Budget. Fee adjustments include: Animal Services (which no longer include the equine registration fees), Emergency Management, Planning and Zoning, Miami-Dade Fire Rescue, Water and Sewer, Solid Waste, Vizcaya Museum and Garden, Port of Miami, Aviation, and Special Taxing Districts.

CAPITAL BUDGET/CAPITAL IMPROVEMENT PLAN (CIP) UPDATES

Capital Outlay Reserve (COR)

The annual payment due from the Florida Marlins, LP ($2.3 million) as stipulated in Section 7 of the Non-Relocation agreement will be included in the COR. Also, subsequent to the release of the budget, $604,000 of unallocated Criminal Justice Bond interest has been identified which may be used to fund public safety projects and will be transferred to COR. The debt service payment for the Capital Asset Series 2011 A and B – Baseball Project ($2.838 million), was omitted as part of the FY 2011-12 Proposed COR budget. This payment will be made by non-ad valorem general fund revenues in COR. The net result of these adjustments will allow $66,000 of remaining revenue to be allocated in the Non-Departmental Reserve – Repairs and Renovation in COR to help address emergency needs throughout the fiscal year.

Public Works

The Public Works Department has entered into a Local Participation Agreement with the Florida Department of Transportation for $212,000 for project #607990 - Improve and Extend the Commodore Bike Trail. The capital budget for this project is being adjusted to include the additional grant funding.

Technical Adjustments

The following projects were omitted inadvertently from the FY 2011-12 Proposed Capital Budget: Project #117934, District 1 Preservation of Affordable Housing and Expansion of Home Ownership ($3.092 million); Project #111020, Graham Exterior Repairs ($500,000); Project #605470 Repair and Replace Fishing Piers at Old William Powell ($2.591 million); and Quality Neighborhoods Improvement Program Projects 934750, 931850, and 93410300 for local drainage and neighborhood park improvements ($6.680 million).

A technical adjustment is also required for the reclassification of Aviation Revenue Bond funding required for Project 6331290 (Miami International Airport Support Facility Improvements) and Project 6339221 (Miami International Airport North Terminal Development (NTD)). This reclassification does not change total capital expenditure authority for the Aviation Department. The increased transfer of $37 million to the North Terminal Development project from the Support Facilities capital project is being done to address the delays caused by the acceptance of the baggage handling system in the North Terminal. A contingency was built into the Aviation Department's capital project Support Facilities to address issues such as this and will not require an overall increase in appropriation authority or the issuance of additional bonds.

The funding for the Curtis Mansion ($1 million) that is included in Project #437430, The Historic Preservation Fund, was included in the proposed budget as a County project; however, this is a municipal project and will be more properly reflected as such. ADA Compliance Project #609720 will be corrected to reflect the actual project cost of $10 million.

Lastly, as part of the overall BBC GOB expenditure authority, a cash flow revision for Preservation of Affordable Housing and Expansion of Home Ownership Project #116949 was made to accurately reflect $1.143 million of expenditure that will occur in FY 2011-12, instead of in future years. The same revision was made to the Zoo Miami Florida Exhibit to accurately reflect $1.134 million of GOB Series 2011A proceeds in FY 2010-11. Funds were inadvertently moved to FY 2013-14. The overall project costs remain the same for both projects.

Building Better Communities Bond Program

As a result of the lowering of the debt service millage rate to 0.285 from 0.445 a number of capital projects anticipated to be funded with Series 20100 A bond proceeds and/or within the next 45 months

Honorable Chairman Joe A. Martinez
and Members, Board of County Commissioners

as cash flows require were impacted. More information will be provided to the Board as part of the Information for Second Budget Hearing documents.

PAY PLAN

Attached to Item F is a Pay Plan which contains the existing rates of pay for bargaining unit employees. These rates are subject to change through the collective bargaining process. . The Pay Plan reflects the adjustments implemented on July 1, 2011 to the non-bargaining unit employees under my purview. It also contains updates that clarify Pay Plan language and provisions and includes the addition of new classifications, the abolition of obsolete classifications, and occupational code and title changes. The pay rates reflected in the Pay Plan will be administered in accordance with the provisions of the Living Wage Ordinance 99-44.

POSITION ADJUSTMENTS

In some instances, the above recommendations and correction of errors will adjust the number of positions in the FY 2011-12 Proposed Budget. The adjustments included in this memorandum increase the total number of recommended positions by 99 to 26,460. This is 1,193 positions less than authorized in FY 2010-11, more than 500 of which are vacant.

Memorandum

Date: September 2, 2011

To: Honorable Joe A. Martinez, Chairman
And Members, Board of County Commissioners

From: Carlos A. Gimenez
Mayor

Subject: County Reorganization

This memorandum is provided in order to transmit to you a reorganization plan that I have been developing since I was elected Mayor on June 28th. It has been my goal to realign the County's structure in order to reduce overhead costs, minimize the duplication of efforts, and improve the overall delivery of County services. This goal was the basis for our analysis of the functionalities of the current departments. The submitted reorganization plan clearly meets this goal by merging the current 42 departments into 25 with functions that will best serve our residents.

Along with reducing the size of County government and refocusing it on its mission of efficiently delivering core services, I intend for this reorganization to position Miami-Dade County as a catalyst for job creation and economic development. Too often, government hinders these processes, and given the state of the economy, this organization must be doing all in its power to assist these efforts at all levels. These priorities are evident in the way in which departments have been merged.

Additionally, my priorities of sustaining public safety services and protecting quality services for our children and the elderly will not be compromised through this process. It is important to note that departmental mergers will streamline communication and collaboration across departmental functional areas. This is phase one of what will be a comprehensive phased-in reorganizational process. The process we have implemented thus far and our plan for the next year is outlined below.

Reorganization Process

Over the past 7 weeks, my staff and I have immersed ourselves in this undertaking. We began by exploring lessons learned; researching other city and county models; and delving deeply into the way policy and operational decisions converge. It became obvious to me early on that this was not going to be a process completed in a handful of days or even in one budget cycle. In just seven weeks, my senior management team and I have met more than 40 times, for nearly 150 hours. The work has been challenging, but my vision of a leaner and more efficient government has begun to take form through a true collaborative process.

Although a fundamental framework of what I envisioned emerged quickly, we began to meet with Department Directors, the County Attorney, staff and other stakeholders to discuss the concepts. At that time we confirmed that in order for this reorganization to be successful, everyone must understand that we will be doing business differently. This is a culture shift that begins with the 25-department reorganizational framework presented to you today. Over the next twelve months, we will call upon my new leadership team, inclusive of the directors, to dig deeper. They will be charged with the task of determining how we can further improve the management of all of our functions ensuring additional improved coordination and accountability. We will work together to redefine core departmental missions, identify functions that are no longer necessary or duplicative, and highlight additional efficiencies that can be implemented immediately and lead to further savings. These savings will then be integrated within the FY 2012-2013 budget cycle.

Let me be clear about my expectations for the first phase of the reorganization process. For now, I am not recommending the elimination of any current service areas. Although I do believe there are opportunities to identify services that do not address the mission of Miami-Dade County government, the focus of phase one of the reorganization process is to identify opportunities to deliver services more efficiently and effectively while reducing duplicative overhead and back office functions. I anticipate there will be initial FY 2011-12 savings garnered from this phase of the plan approaching $5 million countywide including the elimination of dozens of positions. It is not my intent, however, to further reduce departmental budgets at this point within the budgetary process. I believe this is the most responsible way to implement the proposed comprehensive reform. To continue with my commitment to transparency, I will provide information to the Board quarterly regarding savings that are earned through the reorganization process.

Attached to this memorandum is a revised Table of Organization sorted by strategic area. I have also included a table that compares my recommendations to what currently exists and explains the functional consolidations.

The proposed organization noted in the attachments includes the 25 departments. These departments are listed below. As noted earlier, all Department Directors, even for those departments that are not experiencing organizational changes in phase one of the reorganization, will be charged with working to identify efficiencies within their departments.

Upon completion of the proposed governmental reorganization, all existing Department Directors and senior staff will be evaluated on experience and skill sets. I will be reviewing their past performance and appraising directors based on their qualifications. It is apparent to me that we have many proven leaders and I am committed to rewarding talent and dedication. Not all current Department Directors will continue to lead departments, but all strong leaders that are committed to making this process work on behalf of our residents will play critical roles as this important reform effort is implemented. I am also committed to ensuring that my leadership team reflects the diversity of our community.

As you all know, it is my intention to work with each of you on the proposed plan. I have already reached out to all of your offices and have coordinated preliminary conversations. As you review my recommendations to address this important and necessary reform, please note this work is not complete. We will need to continue working collaboratively over the next year to identify substantial opportunities for greater efficiencies that will continue to rise to the surface as we work together to improve Miami-Dade County government.

Calls grow for inquiry over fired state lawyers

Pressure mounted for an independent investigation into the dismissal of two state foreclosure fraud lawyers based in Fort Lauderdale.

BY JANET ZINK
Herald/Times Tallahassee Bureau

TALLAHASSEE — Calls are building for an investigation into the forced resignations by Attorney General Pam Bondi of two lawyers investigating foreclosure fraud.

A state lawmaker on Wednesday requested all documents related to the resignations, while a liberal public interest group has been circulating a petition asking for the state inspector general to investigate.

At issue are the departures of lawyers June Clarkson and Theresa Edwards, who led foreclosure fraud investigations under former Attorney General Bill McCollum. Clarkson and Edwards were forced to resign in late March from their posts in the Fort Lauderdale economic crimes bureau.

McCollum.

The two had received positive job evaluations from McCollum. "As a member who represents an area ravaged by foreclosure fraud, these terminations present an overwhelming public concern," said Rep. Darren Soto, D-Orlando, in a letter to Bondi.

Progress Florida, a St. Petersburg advocacy group, is asking for an investigation into Bondi's actions.

"These terminations present an overwhelming public concern."

— State Rep. Darren Soto, D-Orlando, in letter to Attorney General Pam Bondi

Attorney General Pam Bondi said that such suggestions are "unfounded and offensive."

"The decision that supervisors made to end the employment of these two employees, like every decision made in my office, was made based on sound policy and responsible management," she said Wednesday in a prepared statement. "We are more aggressively pursuing foreclosure law firm investigations and have substantially increased the amount of time and more than doubled the number of employees working on these investigations."

In an interview with the Times/Herald, Clarkson said that after Bondi took office, she and Edwards were questioned intensely about their ongoing cases by Richard Lawson, appointed by Bondi as head of the Economic Crimes Division.

"We were under fire like you have no idea," Clarkson said. "It was like our home team was against us."

Lender Processing Services donated more than $40,000 to campaigns in the 2010 election, largely to Republican candidates, including Bondi. The company donated $36,500 to the Republican Party of Florida, according to campaign finance records.

Lawson, who started working for Bondi in late January, said he questioned the two so he could get up to speed on the cases.

"The cases were in shambles," he said. "That was quite problematic given the priority nature I was giving this."

Bondi's chief of staff, Carlos Muniz, said the two were terminated because of poor job performance. Problems included analysis of legal issues, judgment in discussing investigations with third parties and professionalism, he said.

"It was only out of basic professional courtesy that I authorized giving Clarkson and Edwards the option to resign rather than be fired outright," Muniz said. "Their performance was unacceptable."

He called it a "mundane personnel decision" that has been sensationalized and said it's incorrect to conclude their dismissal means Bondi isn't interested in investigating foreclosure fraud.

"Nothing could be farther from the truth," Muniz said. The office currently is investigating 10 law firms and businesses for possible improprieties in foreclosure proceedings, including Lender Processing Services and ProVest, he said.

He also said that in the past three months, employees in Bondi's office have spent more time on foreclosure law firm investigations than Edwards and Clarkson did in an entire year.

COURTS | DEFENSE CONTRACT DISPUTE

Jury awards $28.8M to relative of Jordan king

The brother-in-law of the king of Jordan was shortchanged by two partners in a multibillion-dollar U.S. defense deal, a jury found.

BY JANE MUSGRAVE
Palm Beach Post

WEST PALM BEACH — A jury on Wednesday awarded $28.8 million to the brother-in-law of the king of Jordan in a dispute with Gulf Stream billionaire Harry Sargeant over a multibillion-dollar U.S. defense contract to provide fuel to troops in Iraq.

Interest could add $10 million to $15 million to the jury award, Mohammad Al-Saleh's smiling legal team said.

The jury found that Sargeant and a third partner defrauded Al-Saleh under U.S. law and had breached their fiduciary responsibility, engaged in tortious interference and unfair competition under Jordanian law.

"Justice, finally," Al-Saleh said shortly after the verdict was announced.

Sargeant, a formidable GOP fundraiser and former finance chairman of the Florida Republican Party, was not in the courtroom when the verdict was announced late Wednesday morning.

The third partner, Mustafa Abu-Naba'a, a Jordanian who lives in the Dominican Republic, did not attend the nearly three-week trial.

Their attorney, Roger Kobert, declined to comment other than to say that the verdict, announced after roughly two hours of deliberations, came after a day of acrimonious closing arguments.

The verdict would be appealed. Al-Saleh, who owns a home in Palm Beach, had sought $53.4 million from Sargeant in a closely watched case.

The verdict, announced after roughly two hours of deliberations, came after a day of acrimonious closing arguments.

Sargeant, a former Marine fighter pilot turned self-made billionaire, was described as a shameless opportunist who would stop at nothing to milk maximum profit out of a business deal, even one with the U.S. government to deliver fuel to troops in Iraq, a jury was told.

Meanwhile, Saleh was painted as an ill-tempered hothead, prone to throwing "hissy fits" if he doesn't get what he wants, Sargeant's attorney countered.

The two descriptions — that Al-Saleh's attorney called "character assassination" and Sargeant's attorney labeled "fantasy" — wrapped up the two-week-long trial.

While essentially a contract dispute between the two men and an all-but invisible third partner, it rose to far more.

It involves defense contracts that were ultimately worth $2.7 billion, included allegations of misdeeds by top Jordanians and a former CIA agent and featured congressional claims that the operation smacked of "war profiteering."

Jurors had to sift through mind-numbing dollar figures and mind-boggling details of military contracting and the rigors of dealing with a foreign government during war.

Al-Saleh claimed that while Sargeant and another partner paid him roughly $27 million, they bilked him out of $3.4 million by cutting him out of the lucrative deals.

Sargeant, who lives in Gulf Stream, and Abu-Naba'a, a Jordanian who lives in the Dominican Republic, claimed Al-Saleh deserves nothing.

"This is really a simple case of one man and his greed," Miami attorney Roger Kobert said Tuesday of Al-Saleh. "Greed for money he's not owed. Money denied him by his own government."

Al-Saleh's New York City lawyer Barry Ostrager described the case as two men trying to cheat a third to increase their already fantastic profits.

"Now, Mr. Sargeant told you, he likes to win," Ostrager said Tuesday. "He's a bad loser. And I'm going to ask you... to make Mr. Sargeant a big loser."

Sargeant claimed Jordanian leaders forced him to dump Al-Saleh.

Drifter's role in 1982 killing of man still murky

• DUKANOVIC, FROM 1B

Amid the steady churn of high-profile cases in South Florida over the past decade, Dukanovic's story — and the murder of photographer Andy Sweet — has been largely forgotten in the public eye.

One man initially arrested in 1982, Jesus Ortiz, was acquitted at trial in 1983. A second man, John Edward Taylor, after conviction and a successful appeal, took a plea bargain and walked out of prison in January 2002.

Retired Miami Beach Detective Michael Jaccarino, who arrested Dukanovic, said he is not convinced of the man's innocence.

"I do have sympathy for him, but he did a murder," Jaccarino said. "He did 11 years in a mental institution and that's punishment. But my concern is, what type of safeguard is there to ensure he does not release and hurt someone else?"

Andy Sweet's mother, Audrey, said that relatives are "relieved" they don't have to relive another trial.

"It would have been a waste of money for the state to try that animal," said Audrey Sweet, who is working with family to digitally enhance her son's color photographs for a future book and website.

In 1982, Sweet's murder was big news. He was the 28-year-old son of a retired municipal judge.

He was renowned for his photos chronicling the lives of South Beach's elderly.

The Miami Herald frequently featured his work, and his color photos also appeared in numerous art exhibitions. Acclaimed Jewish writer Isaac Bashevis Singer, winner of the 1978 Nobel 'RELIEVED': Audrey Sweet said relatives are glad they don't have to relive a trial. 'It would have been a waste of money for the state to try that animal.'

Prize for literature, later wrote the introduction to a book of Sweet's photos.

His death was brutal and bloody. On Oct. 16, 1982, Sweet's body was found inside his Miami Beach apartment, covered with a mattress. He was stabbed 30 times with a butcher knife and a screwdriver. The apartment was ransacked.

Miami Beach police soon arrested Ortiz and Taylor, alleging they killed Sweet in an apparent cocaine rip-off. At separate trials, the men blamed each other.

Two men installing a burglar alarm for Sweet saw men resembling Ortiz and Taylor entering the apartment, and Ortiz's fingerprints were found on a beer bottle and a pack of cigarettes inside the bedroom.

Ortiz first denied to Miami Beach police ever being at the apartment. At trial, he testified he went to the apartment but left after watching TV for 15 minutes. Jurors found him not guilty.

Taylor was convicted of felony murder for participating in the robbery and was sentenced to life. He vowed to beat the charge. In 1998, an appeals court overturned the conviction.

He later pleaded guilty and agreed to a 25-year prison term. He was released in 2002.

As prosecutors prepared for Taylor's second trial, Miami-Dade's crime lab ran DNA found at the scene through law enforcement databases. The technology was unavailable when the murder happened in 1982.

The surprise hit came back to Dukanovic, a young drifter who had bounced around the country after leaving New Jersey as a teen.

His blood DNA was found on a white-sleeved T-shirt, a short-sleeved tan shirt and a towel found inside the apartment. A 1999 arrest warrant also stated that DNA was found on the butcher knife used to kill Sweet.

At the time, police said the presence of a third man was a surprise. In 1999, Miami Beach detectives traveled to New Jersey to interview Dukanovic.

According to the arrest warrant, Dukanovic admitted to having gone to the apartment with two other men to get beer. He claimed Sweet bit him during sex and "I sent him to Christ."

Dukanovic was brought to Miami-Dade to stand trial, but almost immediately, a judge ruled him incompetent.

For the next five years, Dukanovic received treatment at state-run mental health facilities. In 2007, he was declared competent. He deteriorated again in jail and a judge, once again, ruled him incompetent.

In May 2010, he was again cleared to go to trial.

As Dukanovic's mental state began deteriorating again in jail, prosecutors reviewed their evidence. For Miami-Dade prosecutor Gary Winston, the pieces did not seem as clear cut.

Dukanovic's statements to police were wildly inconsistent. While he described the apartment and some aspects of the case in detail, he was incoherent, claiming he did not do the stabbing, rambling about Santeria, then vomiting in a police interview room.

"He would talk to you about the case, and then the next minute, he would talk about Martians, or how seagull feathers are good luck," Jaccarino recalled.

Because of Dukanovic's mental state during the interviews, Winston wrote in his "close-out" memo that he doubted a judge would allow the statements to be introduced to a jury.

This much was clear: Dukanovic had been inside the apartment at some point because he had detailed knowledge of the crime scene. But, under closer scrutiny, whether he participated in the murder grew even murkier.

At trial, Ortiz testified he went to Sweet's apartment with someone named "Mark" but left after 15 minutes. But Taylor, in recent interviews with prosecutors, insisted only he and Ortiz went to the apartment. And none of the witnesses reported seeing a third man, or even someone as young as Dukanovic.

Jaccarino suspects that the men brought Dukanovic to the apartment to serve as a distraction for Sweet while they searched the house. "And something went wrong," Jaccarino said.

As for the blood evidence, Dukanovic told police that he was suffering from hemorrhoids and remembered sitting on the toilet in pain, which for the defense, could explain blood on the towel and clothes. And when Winston double checked with the Miami-Dade forensics lab technician, "there had never been a match between the blood on the knife and Dukanovic's DNA," according to his memo.

"Somehow, however, that incorrect 'fact' had been inserted into both Dukanovic's arrest warrant and his grand jury memo," Winston wrote.

Police and prosecutors cannot explain how that happened.

"Whatever the truth, there is little competent evidence that Dukanovic was involved in the murder of Andy Sweet or complicit in any of the underlying felonies," Winston wrote.

On Jan. 11, Winston announced that prosecutors were dropping the charges of first-degree murder and armed burglary against Dukanovic. "Every now and then the system works and the prosecutor and the defense attorney work together to achieve the just result," said his defense attorney, Philip Reizenstein.

EDUCATION

Colleges still have plenty of education majors losing their jobs, salaries being frozen, and changes to the way teachers are being evaluated and paid.

Dr. Susan Neimand, director of the School of Education at Miami Dade College, said teaching is a calling, and people will always want to be teachers no matter the state of the economy.

"It's a passion, you don't go into teaching if you are planning to make a lot of money or if you're planning to have an easy job sitting behind a desk!"

Prospective teachers are also banking on the high number of baby boomer teachers who are expected to retire in the coming years.

According to Neimand, there are expected to be a critical shortage of teachers as 49 percent of the current teaching force retires in the next 10 years.

Sageworks, a financial data firm, identified education as a nationally growing field and said it is one of the five majors most likely to lead to a job.

"Good teachers are wanted and needed," said Jamie Jaccuzzo, a teaching student at Broward College, which started a four-year teaching program in 2008. "I'm honestly not worried because I know in a year all the baby boomers will be retiring and there will be more opportunities."

Both Miami Dade College and Broward College's education programs exclusively train students in critical need areas — or academic areas that officials have deemed are in need of more teachers. Graduates coming out of these South Florida programs are certified to be teachers in special education, or middle and high school math and science.

When the economy picks up, Aline Sarría, dean of the Teacher Education Program at Broward College, said she believes her students will be among the first to be hired.

"I am sure it will pick up, because education is not going anywhere," Sarría said. "We are dominating the field for those critical shortages right now."

While the Broward school district doesn't appear likely to be making any new hires this school year, Miami-Dade is hiring teachers, but Neimand said the new hires are not being issued long-term contracts. They work one year at a time, with the hopes of being renewed for another year.

"We are very aware that they are not going to get the very best jobs in the plum schools. Their jobs are going to be in the most challenging schools," Neimand said. "In this economy you take the job that you can get."

Since its inception in 2003, the Miami Dade College bachelor's program has graduated 315 teachers and 80 percent of them are currently working, Neimand said.

Broward College, which started a four-year teaching program in 2008, said of the 23 students who have graduated so far, only four have full-time teaching gigs in the fall.

Sarría suggested more students are opting to delay the workforce and go to graduate school.

"The way education is going is not the traditional brick and mortar classroom as before, but there are all types of opportunities," Sarría said. While there isn't a lot of opportunity at the public school level, many new teachers are finding jobs at charter or private schools, which typically pay less.

Despite the tight hiring market in South Florida, there are patches of hiring hope in other parts of the state.

Bryan Zupelder, director of clinical experiences at the University of Central Florida's College of Education, said 85 percent of this year's graduates — many of whom are South Florida natives — are working as teachers in the growing Central Florida school districts.

And these districts, such as Orange and Brevard Counties, are recruiting students from South Florida.

Mariana Praschnik, who expects to graduate from MDC this December, said two school districts in Central Florida have already expressed interest in hiring her.

"It is hard out there right now, but I think as long as a person is resourceful and dedicated and can market themselves well, there is a lot of opportunity out there," Praschnik said.

PETA complaints won't keep boxing kangaroo out of ring

■ Despite protests from PETA, Florida agencies will allow a Kissimmee man and his kangaroo to continue boxing.

BY JEANNETTE RIVERA-LYLES Orlando Sentinel

The announcer declares over a screeching speaker that the fight is about to begin. The challenger awaits impatiently in the ring, bouncing on the balls of his feet.

Then the champ hops through the ropes — dragging his heavy tail behind him.

For the next few minutes, a video shows Rocky the kangaroo and Kissimmee circus artist Javier Martínez engage in a clumsy dance that looks something like boxing. Clad in red-and-white shorts and wearing boxing gloves, Rocky lunges at his opponent and delivers a one-two combination that sends Martínez flying out of the ring.

Man. The crowd roars. Martínez says his show, which he takes on the road across the country, is just a fun-filled circus act. But PETA disagrees. This is the real Rocky horror show, the animal-rights group says.

"Forcing a kangaroo to wear a costume and harnessing it into fighting is not only cruel but illegal in the state of Florida," said Carney Anne Chester, a legal fellow at the group's Washington headquarters. "The law expressly prohibits tormenting animals. It has to stop."

PETA has asked the Florida State Boxing Commission to stop the fights because Rocky isn't a licensed fighter. It also wants the U.S. Department of Agriculture at the Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission, which monitors exotic animals in captivity, to revoke Martínez's permits. In addition to Rocky, Martínez owns a bared for the stage. They're both red kangaroos, the largest type.

None of the agencies that regulate his act has found cause to rescind his permits. Joy Hill, a spokeswoman for the Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission, said her agency's role is to make sure the animal is treated properly. An investigator went to one of Rocky's shows earlier this month in response to PETA's complaint and didn't observe anything improper, Hill added.

The USDA made a similar judgment. The agency has been monitoring Martínez and his kangaroos for more than a decade. He has had four, including Rocky and the baby.

The boxing commission isn't in PETA's corner either. In a statement, a spokeswoman said the agency's legal department has determined that Florida boxing laws and rules apply only to

In 'Chitterling Heights,' tale of playwright lacking

BY BILL HIRSCHMAN
billh@wftsp.com

Karen Stephens proved over the past year in Bridge & Tunnel, Clybourne Park and Eclipsed to be one of South Florida's strongest actresses, skilled at inhabiting a character without ever appearing to be "acting." But even she can't carry a four-act play by herself. Her unassailably admirable portrayal of playwright Lorraine Hansberry in the world premiere Chitterling Heights at The Women's Theatre Project is not enough to overcome Ann Morrisett Davidson's uneven script and her cast-mates' lackluster, one-dimensional performances.

Davidon posted a fascinating if fictional premise: At the height of the civil rights struggle in 1962, Hansberry is struggling to write a play to equal her artistic success with A Raisin in the Sun.

Unable to find a satisfying ending, she invites her buddy James Baldwin to troubleshoot the work, The Sign in Sidney Brustein's Window. Complicating matters is the presence of her white husband, Robert Nemiroff, who she is considering divorcing.

Baldwin, in turn, shows up with Laura Lee, an adoring Southern belle and wannabe writer.

Baldwin lambastes Hansberry for writing about a Jewish Greenwich Village activist bent on reforming pro-se politics — when racial strife is setting the South on fire. Meanwhile, Nemiroff hits on the belle, the belle tries to seduce the gay Baldwin and Hansberry anguishes over whether she is advancing the cause from behind a typewriter.

ADMIRABLE PORTRAYAL: Karen Stephens portrays playwright Lorraine Hansberry.

If you go

Director Genie Croft is blessed with Stephens' convincing portrayal of Hansberry as a droll middle-class intellectual who is alternately confident and in doubt, affectionate and ambivalent, conflicted and committed.

But Croft has been unable to do much with the other members of the cast who deliver lines in the script as if, well, as if they are lines in a script. Laura Lee repeatedly swears that Baldwin is consumed with anger and bitterness, but Andre' L. Gainey's characterization is missing a shred of either. Kaitlyn

O'Neill's Laura Lee is standard-issue Scarlett O'Hara. Worst, Sean Muldoon's bland one-reading-fits-all performance misses the Algonquin Round Table wit and rue that Davidson imbued in Nemiroff's crackling dialogue.

The 2002 script is partly to blame. While it asks questions about an artist's responsibility to social change and it limns a complex relationship for Hansberry and Nemiroff, it's primarily a polemic procession of straightforward ideas. There's little subtlety or subtext.

At one point, Davidson — who died in 2004 — resorts to the mechanical device of "let's all tell each other the worst thing that ever happened to us."

Predictably, they relate and horrify vignettes in a stiff upper lip manner that is too doggedly blasé to be believable.

Finally, the play just peters out with not a single issue resolved or even a hint that they were resolved in real life.

There's likely a better play buried in this script, but it will need a stronger production to prove the case.

Scott's chef competes in seafood cook-off

John Minas, executive chef for Florida Gov. Rick Scott, showed off his skills with Florida black grouper at a cook-off in New Orleans.

(AP) — Chef John Minas said his menus of Florida black grouper, avocado creme fraiche and spicy shrimp toast "tastes like the state of Florida on a plate." He hoped it would be enough to win him the title of seafood king in the Great American Seafood Cook-Off in New Orleans.

Minas competed Saturday against chefs from more than a dozen other states in a competition known for pitting up-and-coming chefs against recognized culinary greats.

But it turned out Jim Smith, a chef from Alabama, took home the title. Bud Gruniger of North Carolina placed second and Scott Anderson of New Jersey, came in third, according to The News Star of Monroe, La. Minas presented his culinary creation to Gov. Rick Scott and his wife during a timed dress rehearsal on July 29.

"We clearly have the best fish and we have a chef who knows how to put it together," Scott said. "It had a little bit of a kick to it."

Minas and sous-chef Carlin Bence had to create and plate eight portions of the entree within the competition's one-hour time limit Saturday. The dishes were judged on presentation, originality and flavor.

The 26-year-old chef, who trained at the Cullinary Institute of America, spent most of the last decade cooking in restaurants around Boston.

Minas used light seasoning on the fish so other flavors wouldn't detract from it. "We're going to keep the fish, the fish, and we're going to keep everything else the flavor around the fish," he said.

The entree also included a zesty mango/papaya chutney topping and shrimp toast with creole mustard, paprika and red pepper flakes that Scott is fond of.

Florida chefs have taken the crown twice in the past. Dean Max of the 3030 Ocean restaurant in Fort Lauderdale won last year. Justin Timmeri, executive chef for the Florida Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services, won in 2006.

Cook-off hosts said the event highlights new culinary talent and also underscores the importance of utilizing domestic seafood at home and requesting it when dining out.

Proposal to protect state sharks advances

Concerned about dwindling shark populations, a state agency has recommended protection for four species.

BY DAVID FLESLER
Sun Sentinel

A ban on killing tiger sharks and three species of hammerhead sharks will go for approval to the state wildlife commission next month.

Concerned about dwindling shark populations, the staff of the Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission has held a series of meetings around the state to gather comments on several proposals to protect them. Now that the meetings are over, the staff has recommended protection for four species: the tiger shark, smooth hammerhead, scalloped hammerhead and great hammerhead.

The primary threat to sharks comes from the growing demand in China and other Asian countries for shark fin soup, a delicacy that has generated a lucrative market for their fins. Although there's little commercial fishing in Florida state waters, which have tight bag limits, there's an extensive recreational fishery. The commission, a seven-member board appointed by the governor, will take up the issue on Sept. 6 in Naples.

The commission's staff decided against proposing a ban on chumming near beaches by shore-based shark fishing groups, a practice that had concerned some coastal communities. And it decided against requiring the use of circle hooks rather than the more conventional J-hooks, which experts say can make it harder for sharks to survive being caught and released.

The tiger shark, which can reach a length of 17 feet, ranks second only to the great white in attacks on people, with 90 unprovoked attacks worldwide, including 27 fatalities, according to the International Shark Attack File. Hammerheads rank lower, with no fatalities.

No bail for trio accused of terrorist ties

(AP) — A Miami federal judge has ensured that an elderly Muslim cleric and both of his sons will remain in custody until trial on charges of financially supporting the Pakistani Taliban.

U.S. District Judge Adelberto Jordan this week denied bail for 24-year-old Izhar Khan, also a Muslim cleric. Jordan previously rejected bail for 76-year-old Haliz Khan and 37-year-old Irfan Khan.

All three have pleaded not guilty to terrorism material support charges. Prosecutors say they funneled at least $50,000 to the terrorist group that has attacked U.S. and Pakistani targets.

Three other people still in Pakistan are also charged in the case.

Jordan said evidence against the two younger Khans was less compelling than that against their father.

The judge, however, decided the case was still strong enough to warrant detention.

FMA opposes overhaul of Medicaid

News Service of Florida

Florida Medical Association officials voted in a closed-door session last weekend to take a position in opposition to the state's proposed Medicaid overhaul.

A number of doctors have been opposed to the shift of most Medicaid patients into managed care, but few would say so publicly.

The association has likewise been silent on the issue until now.

Health News Florida reported that FMA leaders passed a resolution last Sunday to discourage the federal Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services from approving the waiver that would allow for revamping the system. The FMA's new president, Dr. Miguel Machado, said the group would send a letter to CMS making its opposition known.

"The letter will explain that we understand the budget constraints of the Legislature, but we cannot approve of expanding managed care," Machado told Health News Florida.

Dr. Arthur Palamara of Hollywood told the news organization that the FMA has long opposed the overhaul but this is the organization's most tangible and

Sheriff seizes social spotlight

As elections draw near, Broward Sheriff Al Lamberti's media blitz includes vying for 'Most Social Sheriff' and 'Coffee with the Sheriff.'

BY BRITANNY WALLMAN
Sun Sentinel

The sheriff gets up and says good morning to thousands of Facebook friends, and at night bids them farewell. He tweets. He hosts a radio program. He shows up in grocery stores to give free coffee to shoppers. He appears with the stars of two TV shows featuring his deputies. He spends hours at minor weekend events and broadcasts them online.

Call it an example of the "Green Machine."

That's what some privately dub the taxpayer-funded, green-and-gold, $71-million Broward Sheriff's Office, and its ability to propel someone into the spotlight.

Sheriff Al Lamberti is a year away from his next appearance on the ballot. But the race is on, and his two Democratic opponents, Scott Israel and Louie Granteed, are busy trying to match the Republican sheriff's high profile. While they've opened campaign accounts to raise money to get their names out to voters, Lamberti hasn't.

"I'm too busy being sheriff," he said this week.

And his name is already everywhere.

Lamberti's "social" life is on the climb, as he attempts to become "the most Social Sheriff in America."

"Will you not invite all your friends to join my Fan Page?" he wrote to his Facebook friends in late June.

"Only 13,568 fans needed to be the 'Most Social Sheriff in Florida.'"

Lamberti said this week that he's "not competing for any titles." But his collection of Facebook "friends" is nearing the 5,000-person maximum on his personal page, and he has to move them over to a new page.

'GREEN MACHINE': BSO's Sheriff Al Lamberti, right, with Det. Anthony G. Romano, spent early Saturday at an event in Pembroke Pines.

His Facebook friends shower him with compliments such as this one:

"You are a Pleasure and a Treasure. Should be called Al Sunshine."

On Twitter, he has a smaller crowd. But his agency created its own version, CyberVisor, and sends out short alerts to a legion of 10,000. He's got a catalogue of videos on YouTube as well.

The sheriff talks to listeners on Sundays on his "All Points Bulletin" radio program.

He's in person, too. Lamberti arrived by helicopter to four National Night Out Against Crime events earlier this month.

And he regularly appears at events with the stars of two TV shows featuring BSO, "Police Women of Broward" and a brand new program, "Unleashed: K-9 Broward County."

On Saturday, Lamberti spent his morning at a BSO prescription-drug collection and paper-shredding program in Pembroke Pines. In recent months, he ramped up the publicity blitz, creating a new event,

"Coffee with the Sheriff."

He and BSO employees show up in a grocery store, give out free coffee and glad-hand with shoppers. It's broadcast live to Internet viewers on a new BSO website, bsolive.org.

"Once again the sheriff has an opportunity to talk to the community," Cmdr. Michael Calderin said to the camera in July, at a Pembroke Pines Publix. "And I'm going to be waiting for my coffee because my sheriff always gives me a good cup of coffee."

Behind him, shoppers streamed past BSO mascots such as McGruff the Crime Dog. Stars of the two TV programs as well as fire-rescue leaders were also on hand, and fingerprinting was offered for children.

Calderin, head of BSO's Crime Stoppers program, is a Lamberti fan who posted on Facebook before his 2008 election that "he is going to win, hands down!"

The proposed BSO budget shows more spending in the Department of External Affairs, where media relations lies. This year: $694,013. The new budget: $768,385. Lamberti said that's mostly for higher health insurance costs for the seven employees.

Lamberti also said he's not the only politician getting publicity from his office. "It's everything from the president on down," he said.

Indeed, taxpayer-funded "dog and pony shows" aren't unusual for sitting politicians, political consultant Ron Gunzburger said, and Lamberti needs lots of "P.R." to associate himself with the office, and not his party label, he said.

Vehicles from the elections office bear the name of the elections supervisor, Dr. Brenda Snipes. So do sample ballots mailed to voters. Employee shirts in the Broward Property Appraiser's Office bear the name of that elected official, Lori Parrish.

The Florida Ethics Commission has looked at cases involving elected officials running for office, such as a case in which a sheriff's candidate wore his uniform while campaigning. The Ethics Commission said that was OK.

Lamberti said the publicity isn't aimed at voters. "That's not why I'm doing it," he said of the 2012 election. "We're making arrests. The more information you can put out there, the better it is for the citizens."

Shelter sees spike in out-of-towners

Despite a nagging jobless rate, people still travel to Florida looking for opportunities. One shelter is there to catch them when they fall.

BY TONYA ALANEZ
Sun Sentinel

About a month ago, Derrick Jackson left behind a home, a girlfriend and a $14-an-hour job in Columbus, Ohio in hopes of landing a better paying maintenance job at Florida Power & Light, where a relative works.

The job never materialized and Jackson found himself selling newspapers for the Hollywood homeless shelter where he is staying. He is putting away $100 a week in hopes of regaining his footing.

"It only takes one catastrophe to put you here," said Jackson, 41, who held his last job for seven years and has never been without a roof over his head. "You don't know that after the next hurricane or storm it could be you selling these newspapers."

Northerners lured by the promise of jobs make up the newest type of clients seeking help at Sean Cononie's Homeless Voice shelter on Federal Highway in Hollywood, one of the only in Broward to take in out-of-towners.

"We're loaded, and it's all new faces," said Cononie, who has been working with the homeless for nearly 15 years. "A lot of them are coming in being promised employment. It doesn't pan out and they're homeless."

Because they come and go, Cononie can't say exactly how many residents he has housed in the last year, but he said he has seen two or three in any given week. Despite the state's 9.6 percent unemployment rate, they desperately want to believe they will get work, he said.

"There is no typical homeless individual anymore," said Tom Pierce, director of the Florida Office on Homelessness in Tallahassee. "It's crossing all segments of our society. People who used to be middle class and working, who never saw homelessness, it could be hitting them tomorrow."

Case in point, in 2010, more than 43 percent of the estimated 57,643 homeless in Florida were experiencing it for the first time, state figures show.

Homeless shelters nationwide are now filled to capacity year-round, whereas they used to fill up solely during winter months, said Michael Stoops, of the Washington D.C.-based National Coalition for the Homeless. And cuts in funding — both private and public — have led to an uptick in shuttered shelters.

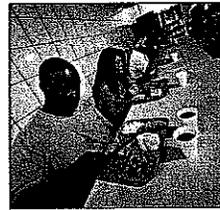

"The situation is dire," Stoops said. "It's likely to get worse before it gets better. People sound and seem to be a lot more desperate than they have been in the past."

South Florida saw its highest homeless numbers in 2007, with an estimated 11,376 in Broward, Miami-Dade and Palm Beach counties combined. The combined 2010 estimate stood at 10,133. The causes include job loss, foreclosures, mental and physical disabilities as well as alcohol and drug addiction.

Cononie said his clientele usually consists of the chronic homeless, those who are kicked out of traditional shelters and not wanted at hospitals. His style is equal parts tough love, confrontation, conflict resolution and affection. He employs dozens of people to sell The Homeless Voice newspaper at South Florida intersections and divides earnings 49/51.

Cononie runs his shelter and seven smaller transitional housing facilities solely on donations and the earnings brought in by selling the newspapers. Even he is feeling the economic pinch. Cash donations fall last week by about $1,500 and newspaper and check donations took a hit of about $3,000 in the last two weeks, Cononie said.

DIDN'T PAN OUT: Derrick Jackson, lives at Sean Cononie's Homeless Voice Shelter in Hollywood after leaving Ohio for a job prospect.

Poorest customers hit by MetroPCS slowdown

Wireless carrier attributes fewer subscribers to tough economy

By Greg Bensinger

MetroPCS Communications Inc. said recently the spattering U.S. economy is forcing more of its most vulnerable U.S. customers to drop their prepaid wireless service or to seek even cheaper options.

The trend, which cut into the company's subscriber growth, weighed on the company's second-quarter results and pointed to a tough second half. At 4 p.m. composite trading on the New York Stock Exchange, MetroPCS shares were off 37 percent.

Shares of MetroPCS tumbled last Tuesday after the Comments by MetroPCS executives marked the continuing challenges to consumer spending, especially among the poorest, and bode ill for wireless rivals Leap Wireless International Inc. and Sprint Nextel Corp.

"We do see it being tough out there currently," MetroPCS Chief Operating Officer Thomas Keys said.

"We see anecdotal evidence in our stores, with our subscribers, through conversations, through focus groups."

MetroPCS, which offers flat-rate, no-contract service, reported a profit of $84.3 million for the quarter.

PRICES CUT
Dallas-based MetroPCS reported a sharp slowdown in additions to its flat-rate, no-contract wireless service, which tends to attract low-income users. The company added about 199,000 new prepaid customers in the second quarter, down from an all-time high of 725,945 in the first quarter and less than analysts had expected.

MetroPCS, which has cut some prices and began to offer speedier fourth-generation wireless service in some markets to attract new users, said the economy was weighing on customers who gravitate to the lowest-end offers, such as Sprint's government-subsidized Assurance Wireless service.

Sprint's Assurance brand, which offers a free cellphone and minutes in certain states to some consumers on food stamps or Medicaid, was the "MVP" of the carrier's second-best prepaid quarter in history, Sprint Chief Executive Dan Hesse said last week. Assurance Please turn to PHONE 10D

Age is what Charles Porter cited as his reason for being unemployed for over two years. "While employers are not saying it, age also works against the unemployed and contributes to why so many people have exhausted their unemployment benefits and still remain jobless," Porter, 56, a former electrical engineer, said.

Porter now works for temporary agencies to support his family. "One temp agency told me I should consider tying my hair to improve my chances of getting hired," he said. "I guess no one wants to hire a grandfather."

Illinois' unemployment rate for June matched the national rate of 9.2 percent and has been equal to or below the national rate for nine consecutive months, according to the Illinois Department of Employment Security. And Illinois has also reported declines in 15 of the past 17 months but has added thousands of manufacturing and construction jobs. "Illinois has added more than 10,000 manufacturing jobs and nearly 9,000 jobs in the construction sector over this time last year, including strong growth over the past month," said Jay Rowell, director of the IDES. "While uneven movements are an expected part of an economic recovery, Illinois is building on the steady progress that has been made." Education is often seen as a plus for anyone looking for a job but Deshauna Olesby, 36, said it could also serve as a deterrent when applying for entry-level jobs.

interviewing skills so they can better explain to employers why they should take a chance on hiring them.

"This has to also be conveyed in cover letters too. I don't want to tell a person to take off their education on their resume but that's also a possibility if they think it is hindering their search," he said. And unlike Smith and Porter, who collected unemployment benefits for nearly two years, thanks to Congress extending benefits, Rivara said that cushion is no longer available. "If someone had applied for benefits in June they would not be eligible to receive an extension after their standard 26 weeks of state benefits expire. They would have had to apply for benefits in May or before to be eligible," Rivara said. "All federal extensions expire January 2012." transitioning into one of these jobs is not an easy thing to do, said Antonio Wheeler, 46, who knows first-hand. For 12 years he worked as an office manager for a real estate company. He was laid off in 2007 and has yet to find new employment. "I was paid to manage 10 employees and perform clerical duties in the office," he said. "Now I find most of the job leads I discover are for blue collar jobs." Wheeler, who is single with no children, still maintains a one bedroom apartment in the North Lawndale community on the West Side and still drives his 2008 Ford Explorer despite not making any monthly payments since last year.

"You don't want to know how I am making it," he added. "Let's just say that I am doing what is required to survive."

said to resemble a Miami townhouse. The hotel was designed by Dan Mazzarini along with his partner, Brian Humphrey.

"It was supposed to be something spirited, happy, playful but definitely well-designed that a discerning gay audience would appreciate and something different than they've seen before. If you stop by the hotel, pay special attention to the glittery bar and giant polar bear in the lobby."

Rehab programs approved in West Perrine CRA

Commissioner Moss sponsors resolution for Board

Miami-Dade County Commissioner Dennis C. Moss has sponsored legislation that was adopted by the Board of County Commissioners acting in the capacity of the West Perrine Community Redevelopment Area (CRA), approving a commercial rehabilitation grant program and a residential rehabilitation grant program to be implemented within the boundaries of the West Perrine Community Redevelopment Area.

The adopted West Perrine CRA Redevelopment Plan encourages the creation of grant and loan programs to assist commercial and industrial property owners within the CRA area to enhance their properties.

It also encourages the creation of grant and loan programs to assist with major upgrades to residential property in the CRA Area with a preference to owner occupied property.

The West Perrine CRA approved the implementation of two grant programs, the Residential Rehabilitation Program ($100,000) and the Commercial Rehabilitation Program ($50,000) to be financed through Tax Increment Financing (TIF). All grants are subject to the approval of the CRA and require a 50 percent match of the total costs for improvements to be provided by the applicant; in the event of extreme hardships the CRA can consider exceptions to the match requirement.

Do what it takes to become successful at work

that went into that winning moment. We don't consider the hours upon hours of missed attempts and practice that helped that dazzling performance of talent. We are in awe of the outcome but fail to acknowledge and appreciate all the in-commeading up to it.

For example, every singer has a sound check before a performance. So will you before you go out and do whatever it is you intend to do.

For those who require greater structure and a process to handling decision-making, let me share with you my Practice Makes Perfect methodology. It can help you to mentally track your options and stay in tune with yourself.

1. Assess risks from an educated standpoint. Conduct the research necessary to learn all the potential risks involved in a pursuit. Don't overlook any of them.

2. Hear what enters your mind. Don't underestimate the power of gut instinct when weighing pros and cons and taking on honest look at risks.

3. Evaluate thoughts and potential solutions to problems. Take your time thinking through what you need to do in order to move forward. Think through every step and direction you decide to take. Consider other options along the way. Be open to circumstances that change your surroundings.

4. Act based on experience and self-examination. Make calculated moves. Like the game of chess, see if you can act with your third move in mind.

5. Discern between what's working and what's not working to continue forward. This is when you need to perhaps plan a new direction. We all hit walls once in a while. That doesn't mean we have to stop. We turn around and find another way onward. We have to be willing to let go of ideas and pursuits that clearly aren't working. They should be placed in the desire category instead of the known-skills category. If you hit a wall, but there's an open road to be taken elsewhere with another set of skills innate to you.

You can employ the Practice Makes Perfect method at any time. It can be used for small-scale decisions, such as what to wear on a job interview or where to enroll in a class that will help you master a skill set. It can also be used for those larger, life-changing decisions like where you choose to live, work, and start a family.

from the ages 16-21 to get a taste of the working world through paid internships with various businesses in District 1. Already in its sixth year, 27 students were selected this summer to learn business etiquette, financial literacy, resume writing, as well as tips for improving interviewing skills. As part of the program, the interns also have a community-building exercise that they must fulfill.

"Learning job skills is important, but the SVII Program goes beyond that. I really want my interns to understand the value of helping others in their community, which is why the service component is such a vital part of the internship," said Commissioner Jordan.

because of those influences I am passionate about helping students and parents of this generation."

Hudson said some of his goals in this new position include developing university-wide collaborations to improve customer service by leveraging technology, improving retention, progression and graduation rates.

He also plans to continue the strong tradition of developing leaders and promoting positive critical thinking in students.

"To create the atmosphere of a global community, all stakeholders, students, faculty and staff must be involved; we definitely support a team approach," he said.

Hudson received his bachelor's degree in psychology and master's degree in counselling education from FAMU. He went on to earn a specialist degree in counseling and human services and a Ph.D. in rehabilitation counseling from Florida State University.

He has extensive experience counseling students with academic, personal and career issues. He is a specialist in the recruitment and retention of minority students and provides consulting to small colleges and universities. As an adjunct professor at FAMU, he educates students on rehabilitation, disability, vocational training and services, community transition and empowerment.

He is a certified rehabilitation counselor, a member of the American College Counseling Association, National Association of Academic Advising Association (NACADA), and the Florida Association Educational Opportunity Program Personnel (FAEOP), among other professional organizations.

"I will work hard and encourage input from students, faculty and staff," said Hudson. "Positive change does not occur overnight, but in time you will definitely see improvements that will ultimately produce significant results."

Applications for unemployment assistance decrease

478,000 in April and have declined only slowly since then.

Some of the drop may reflect special factors. Applications rose earlier this month because of temporary layoffs in the auto and other manufacturing industries, which are ending. Many auto companies close their factories in early July to prepare for new models.

Analysts forecast that the economy grew in the April-June quarter by only 1.7 percent, the second straight quarter of anemic expansion. The government reports on second-quarter growth recently.

Hiring has slowed in recent months. The economy added only 18,000 net jobs in June. That's the fewest in nine months and below the average of 215,000 jobs per month that the economy added from February through April. The unemployment rate rose to 9.2 percent last month, the highest level of the year.

Manufacturing had been a bright spot in the economy since the recession ended two years ago. But it has stumbled in recent months. Orders for long-lasting manufactured goods fell 2.1

percent in June, the Commerce Department said. It was the second drop in three months.

Economists had expected orders to increase, noting that temporary constraints have eased. In particular, gas prices have come down slightly since peaking in the spring. But manufacturing output has also been slowed by the Japan earthquake, which has disrupted global supply chains and created a parts shortage in the auto and electronics industries.

Federal Reserve Chairman Ben Bernanke and many private economists expect growth to pick up in the second half of this year, predicting those temporary factors will fade. Gas prices, for example, averaged $3.70 a gallon recently, down from their peak of nearly $4 in early May.

But some are growing more concerned that the economy's weakness will persist. The Fed said recently that its survey of economic activity found growth slowed in eight of its 12 regions in June and early July. The report, known as the Beige Book, was the weakest this year.

Many economists are becoming more pessimistic about the second half of this year. Goldman Sachs recently cut its estimate for growth in the July-September period to 2.5 percent, down from 3.25 percent.

JPMorgan, meanwhile, reduced its estimate to 2.5 percent from three percent.

Growth of about 2.5 percent is barely enough to reduce the unemployment rate. The economy would need to grow five percent for a whole year to bring down the rate by one percentage point.

FAMU will host the C.E.O. experience

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. — The former president of Motown Records joined Florida A&M University (FAMU) officials during a press conference to announce the Creativity Education Opportunity (C.E.O.) Experience, a music and entertainment industry conference scheduled for November 3 and November 4 on the campus. The conference will offer new artists, producers, journalists, graphic designers, public relations and business students direct access and inside information on launching and sustaining a successful career in the music and entertainment business.

"As Florida A&M University moves toward its 2020 vision with courage, we are charged with providing pedagogical experiences that appeal to the interests of the current and future FAMUans," said FAMU President James H. Ammons. "This new Music Industry Studies program addresses the industry's need for technically qualified, socially and liberally educated individuals who are trained to work in interdisciplinary settings in a fast-changing global workplace."

Music industry executive Al Bell announced plans to establish a partnership with the university, which will provide resources for the FAMU Institute for Hip Hop and Music Industry Studies as well as scholarships for students pursuing careers in music and entertainment industries.

Bell will be the keynote speaker for the C.E.O. Experience conference. Bell, who started in the entertainment business as a radio broadcaster, became owner and chairman of Stax Records and former president of Motown Records. He is recognized as one of the "Most Influential African Americans in Radio" and was recently honored with the Grammy Trustee Award for his significant contributions to the recording field.

"His history will show that Florida Agricultural and Mechanical University educated — for the positive future benefit of America — the music, social, cultural, educational, economic, political, and business leaders of tomorrow. I wholeheartedly applaud President James Ammons and FAMU for having the vision and the courage to address today's dire and critical leadership needs of our American society, American culture and the American music industry," said Bell.

Conference session panels will include discussions on the following: career development, the digital age of media, video production, record companies 101, and public relations. The Professional Networking Fair allows participants the opportunity to meet and greet representatives from various music and media companies.

James Hawkins, dean of FAMU's School of Journalism and Graphic Communication, expressed how this will be a wonderful opportunity for students.

"The School of Journalism and Graphic Communication is excited to partner with Dr. Clemons on this project," said

Hawkins. "Bringing leaders from the music and entertainment industry to campus will foster the cultivation of internships and other opportunities for our students."

Hip-hop icon Christopher "Play" Martin, of Kid 'n Play fame, who currently serves as a professional-in-residence with the Institute for Hip Hop and Music Industry Studies, stated how honored he is to be a part of the conference.

"I am very excited and honored to not only be a part of an event like this, which is long overdue, for the advancement of the music industry," said Martin.

Higher food prices on way

The rising cost of commodities this year could hit store shelves in 2012

By Leslie Josephs and Paul Ziobro

NEW YORK — American consumers can expect bigger grocery bills in 2012, even as commodity prices are forecast to fall.

The U.S. is expected to churn out more staples like corn, wheat and soy, which would drive commodity prices lower in 2012. However, it takes several months for a commodity such as corn to make its way down the production line and into a box of cereal, so consumers next year will be buying food made from raw materials bought this year, when crop prices reached multiple highs.

Weather problems including frosts, floods and droughts have driven commodity prices this year. Corn futures in Chicago reached a record high near $8 a bushel in June, while wheat almost touched $9 a bushel in February, and arabica coffee futures in New York topped $3 a pound, a 14-year high, in May.

Major food companies like Kraft Foods Inc., Corn Flakes maker Kellogg Co. and General Mills, producer of Yoplait yogurt and Cheerios, already have taken steps such as raising prices or shrinking products to offset higher raw-material costs and are likely to continue doing so next year.

In a recent report, the U.S. Department of Agriculture said grocery-store prices will likely rise three percent to four percent in 2012, on par with this year, even though ingredient costs may fall.

The biggest increases would likely be in the first half of next year, but prices would most likely ease later in 2012, said USDA economist Richard Volpe.

"We're seeing that retailers really have no choice but to start increasing prices in order to restore their profit margins, so we're expecting food prices to continue rising in 2012," he said Volpe.

At the center of the rise in agricultural commodities prices this year is corn. Futures prices in Chicago have pulled back from their record high but are still up seven percent since the start of the year, though demand, particularly from China, is expected to support prices.

The severe heat wave in the American Midwest this summer could hurt corn yields in the fall, which would further boost prices.

Other commodities used widely by food companies have also skyrocketed, as bad harvests in major growers and increased global demand pushed up prices. Benchmark arabica coffee futures in New York were surged close to 40 percent over the past 12 months, and companies such as Starbucks Corp., Kraft and J.M. Smucker Co. already have raised coffee prices this year.

But the companies are taking a cautious stance on how consumers will respond to higher prices. Food executives have found it easier to raise prices on items geared toward high-end consumers, who are less price-sensitive than lower-income shoppers.

instead of raising prices on Frost-free Flakes and other price-sensitive brands, Kellogg is offering smaller sizes to avoid scaring off shoppers.

"If you go over $4 a box, you're going to lose a lot more consumers," Kellogg Chief Executive John Bryant said in a recent interview.

Florida Silver Alert a lifesaver for elderly

■ The program sends out alerts when an elderly person with a mental impairment is missing and believed to be driving.

BY THOMAS STEWART
Associated Press

FORT MYERS — In August of last year, Lester Moore left his home to make a delivery, just as he had done for 50 years with Flynt & Doyle, a Fort Myers-based moving company specializing in oversized loads such as houses.

Except that Moore, 85 at the time, no longer worked for Flynt & Doyle.

Diagnosed with Alzheimer's, he had retired and was living at home on Mitchell Court in Fort Myers, his daughter-in-law Maxine Moore said.

And instead of a truck, Lester was behind the wheel of his 1983 Ford Crown Victoria.

After his family hadn't heard from him for a few hours, they called law enforcement, which issued a Silver Alert.

Moore was found soon after, at a gas station.

"They found him out there near Bonita Springs," Maxine said. "He was driving to make a delivery. His mind was telling him that."

Moore's was one of seven Silver Alerts issued in Lee County. Three have been made in Collier and 353 went out statewide since the program began in October 2008.

Officials involved with the program say it has potentially saved hundreds of lives and its impact is still growing.

ities and social service organizations across the state. Messages describing the vehicle make, model and tag number also are broadcast on roadway message boards — there are 15 in Lee County and about 560 in the state.

"We have thousands of people and thousands of eyeballs out there looking for folks," said Carol Waters, a senior management analyst with the Department of Elder Affairs.

One is Bob Hartzell, who lives in Punta Gorda with his wife, Marsha. When Hartzell, 86, a trumpet player, went missing on his way to a music gig last year, Marsha called police, who found him on the side of the road around 2 a.m. in Clewiston after putting out a Silver Alert.

Bob had gotten confused on where he was supposed to be, and ran out of gas.

"It's wonderful," Marsha said of the program. "We didn't know when we would find him or what condition he would be in, but when we found him he was in better condition than we were."

The next step, Waters said, is to create a statewide alert system for elderly who wander off on foot.

As far as officials know, every person for whom an alert has been issued has been found.

As for the program's success, it has led to an increase in the number of people recovered alive, from 92 percent to 94 percent, she said. Fewer are being found outside their home county and the state.

More educated, so does law enforcement, Barnes said.

And methods have improved, leading to an increase in the number of people recovered alive, from 92 percent to 94 percent, she said.

While working in the busy emergency room, Scheidt performed CPR on a patient in cardiac arrest and performed physical examinations and other forms of care to an undisclosed number of unsuspecting patients, an arrest report said.

Police: Teen posed as a physician's assistant

A teenager has been arrested on felony charges of masquerading as a physician's assistant at the Osceola Regional Medical Center's emergency room, Kissimmee police said.

Matthew Scheidt, 17, was picked up Friday after hospital officials called police earlier this week about suspicions that he was an impostor, police said.

While working in the busy emergency room, Scheidt performed CPR on a patient in cardiac arrest and performed physical examinations and other forms of care to an undisclosed number of unsuspecting patients, an arrest report said.

Officials with Osceola Regional Medical Center could not be reached for comment.

The incident raises questions about the hospital's ability to screen employees, said attorney John Morgan of Morgan & Morgan. The teenager was taken to the Orange County Regional Detention Center, a holding facility in Orlando for juveniles. He is being charged with five counts of impersonating a physician's assistant.

Scheidt obtained hospital credentials by claiming to be a physician's assistant in a program at Nova Southeastern University, records show. He apparently knew the hospital from working as a part-time billing clerk for a local group of surgeons. When Scheidt applied for a hospital identification badge on Aug. 24, he told the Osceola County sheriff's Explorer program for teens interested in law enforcement. But he was bounced last year for wearing equipment that might mislead the public into believing he was a deputy, records show.

That included displaying a law enforcement badge, carrying a can of chemical spray and wearing a bullet-proof vest in public, sheriff's spokeswoman Twis Lizasua said.

When police went to Scheidt's home Wednesday, the teenager said he never posed as a physician's assistant and accused the hospital of trying to "to cover their butts." All he did, he claimed, was to job-shadow an emergency room clerk to learn the hospital's billing system, the report states.

Scheidt showed a detective his hospital ID and a white lab coat with a physician assistant's reference book, pen lights and a note pad in the pockets.

However, hospital staff told police that Scheidt said he was a 23-year-old physician's assistant student at Nova Southeastern and that he had been sent by Ramirez to work with an ER doctor.

Chemical cremation to be offered

ASSOCIATED PRESS

ST. PETERSBURG — A funeral home will soon be the first in the nation to offer environmentally friendly "chemical cremation" to the public.

The Anderson-McQueen Funeral Home will offer alkaline hydrolysis, one of a wave of new green burial options. The process is also known as bio-cremation or flameless cremation.

A body is placed in a pressurized drum that holds up to 400 gallons of water. A chemical is added and heated to 350 degrees, then the mixture is circulated through the drum.

The body's soft tissue is dissolved into a liquid, which is washed into the municipal wastewater system.

Just as in a typical cremation, bones of the deceased are ground into a powder for funeral urns.

Prices start at around $3,000.

Un error de pilotaje causó el accidente del vuelo entre Río y París PARÍS (EFE). Un error de pilotaje provocó el accidente del vuelo entre Río de Janeiro y París que se estrelló en aguas del Atlántico el 1 de junio de 2008 con 223 personas a bordo, según las conclusiones preliminares presentadas hoy por los investigadores.

Los informes de la tripulación del AF447 no tenían la información adecuada para responder de forma exacta a las incidencias técnicas que detuvo el piloto automático hora y media después del despegue, por lo que algunos decisores críticos, indicó hoy la Oficina de Investigación y Análisis (BEA), encargada de las pesquisas.

Los pilotos no respetaron los procedimientos previstos en esas circunstancias y, con sus acciones, provocaron la pérdida del control del avión y que se estrellara en el océano. El BEA ha hecho un estudio sobre el error, pero no se ha hecho un estudio sobre el accidente del vuelo entre Río de Janeiro y París.

Según la asistencia de asesoramiento, las sondas de medición de velocidad sufrieron un problema técnico durante el vuelo, lo que provocó que se apagara el piloto automático.

Una situación que no era nueva y que podía ser evitada por los pilotos siguiendo determinados protocolos, según se desprende de las conclusiones.

Frente al colapso, de 20 años, que en ese momento dirigió el aparato porque el comandante estaba en un momento de confusión, una decisión que los investigadores no se explican, indicó el informe de tres páginas, frente a las cinco que analizan los procedimientos regulatorios.

Pasan las horas y como se ha venido repitiendo en las últimas seis sesiones, Wall Street terminó el viernes la semana en números rojos aminorada por la posibilidad de que los bancos tengan problemas de liquidez, pero la potencia mundial entre en suspensión de pagos, por lo que esta semana el mercado se agudizó al acumular su mayor descenso de 101.

"Hay muchas maneras de salir de este agujero, pero apenas nos queda tiempo (...) Es el momento del compromiso", declaró de nuevo el presidente Barack Obama, a quien el sábado a los inversionistas se le está subiendo la potencia mundial por la fecha para que Estados Unidos se declare en mora se acerca peligrosamente.

BOGOTÁ (EFE). La policía judicial de Colombia decomisó en Cali un cargamento de fusiles de guerra con bayonetas y proyectiles que había sido ingresado ilegalmente en el país por un barco colombiano.

Los arsenales eran transportados en un autobús que los había llevado a la dependencia policial gracias que el arsenal de guerra estaba escondido por 47 fusiles AR15 y 47 bayonetas, más dos proyectiles de guerra.

Periodistas denuncian "nuevo atentado" de Morales contra la libertad expresión

LA PAZ (EFE). Periodistas bolivianos denuncian hoy que la nueva ley de Telecomunicaciones aprobada en el Parlamento dominado por el partido del presidente Evo Morales, es un "nuevo atentado del poder político" en contra de la libertad de expresión.

La Asociación de Periodistas de La Paz (APLP) criticó en un comunicado que la norma, aprobada "de manera improvisada, apresurada y sin consultar a los periodistas", viola todos los artículos de la Constitución vigentes desde 2009 y el espíritu de la Constitución Americana de los Derechos Humanos y la Carta Democrática de la OEA.

El fiscal de la APLP, Antonio Vargas, dijo que a través de la televisión local que la autorización de los espectáculos televisivos se afecta solo a los medios sino a toda la ciudadanía.

"No solamente se va a interferir el trabajo periodístico, sino que a cualquier ciudadano se le podrá denegar el acceso a la información", dijo el representante de la APLP.

Algunos medios de prensa, por otra parte, señalaron que "el nuevo funcionario" de la Fiscalía llegará al domicilio de Ariles y lo detendrá, ya que se le acusa de haber cometido un delito de obstrucción de la justicia.

Los mismos medios señalaron que "la familia del exministro denunció hoy los hostigamientos y amenazas en su contra" y que, como resultado, el exministro y sus familiares podrían abandonar el país.

SIP denuncia graves ataques a la prensa

La SIP criticó la falta de "transparencia política" de los Gobiernos para que se establezcan los criterios y se demuestre la "transparencia" de que muchos casos están prescribiendo.

En ese sentido, Morozovitz, también acompañado por el vicepresidente primero de la SIP, Milton Coleman, recordó los compromisos asumidos por el presidente de México, Felipe Calderón, quien ante una delegación de la SIP en noviembre pasado prometió que garantizaría la independencia de los medios de comunicación y la libertad de prensa.

También lamentaron que "en ciertos países los Estados Unidos se le da un papel de intermediario de ley que dependiente de los intereses de los Estados Unidos, pero que no tiene la capacidad de garantizar la independencia de los medios de comunicación y la libertad de prensa".

El informe en el que se transportaba la carga fue interceptado en un sector del Valle del Cauca, departamento al que también pertenece Buenaventura.

Posible amnistía o indulto para Antauro Humala y Fujimori

LIMA (EPD).- El ministro peruano de Defensa, Daniel Mora, considera posible un amnistía o indulto para Antauro Humala, el hermano menor del presidente Ollanta Humala, y a otros por razones humanitarias, y lo mismo en el caso del indulto concedido expresamente a Alberto Fujimori.

En una entrevista que publica el diario El Comercio, Mora afirma que Antauro Humala, condecorado a 23 años de prisión por su rol en el golpe de 2000, no participó en forma directa, no empujó el arma, tampoco el gesto de la "judicialización". "Dejemos que la Justicia decida" declaró en la entrevista con El Comercio.

El ministro agregó que se pasaba la misma a un cargo del ejército donde Alberto Fujimori, condenado a 25 años de prisión por abusos a los derechos humanos y autor de crímenes en la zona.

Las declaraciones del ministro de Defensa se publicaron en el mismo día en que Antauro Humala fue trasladado al hospital militar de Lima, desde el penal de máxima seguridad de Piedras Blancas, para recibir tratamiento médico por problemas renales.

En los exteriores del hospital hubo una manifestación de los seguidores que pedían su "libertad inmediata", pues consideran que con su liberación

Detienen a guerrillero venezolano del ELN en Colombia

BOGOTÁ (EFE).- Un suceso reciente venezolano fue detenido junto a una colombiana tras combates de tropas del ejército de Colombia con un grupo de la guerrilla del ELN en el norte del país. Informaron hoy fuentes militares regionales.

Un batallón de milicias occidentales en las montañas de San Andrés, localizadas al departamento de Santander, recibió la llamada militar de un grupo de guerrilleros que se habían dividido en Bucaramanga, la capital regional.

La fuerza identificó a los arrestados en los días de "Guir" y "El Loco", el primero de ellos de origen de Venezuela, y aseguró que ambos "señalaban posiciones armadas en la zona".

Los dos llevaban armas de fuego cortas, agregó la unidad castrense, y señaló que los enfrentamientos no dejaron muertos ni heridos.

Según la prensa, los detidos pertenecían a la cuadrilla "El Gran Padre", del Ejército de Liberación Nacional (ELN), y trabajaban en la creación de corredores de movilidad del área Santander.

Paros en aeropuertos españoles y metro de Madrid coincidirán con visita papal MADRID (EFE).- Seis días en los que los aeropuertos españoles y el servicio de Metro de Madrid coincidirán por completo con la visita que el papa Benedicto XVI realizará a España este mes de agosto con ocasión de la XXVI Jornada Mundial de la Juventud (JMJ).

La Unión General de los Trabajadores (UGT), uno de los sindicatos mayoritarios en España, convocó hoy paros en el servicio de Metro de Madrid durante la noche del domingo 14 de agosto, y en las jornadas del 19 y 21 de este mismo mes por el "incumplimiento" de la cultura salarial del convenio colectivo y por pagar menos "de un modo arbitrario" para reducir el servicio durante la JMJ.

Estos paros se unen a los convocados por el también sindicato mayoritario Comisiones Obreras (CCOO), la propia UGT y la Unión Sindical Obrera (USO) que han llamado a los 60.000 trabajadores del servicio de asistencia en tierra de todos los aeropuertos españoles a las jornadas de huelga el 19 y 21 de agosto y el 20 de agosto por el incumplimiento del convenio del sector.

La JMJ se celebrará entre el 19 y el 21 de agosto, y el Papa estará en Madrid, única etapa de este viaje, entre los días 19 y 21 de ese mes. Se espera la asistencia de cerca de un millón y medio de jóvenes de todo el mundo a estos actos.

El paro del Metro madrileño convocado por UGT se suma al que lleva también previsto hacer el sindicato Solidaridad Obrera el día 14 de agosto, de 3 a 6 de la madrugada, de 11.30 a 13.30 y de 18.30 a 20.30 de la tarde.

El anuncio de los convocantes de los trenes de Metro y Compañías Obreras, los dos principales en cuanto a representación en el comité de empresa, todavía no se han pronunciado sobre el anuncio de UGT.

La consejera de Presidencia y Justicia de la región de Madrid, Ignacia Matall, calificó hoy de "oportunistas" los paros convocados y comentó que los sindicatos convocados no han informado al ayuntamiento de UGT.

Por su parte, el consejero delegado de Metro, Ignacio González, aseguró que el Gobierno regional de Madrid garantizará "unos servicios mínimos" para que la movilidad durante la JMJ "sea pacífica" y el Metro funcione "con plena normalidad".

Está previsto que el servicio de Metro se reduzca durante la visita del Papa, al igual que ha ocurrido con actos sociales y deportivos anteriormente, por ejemplo, durante la final de la Liga de Campeones del año pasado.

En cuanto a los paros aeroportuarios, los tres sindicatos convocantes insistieron hoy en que los huelgas afectarán a todos los aeropuertos españoles y "todas las actividades de empresas del sector".

Según explicaron, además de los trabajadores de los servicios de facturación de pasajeros y asistencia a los viajeros, el sector incluye también a controladores de vuelos, carteros, PRR (servicio de movilidad reducida) y pasajeros.

Los sindicatos instaron que la convocatoria de estos dos paros se produzca por "el supuesto incumplimiento del Convenio del Sector de Handling por parte de la empresa WTA (anexo) de cargo en los aeropuertos de Madrid y Barajas y otros aeropuertos", además de otras cuestiones con el Ministerio español de Fomento y la empresa pública AENA encargada de la gestión de los aeropuertos.

Se cumplen dos años sin atentados de ETA en España

MADRID (EFE).- Este martes se cumplen dos años desde el último atentado en España de ETA, que anunció en su momento el fin de la actividad del grupo de izquierda armada. El último atentado fue el de un autobús de la Guardia Civil.

Turismo con los excesos de Imelda

ERIC SAN JUAN/EFE MANILA

Los excesos y vivencias de la más famosa y polémica mujer de Filipinas, Imelda Marcos, durante la época en la que empleó el poder de su marido, el dictador Ferdinand, quedan retratados por una muestra con-vertida en senda del turismo. "Quiero explicar la historia de Filipinas en los sesenta, los tiempos de la guerra fría y la Ley Marcial instaurada por Ferdinand Marcos entre 1972 y 1981 a través de la mujer que definió aquella época: Imelda Romualdez Marcos", dice Carlos Celdrán, guía y creador del tour Living the vida Imelda. Alaviado con un bombín y unas llamativas gafas de pasta, Celdrán conduce a un grupo a varias decenas de turistas por el complejo del fastuoso Centro Cultural de Filipinas, buque insignia del conjunto arquitectónico que la viuda del dictador ordenó construir a fi-lades el palacio para acoger al Papa Juan Pablo II en su visita a Filipinas en 1981, pero el Vaticano se negó a que el Pontífice se hospedara en ese pomposo complejo, en un país tercermundista en que una gran parte de la población padece de miseria.

En el Palacio de los Cocoteros si se alojaron el año 1974, que coronó a la española Amparo Muñoz. "Poco antes del evento, Manila sufrió uno de los tifones más fuertes del siglo y una de las primeras medidas que adoptó Imelda fue ordenar pintar de verde los jardines adyacentes para el concurso porque las riadas los habían estropeado", relata Celdrán.

IMELDA MARCOS, viuda del dictador Ferdinand Marcos, contempla una controvertida pieza-artística que se exhibe en Centro Cultural de Filipinas, en Manila, este agosto.

nales de los años sesenta junto a la bahía de Manila. Inaugurado en 1969 con la asistencia del entonces gobernador de California, Ronald Reagan, este centro se convirtió en la gran referencia artística de Asia al acoger espectáculos de renombre internacional como los ballets de Rudolph Nureyev.

Con una notable facilidad para capturar el oído del visitante y sus dotes de actor, Celdrán recorre las salas del decadente edificio mientras va retratando con sus explicaciones aquella etapa en la que recargado con todo tipo de ornamentos", explica Celdrán.

Alrededor brotaron algunas de las mayores muestras del gusto de Imelda por la exuberancia, como el mastodóntico Centro Nacional de Convenciones de Filipinas, ahora prácticamente en desuso, o un lujoso palacete construido con la madera de los cocoteros.

"Imelda visitó a unos campesinos y les reprendió porque sus chozas eran feas. Ellos le contestaron que sólo tenían cocoteros y no podían hacer más y la respuesta de Imelda mandó levantar un palacio con materiales extraídos de esos árboles para demostrar que no había excusas cuando se trata de crear belleza", comenta Celdrán.

La otrora primera dama tor George Hamilton, asiduo a las fiestas de la alta sociedad manileña, la actriz Brooke Shields, y el dictador libio Muammar el Gaddafi.

En su relato, Celdrán acompaña la historia de los edificios de comentarios malévulos sobre las infidelidades amorosas del dictador con la actriz estadounidense Dovie Beaus y divertidos relatos sobre los encuentros de Imelda con líderes mundiales como Henry Kissinger, Fidel Castro y Muammar el Gaddafi.

Otro de los edificios que de mejor forma ilustran el espíritu del reinado de Imelda es el Teatro de Arte Popular, con capacidad para 10,000 personas y construido a petición de la ex primera dama en sólo 77 días para acoger el concurso de Miss Universo de Para este guía, Imelda, que a sus 82 años ocupa un escaño en el Congreso, continúa siendo "un personaje inabarcable y su contribución a la identidad nacional filipina es innegable".

"Hizo cosas malas y buenas, pero ignoraría en la historia filipina—añade—sería como no ver a un elefante dentro de una habitación. No es sólo su figura, sino la arquitectura que creó y el desarrollo artístico que floreció bajo su mando", sostiene.

La "Mariposa de Hierro" fue un apoyo fundamental para su marido mientras gobernó el país con puño de hierro entre 1965 y 1986, cuando una revuelta popular apoyada por el Ejército y la Iglesia les obligó a exiliarse a Hawái, donde Ferdinand murió en 1989.

Fitch mantiene a EEUU en "AAA"

NUEVA YORK (EFE). La agencia de calificación de riesgo Fitch anunció que mantiene la calificación de la deuda de Estados Unidos en la máxima nota de "AAA", con perspectivas estables, una decisión que llega dos semanas después de que Standard & Poor's degradara por primera vez en la historia la nota de este país.

"La actualización de la calificación 'AAA' de la deuda soberana de Estados Unidos (90/104) el hecho de que los pilares clave del excepcional valor crediticio de Estados Unidos continúan intactos", dijo en un comunicado esta agencia.

Fitch, que ya decidió mantener la "matrícula de honor" del país de la deuda soberana estadounidense después de que el Congreso rechazara un referéndum para elevar el techo del gasto federal del país, dijo que el país sigue siendo el "más fundamental en el sistema financiero de Estados Unidos".

La agencia hizo hincapié en la "flexibilidad, diversificación y buen estado de salud de la economía estadounidense", así como la "flexibilidad monetaria y de tipos de cambio del país, lo que aseguró que "potencia la capacidad de la economía para absorber y ajustarse a impactos".

Los inversores y analistas estadounidenses están sorprendidos de los pasos de las principales agencias de calificación después de que Standard & Poor's decidiera bajar la nota de EEUU. Hasta ahora el pasado 4 de agosto, una decisión que justificó por el largo debate para elevar al límite el endeudamiento público que dejó al país al borde de la suspensión de pagos.

La decisión de Standard & Poor's de esta semana pasada vino en un momento de alta volatilidad en la Bolsa de Nueva York, que se contagió a las principales plazas financieras del mundo con fuertes rajes y recuperaciones en sus principales indicadores.

A pesar de que Fitch ha dado un mandato a su "AAA" de EEUU, ha advertido de que volverá a revisar la nota que otorga a la mayor economía mundial una vez analice los resultados de las deliberaciones del "supercomité" bipartidista encargado de reducir el déficit del país, que debería comenzar a finales de noviembre.

Además, la agencia ha asegurado que analizará las perspectivas macroeconómicas de EE.UU. frente a otros países a medio plazo a finales de año.

"Una revisión al alza de las previsiones de la deuda estadounidense, bien por un crecimiento más débil del esperado de la economía o bien por la falta de acuerdo del supercomité para llegar a pagar más tarde de lo esperado el déficit, probablemente resultaría en una acción negativa en la nota de EEUU".

Disminuye inicio de construcción de casas

WASHINGTON (EFE). El inicio de construcción de casas en julio disminuyó un 1,5% en julio y se ubica en una tasa anualizada de 4,6 millones de viviendas completadas con una de 413.000 el mes anterior, informó el Departamento de Comercio.

La mayoría de las nuevas licencias habilitó un ritmo anual de construcción en julio de unas 460.000 unidades.

El dato oficial muestra el impulso negativo que afecta las casas nuevas frente a la abundancia de viviendas secundarias a operación de alquiler, con un crecimiento del 20,2% en julio.

El mercado hipotecario en Estados Unidos, que se derrumbó en 2007, sigue afectado asimismo por el gran número de hipotecas cuyo precio de venta sigue bajando en el mercado, por lo que las nuevas viviendas para la extensión de este domingo reflejan una fuerte recuperación de la actividad electoral que tuvo lugar durante el verano y se prevé que se mantenga en un nivel alto.

El índice de construcción de viviendas unifamiliares bajó en julio un 4,9% y se ubica en una tasa anualizada de 328.000 unidades.

El promedio de construcción, con un nivel de actividad similar y el comienzo de obras en la construcción de unidades con cinco o más viviendas subió un 6,3% el mes pasado.

La construcción de las viviendas de alquiler muestra un crecimiento del 1,5% en julio y se ubica en una tasa anualizada de 392.000 unidades.

Altos precios de alimentos amenazan a los más pobres

WASHINGTON (EFE). Los altos precios de los alimentos, que están alcanzando máximos históricos, y la continua volatilidad de los mercados primarios de materias primas en los mercados de futuros, son los factores que más preocupan a los más pobres del mundo, advierte el Banco Mundial (BM).

La institución señaló en su último Observatorio de Precios de los Alimentos que los alimentos básicos como el trigo, el arroz y el maíz, que son los más importantes para el mundo, están marcados en 2011.

Los precios de los alimentos en el mundo en 2011 son los más altos que se han registrado desde el año anterior, mientras que los precios del crudo aumentaron un 62% en el primer semestre de este año y los precios de los productos básicos, que subieron un 67% de ante el mismo período. Según el informe, el precio del trigo subió un 50%, el del arroz un 55%, y el del maíz un 45%, respectivamente, mientras que el azúcar, un 65%, y el aceite de soja, un 47%.

"La continua alza de los alimentos y el alto nivel de volatilidad en los mercados primarios de materias primas son una amenaza para las personas más vulnerables", dijo el presidente del BM, Robert Zoelich, en un comunicado.

Zoelich señaló que "la volatilidad es vital para la incertidumbre y el riesgo que se enfrentan hoy en día a los consumidores sobre la economía mundial, combinada con la volatilidad política en los mercados de materias primas, pueden contribuir a mantener los precios volátiles del petróleo en el corto plazo, incluso si los precios

Parlamento venezolano indagará presunta financiación extranjera a la oposición

CARACAS (EFE). El Parlamento venezolano, de mayoría opositora, aprobó la conformación de una comisión que investigará la presunta financiación extranjera a la alianza opositora Mesa de la Unidad Democrática, partiendo de una denuncia hecha por el presidente, Hugo Chávez.

"Hemos pedido este debate para desmenuzarnos a quienes están buscando financiamiento extranjero y a quienes creen que con el apoyo de la derecha española, de la derecha europea, del Departamento de Estado de Estados Unidos van a cambiar el rumbo que el pueblo venezolano ha decidido", dijo el diputado socialista Earle Herrera.

Chávez dijo ayer que era necesario investigar a la alianza opositora Mesa de la Unidad Democrática (MUD), pues aseguró que esta organización está recibiendo financiación para apoyar "la transición en Venezuela".

El legislador señaló que, de ser cierta esta información, se debería tomar acciones contra la MUD por violar la Constitución, un evidente "violación a la Constitución".

BUENOS AIRES. El contundente resultado obtenido por la presidenta argentina, Cristina Fernández, en las primarias de este domingo refuerza una fuerte recuperación de la actividad electoral que tuvo lugar durante el verano y se prevé que se mantenga en un nivel alto.

El nivel de adhesión logrado en estas primarias es similar al obtenido por la victoria, que supera el 50%, es el mejor resultado electoral que ha logrado una fuerza desde que el entonces Ministro Kirchner accedió al Gobierno en 2007, cuando superó al 49,5% en los últimos comicios presidenciales de 2007.

"Este es un resultado excepcional, hecho por el oficialismo, por la unidad del trío", dijo hoy a Efe el analista político Jorge Arias, de la consultora Politec. Según el experto, la victoria de la fuerza de la presidenta está relacionada con un "voto bochoso" de electores que se desmarcan por la continuidad de la bonanza económica que atraviesa Argentina, país que este año proyecta crecer un 8,2%.

A la hora de comentar hoy su desempeño en las primarias, comentó que se había enfrentado a los desafíos que lograron más del 15% de los votos a compañía en las presidenciales de octubre, cuando un grupo exitoso de analistas y dijo que la adhesión lograda es simplemente un "reconocimiento" a su gestión. El resultado de las primarias se celebró el 17 de agosto.

El triunfo de Fernández viene en la etapa más crítica de la campaña electoral, con un nivel de adhesión que se permite instaurarse como líder de la oposición. Con una segunda vuelta disputada con el radical Eduardo Duhalde (22,9% de los votos) y la presencia de la alianza opositora encabezada por el ex ministro de Economía, Agustín Justicista.

"Hubo una dispersión del voto opositor. La idea es que el electorado sea un electorado de cambio, necesita tener la sensación de que está votando por alguien que puede disponer el poder. La oposición no logró convencer esta sensación en el inconstante electorado", agregó Arias.

En la sesión transmitida por el canal de la Asamblea Nacional el diputado opositor José Manuel González dijo durante su intervención que la oposición se encuentra "definitivamente en la MUD y tiene fuerza".

González anunció que mañana martes los líderes de la oposición difundirán la polémica carta y opinión pública se enterará "de la verdad" acerca de su contenido.

Los representantes de la MUD se han dividido en las sesiones del presidente según que esta carta está dirigida a combatir de asustar a los opositores del Senado estadounidense para advertir acerca del "negativo impacto" en la diplomacia de los derechos humanos si se permite la Organización de Estados Americanos (OEA).

Los opositores aseguran haber enviado esta misiva al Parlamento norteamericano tras conocer la medida del legislativo de cortar todo financiamiento a la OEA.

"Nuestro objetivo es defender las instituciones, así como a objetivos de uso de la OEA", se declaró con los representantes y destilar a la OEA para inquirir al

Comité (Comunidad de Estados Latinoamericanos y del Caribe), rató González.

Mientras tanto, Chávez se mostró atento a la discusión, lo que quedó demostrado con los mensajes que envió a través de su cuenta en Twitter, señalando a los diputados opositores por sus "baldes argumentos". "Hay que investigar cómo un conjunto de dirigentes del país se arrodilló ante el PP español (Partido Popular, español, anti-Estado) hoy, ante un senador, asustadísimo como nunca jamás recibiendo 10 minutos de plaza", dijo el diputado socialista Carlos Escobar.

Escobar señaló que la polémica carta firmada por la MUD sirve para que a través del organismo internacional Estados Unidos financie "actos conspirativos en Venezuela" y calificó a la OEA como un "parásito" del Estado norteamericano.

Por su parte, el parlamentario de la MUD Andrés Belloch se refirió a la denuncia del presidente y señaló que es respecto de procesos electorales el partido opositor siempre acude al discurso de la conspiración y aseguró que la alianza opositora "se transpara" a Efe.

Morales sospecha que EEUU conspira en su contra

LA PAZ (EFE). El presidente boliviano, Evo Morales, acusó a Estados Unidos de conspirar en su contra.

El mandatario, que hizo estas declaraciones en la ciudad central de Cochabamba, también denunció una "marcha" que se celebró en esta ciudad por centenares de indígenas de la zona occidental, oriente y sur del país, que pretenden recorrer en unos meses más de 500 kilómetros desde la ciudad de Trinidad hasta La Paz.

Los indígenas han pedido dialogar directamente con Morales para pedirle que detenga la construcción de la vía férrea, iniciada con un crédito bancario, que atraviesa el Parque Nacional Eduardo Avaroa (Tirinto), zona de 12.000 kilómetros cuadrados que posee una rica fauna y flora.

La carretera, que tendrá más de 300 kilómetros entre la Amazonia y el centro del país, es construida por la empresa brasileña OAS y demandará una inversión de 415 millones de dólares, de los que 132 millones son financiados por Brasil.

E-Verify en España: Inmigrantes podrán revisar su estatus que el que usan las empresas para confirmar el estatus migratorio de sus empleados. Los inmigrantes que han trabajado en España durante los últimos 12 meses podrán revisar su estatus migratorio en el momento de renovar su permiso de trabajo.

El programa permitirá que la gente se entere de si hay algún error o discrepancia en sus actas y así poder corregirlos para evitar problemas con el Seguro Social o el DRS, dijo a Efe Luz Figueroa, portavoz de la USCIS.

Según Figueroa, hasta el pasado 6 de agosto, 80.174 empresas se han inscrito en E-Verify, que es un servicio que permite a las empresas verificar el estatus migratorio de sus empleados en todo el país. En la zona de los Estados Unidos se procesó más de 14,2 millones de solicitudes para la verificación de los inmigrantes.

Con la nueva ampliación, el servicio en inglés de "E-Verify" ahora estará disponible en un total de 21 estados, entre ellos Arizona, California, Maryland y Nueva York, y en la capital estadounidense.

La lista de los USCIS es ampliable a todo el país para el segundo trimestre de 2012.

Le rêve de Jason

Une dépêche de HPN datée du mercredi 10 Août 2011, nous apprend que le plan de reconstruction de Port-au-Prince commandé par la mairie de la capitale a été présenté mercredi en présence notamment des autres maires de la région métropolitaine, lors d'une rencontre à l'hôtel Karibe. Le maire de Port-au-Prince a donc pu réaliser cette présentation prévue pour la semaine précédente, mais qui avait dû être renvoyée pour cause de cyclone.

J'en ai malheureusement pas pu me rendre au Caribe ce jour-là, je dois donc m'en tenir, si je veux me faire une première opinion, à ce qui en dit la presse. Le plan préparé par un groupe de 40 experts haïtiens, des ingénieurs, architectes, urbanistes du Centre haïtien de recherche en aménagement et en développement propose une capitale moderne avec un centre-ville complètement renoué doté d'un tramway et d'un bord de mer complètement réaménagé pour en faire une zone touristique et de loisirs.

Si je comprends bien, on est loin de ce projet fumeux de faire de Port-au-Prince une sorte de Dubaï, dont je m'étais moqué dans le premier numéro du journal par cette année (voir ils sont incorrigibles in : HEM, Vol. 24, # 50 du 05-11/01/2011). Malheureusement je me vois obligé de faire reprendre une de mes critiques à l'endroit du « projet Dubaï ». Or ce que j'ai vu, sur le croquis que j'ai reçu, ce sont des investissements massifs dans l'aire de Port-au-Prince, qui n'auront d'autre résultat que d'occroïre l'attraction de la capitale sur la population du reste du pays, accélérant l'exode vers Port-au-Prince, qui deviendra encore plus invivable qu'il ne l'est actuellement (voir Faisons un rêve in : HEM, Vol. 24, # 51 du 12-13/01/2011). Et comme je suis, moi aussi incorrigible, je suis revenu à la charge à l'occasion de ma visite au Fort Drouet : On va reconstruire Port-au-Prince, on va faire, et ce n'est pas moi qui ai utilisé le terme mais un des critiques enthousiastes, une belle « vitrine ». Oui, une vitrine, et derrière cette vitrine, on continuera à avoir une population obligée de vivre dans des conditions infra-humaines. (voir Le fort Drouet et l'habitation Dion : in HEM, Vol. 25, # 27 du 27/07-02/08/2011).

La raison de cette obstination est que je suis obligé de constater que nous sommes en train de rater l'occasion de tirer conséquence des enseignements du tremblement de terre, à savoir que, s'il a été tellement meurtrier, c'est parce que, avec notre insouciance habituelle, nous avons permis cette insupportable concentration de population dans le zone métropolitaine. Des notre premier papier, au début de février 2010, nous avions, à la FONHDLAC indiqué ce qui devait être la base même de la refondation que nous proposons.

Il s'agissait d'un aménagement du territoire, visant une répartition plus équilibrée de la population sur l'ensemble du territoire de la République, par le moyen du développement de pôles de croissance dotés de tous les services de base et dynamisés par l'exploitation du potentiel économique des zones où sont situés ces pôles de croissance, qu'il s'agisse d'agriculture, d'exploitation forestière ou minière, de potentiel touristique, etc.

Nous ne sommes pas les seuls à choisir cette orientation. En mettant de l'ordre dans ma boîte à lettre électronique, j'ai retrouvé un article de Jean Erich René intitulé Aménager l'espace haïtien dont je me fais le plaisir de citer quelques passages : En cette période particulièrement trouble de l'histoire nationale, nous vivons des heures entremêlées par des événements malheureux qui nous frappent coup sur coup tout en nous inspirant un sentiment de découragement et d'abandon... Faisons plutôt appel au bon sens pour restaurer de manière intelligente notre espace vital détruit à cause de notre comportement marchand... Une analyse fine de la problématique de l'environnement haïtien met à l'index la surpopulation comme la cause causante. En effet durant ces deux dernières décennies on observe une explosion démographique et un mouvement migratoire intense de la campagne vers la ville et des centres urbains vers la Capitale. Il en résulte donc un déficit de la production agricole et une augmentation de la consommation qu'on doit compenser par l'importation. Ils en suit un déséquilibre de la balance commerciale diagnostiquée par la dette de la gourde.

Je me suis beaucoup amusé en lisant l'hommage qu'il fait à Hubert de Ronceray dans ce contexte. En effet, pour assurer la prise en charge globale des problèmes relatifs à la croissance de la population, tels que éducation, santé, environnement etc. Le Leader du GPCD ou GRAND FRONT DE CENTRE DROIT prévoit la mise en place d'une Unité Tactique de Développement (UTD) dans chaque département géographique. Aussi nous confesse-t-il : « Chaque Village UTD comprend le bureau du CASEC et au minimum une école, un dispensaire, une église, une banque, une place publique, une salle de spectacle, un terrain de jeu, un marché, une piste d'atterrissage pour hélicoptère ou avion léger, un cimetière, etc. L'UTD devient finalement un établissement public, un cadre social endogène vecteur de décentralisation de déconcentration, de participation pour la croissance de la production nationale ».

Je ne suis pas très informé du programme politique de feu mon collègue sociologue, mais quand on lit ce passage concernant les UTD, on retrouve quelques éléments de ces pôles de croissance que nous préconisons à la FONHDLAC. En ce qui concerne Jean Erich René lui-même, il y a une information que j'avais réservée pour la fin : l'article que je viens de citer date de novembre 2008 ! Ce qui confirme une opinion que j'ai déjà émise, à savoir que le tremblement de terre n'a été qu'un révélateur d'une situation qui existait bien avant lui, et qui les avait clairement avérées diagnostiquées, et pour laquelle ils avaient identifié des pistes de solution.

Pour revenir au maire de la capitale, « Ce rêve d'un nouveau Port-au-Prince est possible », a-t-il déclaré, lors de la présentation du projet, car cela ne coûtera que la bagatelle de 3,3 milliards de dollars ! Monsieur le Maire, que vous careziez des rêves grandioses pour la ville dont vous avez la charge est tout à votre honneur, mais je dois vous dire que, avant d'être port-au-princien naïf-natal, je suis haïtien, et que pour moi, avant de reconstruire la « vitrine », il faut commencer par refonder le pays lui-même.

Vers la côte Sud d'Haïti

En route pour Roche-à-Bateau
Roche-à-Bateau, commune de l'arrondissement des Côteaux se situe à 24 km à l'ouest des Cayes. Cette ville aux délices et l'hospitalité légendaire a été fondée en 1800 et a une superficie de 11 km² pour une population de 19.085 selon une estimation datée de 2002.

Nous sommes le jeudi 28 juillet 2011. En route. Nous sommes en route pour la côte Sud. Fines la traversée de Port-au-Prince, ville agencée, depuis le 12 janvier et accablée depuis par différents problèmes d'urbanisation. Nous voyons en direction des Cayes, la métropole du Sud, méconnaissable dans ses montagnes d'ordures et son déluge de taxis-inotos.

Vitesse et prudence dans les virages ! En traversant Saint-Louis du Sud jusqu'à Roche-à-Bateau notre destination, nous leçons de nos yeux l'absence des palmistes et le déploiement des bananiers verts. Notre attention reste par moments suspendue à la beauté des vagues et à l'éblouissement permanent des rivages.

C'est déjà la fin d'après-midi, le soleil descend lentement à l'orient et nous sommes aux portes de Roche-à-Bateau, Stop. On rend une première visite de courtoisie à quelques Roche-à-Batelais.

On redémarre. Arrêt final, la résidence des Tessono, notre quartier général.

Roche-à-Bateau est en plein dans son 8^e festival culturel, une initiative de Corabel, (Coalition roche-à-batelaise pour l'expansion locale) organisation assez impliquée dans le développement de la ville.

Pendant la matinée du vendredi 30 juillet, nous avons décidé d'aller faire une escapade au Anglais, ville connue pour ses temples vodou, ses bocaux aussi puissants que les dieux de l'Afrique-Occidentale. Ville admirée aussi pour ses rivières, ses sources et ses fontaines (tout au long de mon adolescence, des histoires, les lues extraordinaires que d'autres ont ouvert mes yeux sur les mystères du pays en dehors.

Prise en sandwich entre Port-Salut et les Côteaux

Port Salut, considérée généralement comme la plus belle plage d'Haïti

Roche-à-Bateau s'est souvenue de sa mémoire polonaise et a entendu faire revivre pendant le festival les danses et musiques aux survivances encore polonaises.

Il existe un bonheur vrier sur la terre roche-à-batelaise, ondie par ses natifs (ves) d'ici et de l'autre bord de l'Océan, qui travaillent pour en faire bientôt un vrai joyau.

Les maisons en toits coniques plantées au bord du littoral ou construites dans des filetes verdoyantes captent immédiatement les regards.

Samedi 30 juillet, Les communautés roches-à-batelaises d'Amérique du Nord (Boston, Miami, Montréal) entre autres) présentes au festival ont évalué leur assistance à leur ville bien aimée.

Les festivités occupent le bord de mer. Musique, Danse, Et bagades, Fruits et produits artisanaux écologiques. Le temps d'un intermède, nous avons fait une virée à Port-Salut, une destination exemplaire.

Roche-à-Bateau elle, dispose de sa plage publique faite de quelques installations touristiques style « paradis terrestre siamo ». Un merveilleux village de pêcheurs côtoie cette jolie plage bordée de coquillages et de sables ultra-fins.

Cette ville aux rues propres jouit la nuit de la lumière électrique et s'amuse en saison de vacances en des fêtes improvisées.

Chaque soir, on dort dans l'ambiance musicale des vagues et des oiseaux !

Dimanche 31 juillet Après un petit déjeuner copieux (Bananes, ignames aux morues, le tout accompagné de jus naturel) nous avons bouclé nos valises. Destination Port-au-Prince.

Nous aurons gardé en mémoire nos sources de disco nos baguades, nos promenades au sein de notre ville d'accueil.

Selon Antoine Deille, l'un des membres de Corabel, « Un plan de reboisement des mornes, roche-à-batelais et un programme de protection de ses sites naturels, sont actuellement à l'étude afin de renforcer les potentialités de cette merveilleuse ville côtière ».

Jean Claude Bajoux ou une difficile traversée du désert politique haïtien dont on disait à mi-voix qu'elle avait été exterminée par la milice civile du régime, les infâmes tonton macoutes.

Porté à l'exil à notre tour en 1980, je rencontrai Jean Claude Bajoux à Porto-Ricó l'année suivante lors d'une réunion de la Société Interaméricaine de Presse (SIP) à laquelle nous avait convié notre ami le journaliste Bernard Diederich, lors directeur du bureau de Times à Miami.

Il avait laissé la prêtrise, s'était marié, mais pour rester un militant plus actif que jamais.

Avec un autre ancien prêtre et intellectuel engagé corps et âme, Laennec Hurbon, les deux m'embarquèrent dans une équipée nocturne à San Juan chez tout ce que Porto-Ricó comptait de militants dans la lutte pour débarrasser Haïti du régime sanguinaire.

Je fis ainsi la connaissance de Pierre 'Popo' Rigaud, un autre nom qui nous avait fasciné pour faits de résistance lors des invasions montées dans les années 1960 depuis la République dominicaine voisine.

Le Jean Claude Bajoux rencontré à Porto-Ricó était plein de jeunesse et encore avide d'en découvrir. Il était lors proche de l'homme politique Lesty Manigat. Non seulement pour avoir enseigné tous les deux dans des universités de la Caraïbe. Mais surtout parce que depuis le Venezuela dont il bénéficiait du support gouvernemental, Manigat entraînait des forces militaires pour une éventuelle action de guérilla en Haïti.

Jean Claude Bajoux était tout naturellement proche des Pères spirituels Antoine Adrien et William Smarth qui dirigeaient un centre communautaire à New York engagé aussi bien dans l'assistance aux réfugiés que dans la lutte politique.

Il était comme un frère pour le père Max Dominique, enseignant et poète, tous les deux. Mais là où Max est un 'échauffeur provocateur', au sens dadaliste du mot, qui interpella l'ex-empereur centra-africain Bokassa 1^{er} alors que celui-ci faisait le paon devant le clergé de son pays, faisant mettre à la porte les ex-Pères du Petit Séminaire Collège Saint-Martial qui avaient été expulsés eux aussi d'Haïti en 1969 et qui du coup se retrouvèrent à nouveau en quête d'une terre d'asile.

Jean Claude Bajoux lui concevait d'abord la lutte comme organisation.

N'hésitant pas à s'éloigner de ses camarades Adrien, Smarth et Max Dominique pour rejoindre l'idée des camps de guérilla de Manigat. Mais que celui-ci ne tarda point à abandonner. Sans trop d'explications.

Parce que Jean Claude Bajoux, contrairement aux autres, avait fait son apprentissage à chaud. Lorsque la lutte politique n'était pas encore devenue une simple affaire de péfitions qui ne valent que par le renfort de ceux qui y apposent leur signature mais signifiait essentiellement la lutte armée. Des petits groupes entraînés à la frontière pour harceler la dictature haïtienne bien armée par les États-Unis dans le cadre de la Guerre froide.

C'est la rencontre avec les frères Baptiste, des combattants sans peur et sans reproche, dont Bernard Diederich magnifia le courage dès son premier tome sur la dictature Duvalier, 'Papa Doc' et les tontons macoutes.

Un autre visiteur important, le romancier anglais Graham Green, qui achevait son livre qui fera tant grincer des dents à Papa Doc et qui est devenu un classique de la littérature politique haïtienne, 'Les Comédiens'.

En 1965, les États-Unis entreprirent une intervention armée en République dominicaine pour mettre fin à une insurrection civilo-militaire (l'Affaire Caamaño). En même temps, ordonnant le démantèlement des camps haïtiens à la frontière considérés comme un facteur de troubles.

Bajoux retrouva l'existence d'exilé sans patrie, errant de port en port.

Pour se fixer enfin à Porto-Ricó, Marie à Sylvie Tourdeau, dont le premier époux (Wadestrant) a été tué aussi intensément avec celle du plus grand nombre.

Est-il entré dans la lutte politique, pour repêcher Malraux, comme on entre en religion. En larguant toutes les amarrés !

Mais il y a mieux que la lutte politique, surtout quand celle-ci ne débouche que sur presque autant de malheurs, c'est celle pour le respect des droits humains, aussi universels que possible, à laquelle Jean Claude Bajoux s'est totalement dévoué dans les dernières années de sa vie.

Cependant un tel engagement, si proche du sacré, et dans un milieu politique aussi décevant ne va pas sans heurts et sans blessures.

En même temps que forcé est de s'accrocher désespérément à son idéal pour ne pas sombrer avec celui-ci.

On devient alors, comme on dit, difficile à vivre.

Nous percevions ce radicalisme chez Bajoux depuis cette première rencontre à Porto-Ricó où il reprochait amèrement à Bernard (Diederich) d'avoir accepté d'interviewer le dictateur et son épouse Michèle Bennett Duvalier. Cela peu avant le crackdown du 28 novembre 1980 qui mit fin à cette période dite de 'libéralisation'.

Il sera le traducteur principal de la série d'ouvrages consacrés par Diederich à la politique haïtienne (de 1950 à nos jours).

C'est le même radicalisme qui fait probablement aussi que peu de politiciens aient assisté à la cérémonie à sa mémoire le mercredi 10 Août écoulé à Port-au-Prince. Ni ceux proches d'Aristide qu'il n'a pas épargné (accusant de dernier d'avoir 'dévoilé' la lutte populaire).

Ni les tombeurs d'Aristide alors qu'on le présente comme un leader spirituel du mouvement qui avait emporté ce dernier en février 2004.

Mais au dernier moment, il n'y avait qu'à voir le visage de Jean Claude Bajoux pour réaliser combien il vivait mal toutes ces contradictions.

Il avait enfin le visage qu'il s'est gardé de montrer depuis l'assassinat de sa famille par Duvalier.

Celui du martyr.

Marcus, Mélodie FM

Jean Claude Bajoux lors des manifestations politiques qui ont conduit au renversement par la force du président Aristide en 2004

assassiné sous la dictature.

Enfin Jean Claude Duvalier est renversé le 7 février 1986. Après trente ans d'une dictature de fer, père et fils, régnant sans partage.

Jean Claude Bajoux est l'un des premiers à regagner Haïti.

Alors qu'il vient de mourir, à 79 ans, le 5 Août 2011, c'est un peu de notre adolescence (vue sans avoir été vue) qui disparaît aussi. Le temps des martyrs avant celui des héros - découvert seulement en exil, lorsque sorti de la prison Haïti avec une mitrailleuse dans le dos, et trop tard parce que seulement dans les livres.

Voire le temps au jour'hui de nos politiciens - Celui du monde fini. Littéralement.

Pourtant Jean Claude Bajoux n'a jamais fait allusion publiquement à l'assassinat de sa mère et de deux sœurs et deux frères par le régime monstrueux qui a régné en Haïti de 1957 à 1986.

Comment a-t-il géré cette souffrance ? La plus cruelle de toutes. Est-il arrivé par un effort surhumain à la transformer en une forme de rédemption ? Une cause, une aspiration, la plus haute. Il était encore prêtre. La seule alternative - marier sa propre souffrance intrinsèquement.

tion à tradiquer de son sein ceux qui n'y ont pas leur place, a déclaré le commissaire François Dossous, responsable de la Cellule Contre Enlèvement.

Il a été établi également que Mme Sony Bastien, veuve de Sony Bastien, ancien président directeur de Radio Kiskeya, enlevée le 18 mars 2011 et libérée par la suite contre rançon, a été une des victimes de ce réseau de criminels. Le véhicule de Mme Sony Bastien a été retrouvé chez la copine d'Emile Augustin. Selon la police il circulait à bord du véhicule, ayant seulement pris le soin d'enlever la plaque d'immatriculation. Tous les papiers ont été retrouvés dans le véhicule, toujours au nom de la victime. Son badge de policier lui avait certainement permis de franchir sans inquiétude les points de contrôle, reconnait François Dossous.

Une perquisition effectuée au domicile d'Emile Augustin a permis de retrouver de nombreux objets appartenant à d'anciens otages. Des sources proches de l'enquête laissent croire que d'autres personnes impliquées dans ce réseau seront bientôt appréhendés. La police n'a pourtant pas indiqué si d'autres policiers seraient impliqués.

Retombées pour nous aussi des coupes budgétaires décidées par Washington

PORT-AU-PRINCE, 5 Août - Aux Etats-Unis ce sont les plus pauvres qui paieront les conséquences de la crise actuelle de la dette, disent les journaux.

"Nous ne pouvons donc être plus généreux envers ceux d'ailleurs" s'empresseront de dire les plus radicaux des Républicains qui ont actuellement le vent en poupe.

Le président Barack Obama et le Congrès ont finalement trouvé un accord pour relever le plafond de la dette américaine, autrement dit pour que l'Etat américain puisse emprunter encore plus d'argent afin d'éviter que le pays ne se trouve dans une situation où il ne pourrait plus régler ses dettes. En un mot, la faillite!

Le plafond de la dette devrait être relevé de 2.000 milliards de dollars. En contrepartie les dépenses budgétaires seront réduites de 2.400 milliards.

Plus encore, une commission bi partisane (composée de parlementaires républicains et démocrates) est créée pour poursuivre les coupes budgétaires partout où il y a lieu.

L'objectif est de réduire de 1,2 trillion de dollars en l'espace de 10 ans les dépenses dans tous les programmes gouvernementaux, aussi bien militaires que non militaires, sociaux, sans exception.

La santé n'est pas épargnée. Sont en cause plus de 50 millions de personnes dont les soins de santé sont financés par un programme fédéral, le Medicaid.

Un cercle vicieux...

L'économie américaine se trouve dans un cercle vicieux. Le pays s'endette de plus en plus, mais sa croissance n'augmente pas pour autant. Même les taux de croissance de trimestres antérieurs qui ont été revus à la baisse. Manque de performance signifiant incapacité à générer des emplois, un taux de chômage toujours au-dessus de la barre fatidique de 9%. Etc.

Cependant nous parlons des Etats-Unis, le pays qui symbolise la richesse matérielle et le premier gendarme de la planète.

Aussi premier paradoxe, les Américains sont-ils prêts à sacrifier leur mode de vie défini par l'expression "société de consommation"? En tout cas, on n'en parle nulle part.

Penser que les Britanniques étudient la possibilité de repousser aujourd'hui l'âge de la retraite à 70 ans!

Aux Etats-Unis, il est de 65 ans. En France, 62 ans.

Un nouvel anti-interventionnisme (!)

La semaine dernière, les chefs du Pentagone (ou département de la défense) étaient devant les commissions correspondantes du Congrès pour défendre ceux des programmes militaires qu'ils estiment incontournables. Les Etats-Unis sont engagés sur plusieurs fronts: l'Irak, mais surtout l'Afghanistan et maintiennent des forces de truppe pratiquement en permanence à tous les points (économiquement et militairement) les plus stratégiques de la planète. On comprend mieux la prudence américaine dans la grave crise politique que traversent les nations arabes comparée à l'esprit va-t-en-guerre de la France de Nicolas Sarkozy. Si le fameux "printemps arabe" venait à prendre une tournure mettant en danger la paix internationale, que feraient les Etats-Unis?

Est-ce que la seule superpuissance de la planète se replierait furtivement sur elle-même pour raisons de difficultés économiques, prenant un nouvel anti-interventionnisme. Par la même occasion, risquant de laisser la place à l'émergence d'une autre puissance de remplacement?

Nouveaux pays émergents...

Et d'où viendrait celle-ci? De l'Union européenne, elle aussi rongée par la même crise économique?

On plutôt des nouveaux grands pays émergents, dont la Chine, l'Inde, le Brésil qui affichent quant à eux des taux de croissance absolument insolents etc.

Quelle position occuperait sur cette nouvelle carte du monde des nations aussi conflictuelles que l'Iran, le Pakistan, le Venezuela?

Mais aussi Israël.

Or, tenez vous bien, est-ce que ladite société de consommation américaine est viable sans la superpuissance militaire américaine!

L'aide au développement...

Et puis il y a enfin l'aide étrangère américaine ou aide publique au développement - même si de tous les pays membres de l'OCDE (Organisation de coopération et de développement économiques), les Etats-Unis se révèlent celui qui consacre la plus faible part de son PIB (produit intérieur brut) à l'aide au développement (0,16%).

En chiffres, cela paraît un peu plus imposant: 21,7 milliards.

Quid de l'USAID, CHF International, le programme Wimmer pour l'agriculture.

Ainsi que les milliards promis pour la Reconstruction après le séisme du 12 janvier 2010.

Outre, au-delà des bulletins de nouvelles, il y a matière pour nous aussi à réflexion!

Etats-Unis : "Les plus pauvres vont faire les frais de la crise de la dette"

LEMONDE.FR | 03.08.11

Au terme d'une âpre bataille entre démocrates et républicains, le relèvement du plafond de la dette américaine a été voté mardi 3 août par le Sénat. Le président Barack Obama a promulgué le texte dès son adoption par les deux chambres du Congrès. L'accord autorise le Trésor à relever de 2.100 milliards de dollars le plafond de la dette, repoussant ainsi le risque d'un défaut de paiement. Le plan de réduction des dépenses publiques de 2.500 milliards d'euros, approuvé par le Congrès, n'a pourtant pas rassuré les marchés.

Henri Sterdyniak est directeur du département "Economie de la mondialisation" à l'OFCE et professeur à l'université Paris IX Dauphine. Il dénonce un texte qui "fait supporter l'ajustement aux plus pauvres".

Le compromis trouvé entre républicains et démocrates est-il de nature à rassurer les marchés et les agences de notation?

Il y a peu de risques pour que les agences de notation baissent la note (AAA, la plus élevée) attribuée aux Etats-Unis. Ces agences savent que le risque de défaut de paiement et de faillite est purement théorique: en cas de menace de faillite, la Fed (réserve fédérale) a les moyens d'intervenir pour financer la dette. En outre, le pays peut créer de la monnaie.

En réalité, le danger pourrait être politique: on peut imaginer qu'à l'avenir le mouvement conservateur du Tea Party paralyse le système en refusant tout compromis. Une agence pourrait prendre cette possibilité en compte pour dégrader la note américaine. Mais il y a peu de chances que cela arrive. Normalement, un pays qui crée sa propre monnaie a les moyens de rembourser sa dette.

Toutefois, une autre conclusion de ces quelques semaines de crise est que les Etats-Unis ont révélé leur fragilité à la face du monde: ils sont désormais moins fiables pour les investisseurs et auront du mal à concéder un nouveau choc. Cet épisode a mis certains risques en évidence, accentués lorsque le Parlement et le président ne sont pas de la même couleur politique.

Sur le fond, l'accord vous paraît-il bon?

Non, car il enferme la politique budgétaire américaine dans un carcan. Le texte ne prévoit pas de hausse d'impôt, ce qui enlève toute marge de manœuvre aux gouvernements pour soutenir l'économie, développer l'assurance maladie, lutter contre le chômage. Au final, ce sont les plus pauvres qui vont supporter l'ajustement, alors même que l'une des causes de la crise aux Etats-Unis, c'est la trop faible consommation, ou plutôt la trop forte consommation à crédit.

La tendance est même plus à la baisse de la protection sociale qu'à l'augmentation des impôts visant les plus riches. A court terme, il n'y a aucune chance pour que les impôts augmentent. C'est le point sur lequel la majorité des républicains ne céderont pas.

L'existence des aides sociales comme le programme Medicare peut-elle être menacée?

La sécurité sociale américaine est fragile car elle ne suscite pas d'adhésion populaire massive. La crise a montré que ce système était protecteur et facteur de cohésion sociale, mais son poids sur les finances publiques l'affaiblit dans l'opinion.

Aux Etats-Unis, le système des aides sociales est remis en cause lors de chaque élection. Le pays n'est donc pas protégé contre un accident politique qui verrait la droite républicaine les supprimer. Les démocrates sont des défenseurs timides du système, ce qui rend l'équilibre fragile.

La solution de long terme face aux difficultés budgétaires serait une reprise de la croissance. En prend-on de la chemin?

Les Etats-Unis sont dans une impasse. On l'a dit, l'économie américaine a besoin d'une plus grande consommation des plus pauvres, ce que ne va pas favoriser l'accord conclu sur la politique budgétaire.

Ils ont aussi besoin d'une croissance impulsée de l'extérieur, ce qui passe par une demande plus forte de la part de la Chine et des pays asiatiques. La seule marge de manœuvre des Etats-Unis pour être plus compétitifs en Asie est de faire baisser le dollar, de chercher un réajustement des taux de change à l'échelle mondiale. Ils n'ont pas toutes les cartes en main.

Haïti : Déménagement linguistique

samedi 30 juillet 2011
Par Yves Dejean [1]

Soumis à AlterPresse - juillet 2011

Maturation et spontanéité linguistiques

Les recherches et les progrès en linguistique de la seconde moitié du vingtième siècle ont mis en lumière l'acquisition naturelle et rapide de la ou des langues de leur environnement par tous les enfants normaux dès leur naissance (et même avant, à en juger par les recherches récentes de Jacques Mehler et Emmanuel Dupoux sur l'acquisition in utero ; voir Mehler J, Dupoux E. 1994. What Infants Know (The New Cognitive Science of Early Development, Cambridge, MA - Blackwell)). La réalité et la nature de ce phénomène humain universel contrastent vivement avec l'apprentissage d'une langue étrangère par des personnes qui se donnent la peine de l'étudier. Cet apprentissage est souvent laborieux, lent, incomplet, boiteux et sujet à régression.

Quand on propose l'apprentissage du français à plus de huit millions de créolophones unilingues d'Haïti comme une entreprise obligatoire dans un système scolaire, il est nécessaire de réfléchir sérieusement à sa possibilité, sa praticabilité et son coût en temps, efforts, matériel, argent et enseignants. L'examen de cet aspect du problème semble totalement ignoré ou escamoté par les auteurs d'un livre récent L'Aménagement linguistique en Haïti: Enjeux, défis et propositions (par Robert Berronier-Ortol, Darline Coïfière, Robert Pourcel et Hugues St-Fort, Éditions du CIDIHCA et de l'Université d'État d'Haïti, 2011). Ces auteurs semblent considérer cet apprentissage obligatoire du français comme quelque chose qui va de soi, comme la vaccination de toute une population menacée par une épidémie pour laquelle on possède un vaccin efficace.

Les auteurs du livre annoncent « l'entrée dans la plénitude des langues », créole et français. C'est une belle formule pittoresque, mais sans contenu substantiel et qui minimise ou nie la différence radicale de deux processus dont l'un l'acquisition d'une langue maternelle, n'est et ne peut être l'objet d'aucune législation, faisant partie du développement naturel de tout organisme humain.

Mon examen dans cet article se veut une critique rigoureuse de l'ouvrage. Une première remarque attire l'attention sur les limites et carences probables, voire inévitables, d'un aménagement linguistique conçu hors d'Haïti, favorisant certaines omissions.

On notera comme très sérieuse l'omission de quatre études (du type « feasibility studies ») qui devraient se faire en préalable pour éclairer les possibilités de l'apprentissage du français par le peuple haïtien.

Premièrement, l'omission d'une étude des caractéristiques de l'apprentissage d'une nouvelle langue, hors du milieu de vie et d'activité des intéressés, par une masse de locuteurs unilingues du créole dont au moins trois (3) millions sont totalement illettrés. Cet apprentissage se ferait en l'absence de grandes facilités structurelles. Une telle carence signifie :

• l'absence d'un grand nombre d'enseignants qualifiés et, bien sûr, de spécialistes de l'enseignement du français ;
• l'absence de contact avec des parents, des proches ou des amis adultes qui soient à la fois créolophones et francophones ;
• l'absence presque totale de contact avec des locuteurs natifs du français ; manque général d'accès, ou accès très restreint, à des instruments pédagogiques modernes (magnétophones, vidéos, ordinateurs) ;

• l'absence d'un environnement familial ou académique propice à l'étude : absence de chaises, tables, tableaux, étagères pour livres, cahiers, stylos, crayons, dictionnaires ; rares extrême de locaux bien équipés pour la majorité des élèves fréquentant une école ;

• participation d'un nombre considérable, probablement majoritaire, d'enfants, de jeunes et d'adultes sous-alimentés ;

• éclairage électrique insuffisant et irrégulier, même en milieu urbain et presque inexistant en milieu rural. Deuxièmement, l'omission d'une estimation de la durée prévisible normale d'un apprentissage linguistique efficace d'une langue seconde. Combien de temps faudra-t-il en moyenne par jour, par semaine, par mois, par année, pour arriver à la possession solide et durable d'une langue non pratiquée dans le milieu ambiant de vie ? Peut-être cinq à dix ans d'étude sérieuse ? Par quel tour de force peut-on combiner un programme scolaire chargé dans la langue maternelle d'une masse d'enfants unilingues créolophones et l'étude parallèle efficace, donc consommatrice de temps, d'une langue étrangère à la vie et aux activités quotidiennes du milieu créolophone ambiant ?

Troisièmement, l'omission d'une étude sérieuse de la rétention d'un système linguistique péniblement appris, rarement maîtrisé, dans un milieu créolophone à cent pour cent. En 1963, après plusieurs années d'étude personnelle restreinte d'éléments d'hébreu-biblique, j'ai suivi un cours intensif d'hébreu moderne au centre communautaire juif d'Ottawa (Jewish Community Center). Le professeur, une spécialiste venue d'Israël, a dispensé ce cours d'hébreu par l'hébreu (vrit be vrit) à un groupe de huit étudiants : sept hommes d'affaires juifs canadiens anglophones (projetant une visite en Israël) et moi-même. J'étais le seul à avoir jamais manqué une séance et à pouvoir consacrer un temps considérable chaque jour à l'étude personnelle de l'hébreu moderne et biblique. À la fin du cours je me trouvais honnêtement d'atome, au jugement de la spécialiste israélienne qui avait beaucoup appris moi aussi, d'ité et moi application. Au mois de septembre 1963, j'étais dans le programme de maîtrise à l'Original Seminary (dont le nom a été modifié depuis) de l'université The Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, Maryland, U.S.A. pour un an d'études intensives de l'hébreu biblique. En juin 1964, j'y ai obtenu la maîtrise (M.A.) en hébreu biblique. J'ai depuis lors traduit une bonne partie des 150 psaumes et récemment le Cantique des Cantiques et les onze premiers chapitres du livre des Proverbes de l'hébreu en créole. Mais je suis incapable de tenir ou de comprendre une conversation en hébreu. Tout au plus je peux dire quelques banalités comme je l'ai fait il y a quelques mois en rencontrant une Haïtienne qui a vécu une partie de son enfance en Israël et qui parle l'hébreu couramment.

Quatrièmement, l'omission d'une étude s'appuyant sur une enquête touchant quelques centaines d'Haïtiens qui auraient péniblement acquis, après douze ans de scolarité en français, une bonne maîtrise du français oral et écrit et qui vingt ans après la fin de leurs études ont très peu de contact avec le français parlé et écrit. C'est le cas de nombreux boulangers, boutiquiers, chauffeurs de taxi, de tracteur, de transport, coiffeurs, cordonniers, couturiers, infirmiers, mécaniciens, menuisiers, pâtisseries, pompiers, tailleurs, techniciens de laboratoire, etc. Sont-ils encore francophones ?

Quatre études sérieuses, comme celles suggérées ci-dessus, auraient fait douter d'une pratique pédagogique possible et efficace qui permettrait à la masse unilingue créolophone d'aujourd'hui d'être remplacée dans une trentaine d'années par une masse bilingue créolophone et francophone.

Une autre étude sérieuse qui n'est pas proposée dans l'ouvrage devrait répondre à cette question : Pourquoi n'avons-nous pas en 2011 au moins un demi-million de bilingues créolophones et francophones en dépit du fait que l'enseignement scolaire s'est fait en français de tout temps ? Sans doute on dira, ce qui est exact, que cet enseignement n'a jamais été dispensé à la totalité, pas même à la majorité, probablement pas même à la moitié des enfants haïtiens d'âge scolaire. Cependant dès 1978, d'après les chiffres de Serge Petit-Frère « la population scolarisable » était de 1.121.251 (Le Education Haïtienne en Question, 1980 : 37). Les écoles publiques comptaient 280.187 élèves. Il n'y a pas de chiffres pour les écoles privées. On sait que déjà il y a 33 ans, le nombre d'élèves des écoles privées dépassait largement celui des écoles publiques. Or même en se contentant d'utiliser un nombre égal pour ces deux groupes d'écoles, on obtient un total dépassant le demi-million. On peut penser que depuis 1978 la moitié des enfants du pays sont passés par un système scolaire axé sur la langue française, sans doute pas assez longtemps, et certainement pas soumis à un système d'enseignement multiculturel existant.

DIASPORA : Pyram trente ans après !

MIAMI, 29 juillet - Depuis l'aéroport de Port-au-Prince, ils nous cassent les oreilles. Horriblement. Sauvagement.

Ils, ce sont quatre jeunes hommes, dont l'un, qui paraît saoul on ne peut plus, n'arrête pas de critiquer à haute voix ce pays où rien n'a été fait depuis le séisme de 2010 et qui, Dieu merci, n'est plus le sien.

On espère embarquer le plus vite que possible pour cesser d'écouter de pareilles âneries.

Mais voici que la bande des quatre nous poursuit jusque dans l'avion. Et que c'est alors qu'ils s'en donnent à bout à l'autre du pays).

Cependant c'est pour vomir en même temps leur dégoût d'un pays qui n'a plus rien à leur offrir... tandis que la vie est si belle au pays d'adoption. Les États-Unis, bien sûr. Même Little-Haïti, qu'ils ne fréquentent plus, à en croire le plus excité des quatre, ne pouvant plus supporter ces maudits Haïtiens dans leur entourage.

Est-ce une blague, se demande-t-on ?

En tout cas nos quatre lascars, se prenant tout à fait au sérieux, continuent à pérorer, sans aucun égard pour les autres passagers haïtiens ou étrangers, s'esclaffant, riant à moyen d'échapper au chahut incompréhensible provoqué par ces malheureux.

Malheureux parce que tout ce cinéma c'est parce qu'on est là à les écouter, ce sont leurs frustrations qu'ils nous jettent aussi joyeusement au visage, y compris dans ce comportement irrationnel et provocateur de gamins qui mériteraient une bonne paire de claques, en un mot c'est tout à fait la traduction d'une sorte de dépit amoureux.

Amoureux puisque leur plus beau souvenir, à les entendre, ce sont les fêtes champêtres chaque été se succédant dans tous les coins d'Haïti.

Les raras, carnaval champêtre

L'auteur d'une pièce décrivant les meurs en diaspora haïtienne, Franketteime

Pendant une heure et quarante cinq minutes, on sera soumis à ce supplice. Quatre individus déblatérant à plein tube. Racontant par le menu toutes leurs exhibitions, y compris amoureuses, pendant les 'fêtes champêtres' (saison estivale très courue en Haïti et constituée de célébrations de fêtes paroissiales, ensemble d'activités à la fois religieuses et profanes, et d'un perdre haleine de leurs propres remarques - de plus en plus bêtes, ne semblant nullement sensibles au dérangement qu'ils provoquent ni à la gêne de l'hôtesse de l'air qui n'ose rien leur dire. Tout le monde est renversé.

Les plus choqués ce sont bien sûr les autres passagers haïtiens qui ne veulent pas croire que ce genre d'émurgements puissent exister.

Et surtout qu'on n'y peut rien ! Rien pour les ramener à la raison.

Mais cela nous fait penser, tiens, au Pyram de Pelen Tè, la pièce de Franketteime.

Un Pyram, immigrant analphabète, qui, commençant à gagner quelques dollars en effectuant les boulots les plus ingrats, se prendrait à s'émerveiller sur son propre sort, qu'il estime le plus heureux du monde.

Comme la Perrette de la fable La laitière et le pot au lait. En un rien de temps, on se voit millionnaire. Et pourquoi pas, même ambassadeur des États-Unis en Haïti !

Disons, c'est l'Pyram, trente ans après ! Le délire. Multiple. Haïti n'est pas sorti de ses malheurs. Bien au contraire. Conséquence, alors que le personnage de l'œuvre théâtrale haïtienne la plus populaire des années 1970 se décrivait comme un 'analphabète de bonne volonté', aujourd'hui la mauvaise volonté de sa réincarnation est évidente.

Oui, que voulez-vous, voilà que, de notre côté, nous nous surprenons à rêvasser, partir bien loin, seul

Mais ce n'est pas tout. On est arrivé. La queue devant les guichets de l'immigration. Devinez. Nos quatre lascars ne sont pas seulement ennuis silencieux mais ils ont soudain perdu totalement la parole. Figurez-vous que l'un d'eux a voyagé en Haïti alors qu'il n'avait pas encore reçu sa carte de résident permanent et sans autorisation du service d'immigration.

Adieu veau, vache, cochon, couvée !

Pas si grave. Il ne sera pas déporté mais pour n'avoir pas respecté les règlements, trop pressé de revoir ce pays que cependant il dit exécuter, il passera au moins deux heures assis dans la salle de rétention de l'aéroport de Miami.

Les Algériennes se refont une virginité

En Algérie, les jeunes mariées, sont de plus en plus nombreuses à se faire recoudre l'hymen, un business juteux pour les médecins mais aussi les escrocs du secteur.

Dans la voiture de tête, une femme, qu'on a paralysée par l'émotion est voilée de blanc et attend son sort. C'est la jeune mariée. Elle se dirige vers la salle des fêtes où le mariage aura lieu, très méditerranéen, avec foule d'invités, gâteaux, méchouis et parades avec diverses tenues vestimentaires. La suite est connue : nuit de nocces, puis réveil dans un nouveau stant, celui de femme mariée.

Tout est réglé jusqu'au moindre détail, et pourtant, ce n'est pas aussi simple. Depuis quelques années, les hommes sont de plus en plus nombreux à exiger la virginité de leur épouse. Quand ils ne le font pas, ce sont leurs parents qui demandent un certificat de virginité à leur future belle-fille, étant dans l'impossibilité de vérifier par eux-mêmes. « On est plus modernes, explique en souriant un jeune marié, avant, on devait sortir les vêtements tachés de sang de la femme si l'acte accompli ».

Cette pratique a disparu mais les blocages restent tenaces. Heureusement, la médecine est là pour soulager la souffrance des femmes.

Haute-couture ou prêt-à-porter

L'hyménoplastie, acte chirurgical qui consiste à recoudre l'hymen avec les muqueuses vaginales est une pratique secrète mais courante. Plusieurs forums sur Internet en parlent ouvertement et les nombreux cabinets de chirurgie plastique qui ont écloés à Alger le font souvent. Certains hôpitaux publics pratiquent aussi l'hyménoplastie et il suffit généralement de connaître un médecin et de le convaincre que c'est une question de vie ou de mort — ce qui est d'ailleurs parfois réellement le cas.

L'opération, qui dure moins d'une heure, coûte entre 100 et 300 euros, et, selon la qualité de l'intervention, la membrane reconstruite ne tient pas longtemps; quelques heures voire quelques jours avant la pénétration. Le docteur Osman*, l'un des pionniers de la chirurgie plastique à Alger, avertit les femmes des risques et complications liés à cette opération souvent faite par des amateurs ou des rebouteux dans la clandestinité.

« En général », explique-t-il, l'opération mal faite « consiste à faire des points de catgut sur les reliquats hyménaux pour recoudre l'hymen la veille de la nuit de nocces ». Cette technique « ne répond pas aux principes de la chirurgie », ajoute le plasticien, « et elle est souvent vouée à l'échec ».

Même son de cloche chez cet autre professionnel, « l'hyménoplastie, tel comme dans le monde entier », explique le docteur Sadij, chirurgien plasticien qui reçoit des dizaines de clientes désespérées chaque semaine en ce moment, « est une véritable opération de chirurgie qui doit être effectuée par un chirurgien qualifié, dans des conditions spécifiques d'hygiène et de sécurité, dans un bloc chirurgical ».

En dehors du risque médical pur (infection ou hémorragie), les complications sont souvent liées la membrane qui se déchire sur un simple faux mouvement ou pure, à ces fils qui ne se résorbent pas assez vite et qui sautent aux yeux du jeune marié trop regardant. La complication n'est plus médicale mais devient juridique. En général, l'affaire se termine en divorce sur le délit de « tromperie sur la marchandise ».

La virginité pour toutes les bourses

Tout le monde ne connaît pas de médecin et chacune

ne pas forcément les moyens de se payer ce genre d'opération. Souvent aussi, par pudeur, les femmes préfèrent ne pas recourir à cette pratique ouverte d'habitude, la ou un faux acte de virginité peut suffire.

Pour 50-100 euros on peut s'en procurer un après des nombreux faux saires installés dans le secteur des l'approche de l'été, ou directement chez certains gynécologues, tolérants et compréhensifs, ou simplement attirés par l'appât du gain facile. La pratique est devenue tellement courante que d'après le quotidien Bchourouk, une enquête vient d'ailleurs d'être ouverte par les services de sécurité sur le sujet, liée aux cas de plus en plus nombreux de demandes de divorce sur constat de non virginité (avec faux certificat).

Pour les plus pauvres des pauvres et celles qui n'ont aucunement l'envie de passer par un médecin ou un faussaire, heureusement, la nature est bien faite et les hymens ne sont pas les mêmes. Fins, solides, saignants ou bien tauts il y a autant d'hymens que de femmes et les hommes savent que tout n'est pas standardisé dans l'anatomie féminine.

« On s'enlève les seins avec une lame », explique Sarah, une jeune femme qui a subi ce genre de procédure. « Avec la pression de la pénétration, ça saigne et l'homme n'y voit rien, il préfère d'ailleurs ne pas trop voir cette partie de notre corps ».

Mariée, depuis quelques mois, elle explique que l'on « peut aussi se couper le doigt et se toucher au bon moment ». Les risques sont différents « il faut être discrète et aimante ou alors paniquée et incohérente ». Il y a bien sûr d'autres méthodes non chirurgicales et non bureaucratiques, la plus courante étant d'attendre le moment de ses règles pour convenir du premier rapport sur le mode « non chéri, je ne suis pas encore prête ». La aussi, il faut avoir affaire à un homme inexpérimenté. L'hymen est-il sacré? Pas vraiment, mais il faut faire semblant, explique encore Sarah.

Five-Year Financial Outlook

Proprietary Departments

This section of the Five-Year Financial Outlook focuses on our major proprietary departments. Economic drivers impact the cost of providing these services, as well as the utilization of these services. Future capital needs for these functions also impact the five-year outlook significantly.

Public Works (Solid Waste Management)

Collection Fund

The Collections Fund is comprised of garbage and trash collection operations. The County collects garbage and trash in the Waste Collection Service Area (WCSA), which includes the Unincorporated Municipal Service Area (UMSA) and nine municipalities (City of Aventura, the City of Doral, the City of Miami Gardens, the City of Sunny Isles Beach, the City of Sweetwater, the Town of Cutler Bay, the Town of Miami Lakes, the Village of Palmetto Bay and the Village of Pinecrest), serving approximately 322,000 residential customers in FY 2011-12. The programmed level of residential service is one of the broadest in the Southeastern Region, providing curbside collection of garbage twice-per-week, unlimited access to any of 13 Trash and Recycling Centers located throughout UMSA (open seven days each week), and twice-per-year, on-demand collection of bulky waste up to 25 cubic yards per pick-up. The Collection Operations represents approximately 45 percent of the total tonnage projected to be received at County disposal facilities in FY 2011-12.

The residential recycling collection program serves more than 343,000 households which include the unincorporated area, the nine cities in the WCSA and 12 other municipalities serviced through interlocal agreements in FY 2011-12. The programmed level of service maintains bi-weekly recycling collection utilizing three recycling contracts through which two provide collection services and one processing and marketing of the materials.

Collection Fund Outlook

The ongoing challenge in Collection Operations is to continue delivering service at the current level, which has consistently produced one of the highest customer satisfaction ratings for County services, and to accommodate growth in the community with a fixed rate structure. Within the five-year projection, personnel costs are budgeted to include adjustments consistent with collective bargaining agreements and savings from the Florida Retirement System contribution. Operating expenditures, such as disposal charges, fuel and fleet costs and all other operating costs are assumed to increase at a rate of two or three percent each year, while many other line items are either reduced or maintained at a flat level. This projection also incorporates $36.12 million for prior debt service requirements, $4.48 million of pay-as-you-go capital projects, and $61.94 million of fleet purchases to maintain and expand the system over the next five years from fiscal years 2011-12 through 2015-16.

Five-Year Financial Outlook

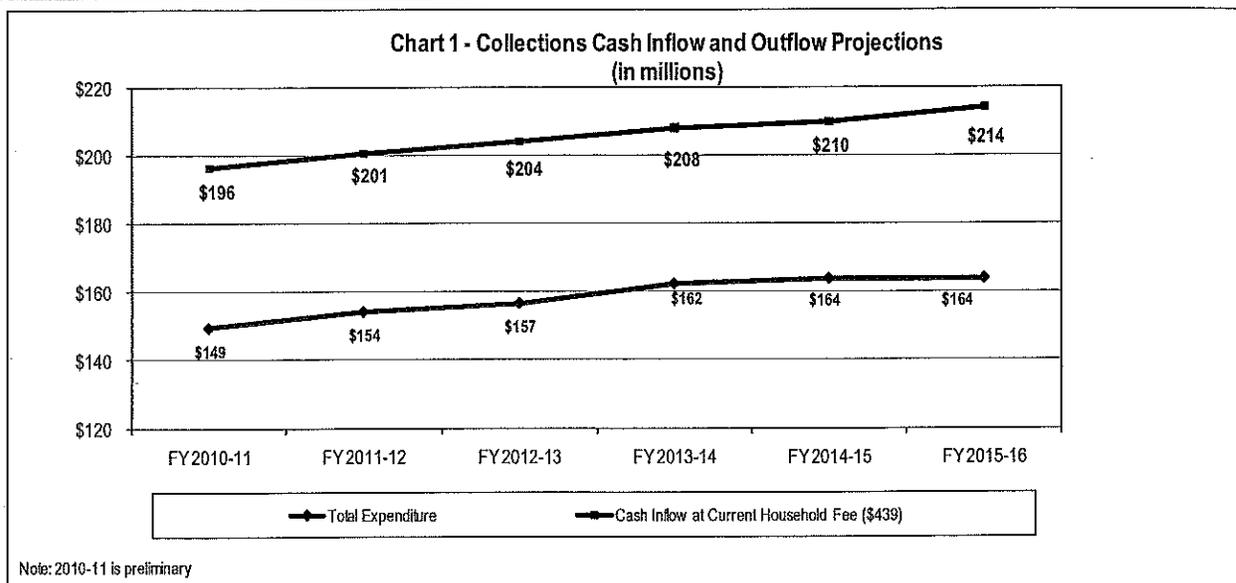

Chart 1 provides a preliminary cash inflow and outflow forecast for the Collection Fund for FY 2010-11 year-end through FY 2015-16. The outlook for future years of cash inflow assumes minimum household growth as reflected in the recent slowed economic growth, with no fee increase proposed. Based on these assumptions, the Collections Fund revenues are sustainable through FY 2015-16. The Department is exploring changes to the fee structure associated with additional cart service at residences and other collection operations.

Disposal Fund

The main components of the Disposal system are Transfer Operations which include three regional transfer stations Northeast, Central, and West, and Disposal Operations, which has four active facilities: the Resources Recovery Facility, the adjacent Ashfill, the South Miami-Dade Landfill, and the North Miami-Dade Landfill.

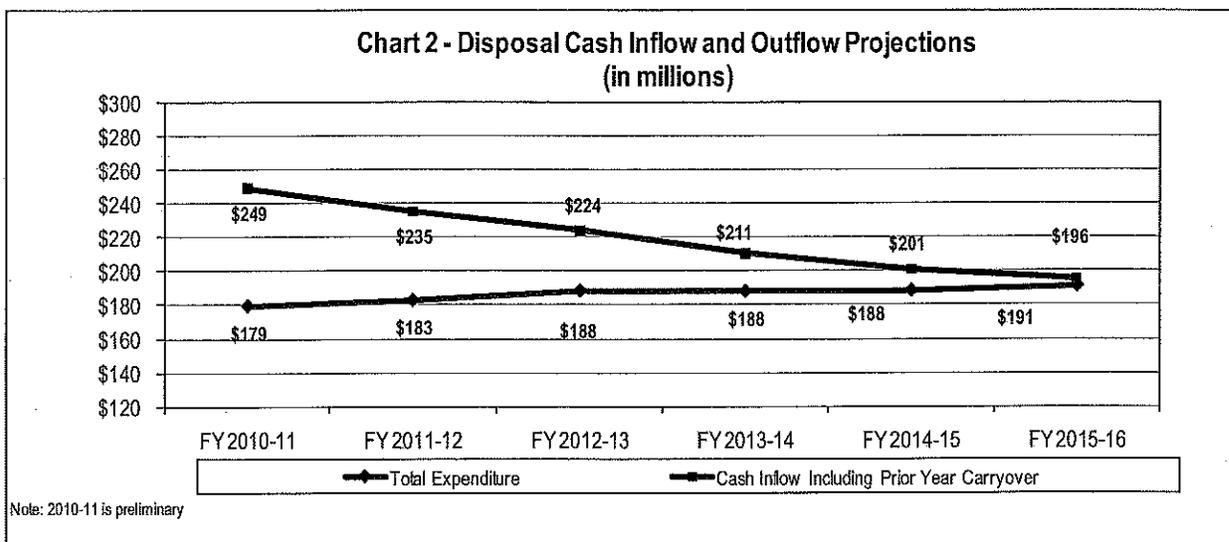

The County also administers a contract with a private firm to utilize either the Medley Landfill or the Pompano Landfill to maintain landfill capacity. Transfer Operations is projected to handle approximately 515,000 tons of waste in FY 2010-11, which is a seven percent reduction from FY 2009-10. Disposal Operations is projected to handle approximately 1.448 million tons of waste in FY 2010-11, an eight percent decrease from FY 2009-10. The total tonnage handled by Disposal Operations comes from the County's Collection Operations, contract and non-contract private haulers, partnering municipalities, and permitted landscapers. The decline in tonnage is primarily attributable to the downturn in the economy and is assumed to continue in FY 2011-12.

Disposal Fund Outlook

The Disposal Fund projection incorporates the same assumptions used in the Collections Fund projection for personnel and operating costs. Disposal Fund projections, shown in Chart 2, indicate revenues will meet expenditures in FY 2015-16, however, the department will look for further efficiencies and utilize the rate stabilization fund to maintain the Disposal fund throughout the term of this analysis. The revenue streams are supported by an indexed inflation, adjusted annually by the Consumer Price Index (CPI) South All Urban Consumers. FY 2011-12, revenue is anticipated at two percent, projected to increase one percent to three percent each year thereafter. This projection incorporates $93.80 million of debt service requirements, $26.09 million of pay-as-you-go capital projects and $20.74 million of heavy equipment purchases to maintain and expand the system over the next five years from fiscal years 2011-12 through FY 2015-16. In addition, $19.11 million of new bonds are anticipated to fund various capital projects to be issued throughout the future years.

The challenge within the next five years for the Disposal fund will be to reduce expenditures, while increasing revenue initiatives to mitigate anticipated shortfalls, and to offset the loss of annual disposal capacity as a result of the anticipated closure of the North Miami-Dade Landfill in FY 2012-13, while maintaining the disposal level of service capacity required under state growth management rule of law. The Resources Recovery Facility will absorb a portion of this waste, however, without any other alternatives the County will have to increase the usage of contracted capacity at external facilities, thus having an undetermined, but likely detrimental impact on future operating costs in Disposal. To mitigate these challenges, the Department is exploring options which include the strategic closing of Transfer Stations or the reduction of operating hours, targeted fee increases, and less reliance on private contracted disposal facilities. These changes would likely maintain the fiscal integrity of disposal operations through the time period of the Five Year Financial Outlook but may impact the service provided to the users of the system.

Combined Results

Table 1 summarizes the resulting net cash inflow/outflow outcomes by fund, on a combined basis, including carryover from year to year and assumes the Collections fee remains flat at $439. However, additional rate and operational adjustments may be required in future years to maintain a strong, long-term fiscal outlook.

Table 2: Projected Debt Service Coverage through Fiscal Year 2014-15

Debt Service Coverage	FY 2010-11	FY 2011-12	FY 2012-13	FY 2013-14	FY 2014-15	FY 2015-16

With Use of Rate Stabilization Fund	186%	202%	229%	238%	234%	247%

Note: In accordance with financial covenants, net operating revenue must cover one hundred and twenty percent (120%) of the principal and interest requirements on the senior lien debt for such fiscal year.

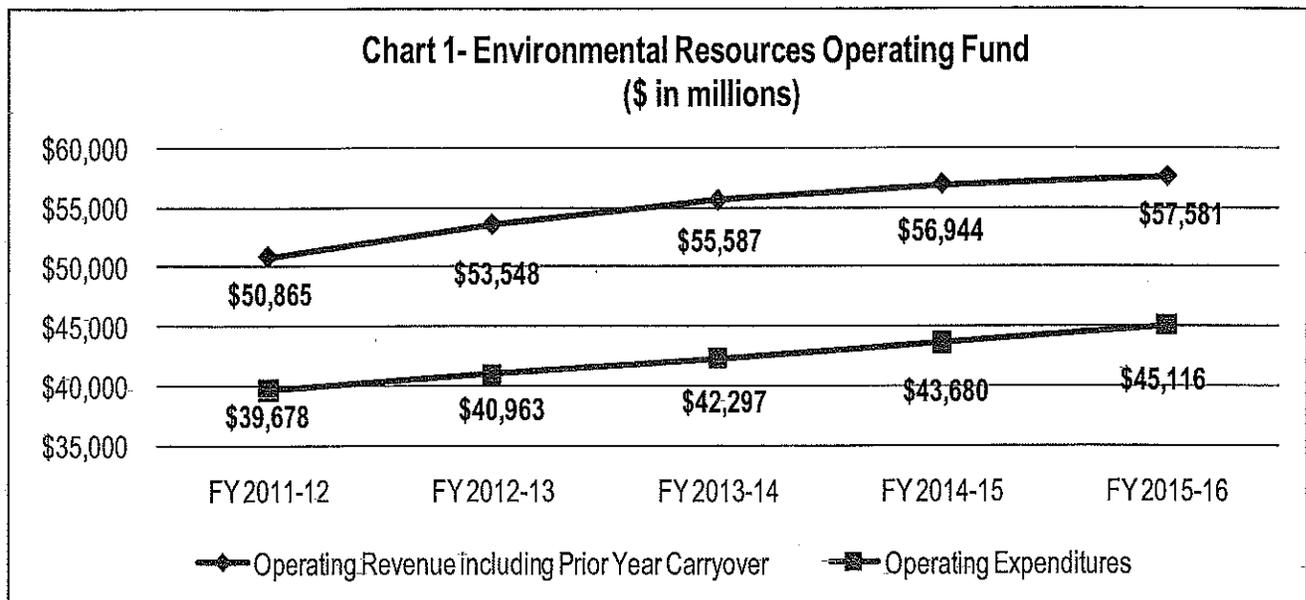

Table 2 provides projected debt service coverage, utilizing operating expenditures only, with and without the use of the rate stabilization fund over the same period. The required 120 percent coverage on senior lien debt is met through the term of this analysis with the use of the rate stabilization fund.

Permitting, Environment and Regulatory Affairs (Environmental Resources Management)

With the environmental permit fee increase that was implemented in FY 2009-10, the function is expected to cover inflationary and cost of living adjustments over the next five years to its environmental services. For the last few years, a downward trend in the amount of building permits and other environmental plan reviews service requests submitted has been experienced. Operating permit renewals have remained constant from prior years.

The Five-Year Outlook continues the current level of service and assumes operating permit and plan review revenues will grow at two and one half percent for the entire outlook. The Utility Service Fee is expected to grow at one percent for the entire outlook. The Five-Year Outlook takes into account a reduction of three positions in FY 2011-12 resulting from the efforts to realign and consolidate operating functions. The Environmental Resources Operating Fund projections shown in Chart 1 indicate that operating revenue, including prior carryover will be sufficient to meet the operating expenditures thought the scope of this plan.

Five-Year Financial Outlook

Stormwater Utility Fund

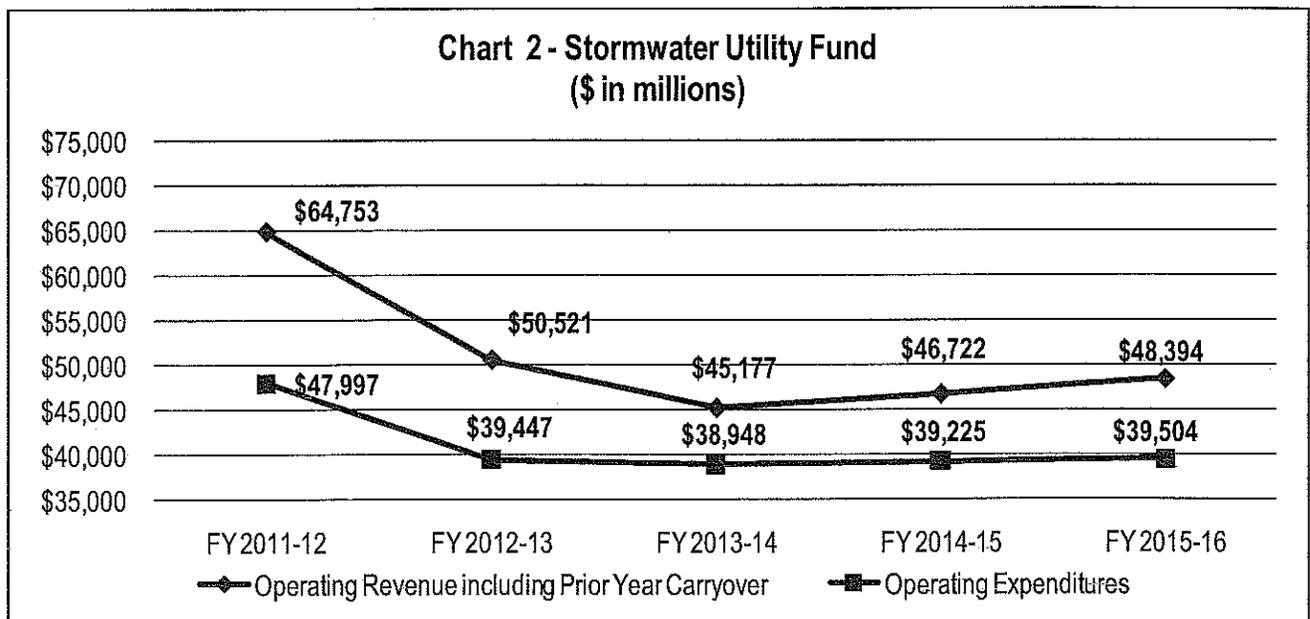

The County collects fees for the Stormwater Utility from all residential developed property and all non-residential property in Miami-Dade County. Under Chapter 24 of the Code of Miami-Dade County, these fees shall be used exclusively to pay for the costs of planning, constructing, operating and maintaining stormwater management systems set forth in the local program required by Florida Statutes.

In FY 2011-12, the Stormwater Utility Fee will remain at the same rate of $4.00 monthly per one equivalent residential unit (ERU) as in prior years and will be able to maintain the current level of environmental services by the department.

Stormwater Utility Fee Outlook

The Five-Year outlook has been prepared to continue delivery of services at the current level with no planned fee increase until FY 2014-15. The planned increase of $0.75 monthly per ERU in FY 2014-15 will be required to cover anticipated inflationary costs and cost of living adjustments. It assumes that revenues will grow at one percent for the entire outlook. The Five-Year Outlook assumes operating expenditures for planning and design, billing and collections, construction management, and maintenance will grow at one percent, and expects debt service payments to remain constant for the entire planning horizon. Additionally, it assumes the completion of high priority infrastructure capital improvements in the next years will lead to the decrease of the total available funding. The Stormwater Utility Fund projections shown in Chart 2 indicate that revenue, including prior carryover will be sufficient to meet the operating and capital expenditures over the five year period.

Five-Year Financial Outlook

Miami-Dade Water and Sewer Department

The Proposed FY 2011-12 Resource Allocation Plan includes no retail rate adjustments for the Miami-Dade Water and Sewer Department (WASD). Water and sewer rates for the average retail customer for FY 2011-12 and FY 2012-13 will remain unchanged. The Maintenance Index, which is based on the United States Department of Labor Statistics annual Consumer Price Index (CPI), All Urban Consumers, Water and Sewer Maintenance index will be evaluated annually and used as a benchmark in the process of establishing the proposed retail rate adjustment for FY 2013-14 through FY 2015-16. Rate increases are not applied to the retail lifeline (low volume users) customer. Rate increases assumed in future years will be required to fund the Multi-Year Capital Improvement Plan estimated at $6.8 billion in capital projects for regulatory compliance, aging infrastructure, plant rehabilitation and day-to-day rehabilitation activities to continue treating wastewater and pumping water to meet the needs of Miami-Dade County residents. This analysis does not include the impact of the proposed collective bargaining concessions. WASD will continue to work with OMB to evaluate the need for and timing of future bond issuances which impacts the need for future rate increases considerably.

For FY 2011-12, water wholesale rate per thousand gallons will remain at $1.7142. The City of Hialeah's water wholesale rate per thousand gallons will increase from $1.6332, to include the fourth year of the five-year phase-out of the City of Hialeah transmission credit. Sewer wholesale rate per thousand gallons will be adjusted to a revenue neutral average rate of $2.1528 from $2.0436. Future water and sewer wholesale revenues are projected to increase by five percent leaving customer growth and consumption unchanged. Wholesale rate adjustments are based on the budgeted requirements and include an annual true-up methodology of the ending audited fiscal year to recover cost.

As mentioned above, assumed rate increases are critical to fund plant and infrastructure (pipe) rehabilitation, replacements and upgrading of undersized water mains throughout the water distribution system to meet utility standards. The water system infrastructure averages 45 years with the oldest pipes in the system dating back to the mid 1920's. In FY 2010, WASD experienced 1,899 breaks resulting in 15.8 billion gallons of water loss. Similarly, the wastewater infrastructure averages 55 years with the oldest pipes in the system dating back to 1934. In FY 2010 the department experienced an average of 127 breaks and 24.9 million gallons of raw sewage spilled.

WASD has identified the need to replace or rehabilitate 2,594 miles of the total 5,758 miles of pipe. This is 45 percent of the infrastructure, at an estimated cost of $6 billion dollars. Similarly, the department has identified 160 miles of sewage pipeline that needs to be replaced or rehabilitated at an estimated cost of $1 billion dollars. The Central District Wastewater Treatment Plant, built in the 1950s processes the largest volume of sewer flows for the Department on a daily basis; the plant's age and approximation to the Atlantic Ocean continues to require extensive equipment and structural repairs to meet operational demands and regulatory requirements.

Additional resources will be required to operate the High-Level Disinfection (HLD) process at South District Wastewater Treatment Plant and the Reverse Osmosis Water Plant. Initial operational costs for both projects, including the hiring of operational staff are included in FY 2011-12.

The Five-Year Financial Outlook takes into consideration the conservation programs that the County has agreed to implement pursuant to the 20-Year Water Use Permit issued in 2007 by the South Florida Management District. The cumulative impact of the conservation programs to the per capita usage is estimated to be a 4.5 percent usage reduction over the five-year planning horizon.

The Five-Year Financial Outlook assumes a weighted average annual percentage growth of 3.5 percent for operating expenditures through FY 2015-16. Additionally, the Department's Multi-Year Capital Plan is proposing to issue $198 million of new bonds in FY 2013-14 (April 2014), $419 million in FY 2014-15 and $399 million in FY 2015-16. In coordination with the Office of Management and Budget and the Finance Department, the Department will develop a payment schedule that will smooth out the effect of this financing through the life of the bonds. WASD is estimating that the payment schedule for these new bonds will require an additional $6.9 million in related debt service in FY 2014-15 and $28.5 million in FY 2015-16 (See Chart 1: Water and Sewer Debt Service Funding Requirements). This Financial Outlook does not include resources to fund the department's currently unfunded projects totaling $7.5 billion, which includes $2.4 billion for Ocean Outfall mandated projects, $1.7 billion for 20-Year Water Use Permit projects, and $3.4 billion for delayed and deferred infrastructure projects.

In this budgetary forecast both primary and subordinate debt service coverage and the State Revolving Loan debt service coverage will meet the coverage requirements (See Chart 4: Primary Debt Service Coverage Ratio and Chart 5: State Revolving Loan Debt Service Coverage Ratio). As stated in the March 30, 2011 Evaluation of MD-WASD Bond Capacity Report, without proposed future revenue increases, the Department may fail to meet its cash flow requirements, fall short of meeting its debt service requirements and experience major cash flow shortages. WASD will assess water and wastewater rate adjustments annually to accommodate increasing operating and maintenance expenditures and to fund unfunded capital projects. In addition, future revenue adjustments may be necessary to maintain adequate cash reserves as prescribed by the bond rating agencies and financial institutions (See Chart 2 and Chart 3).

Five-Year Financial Outlook

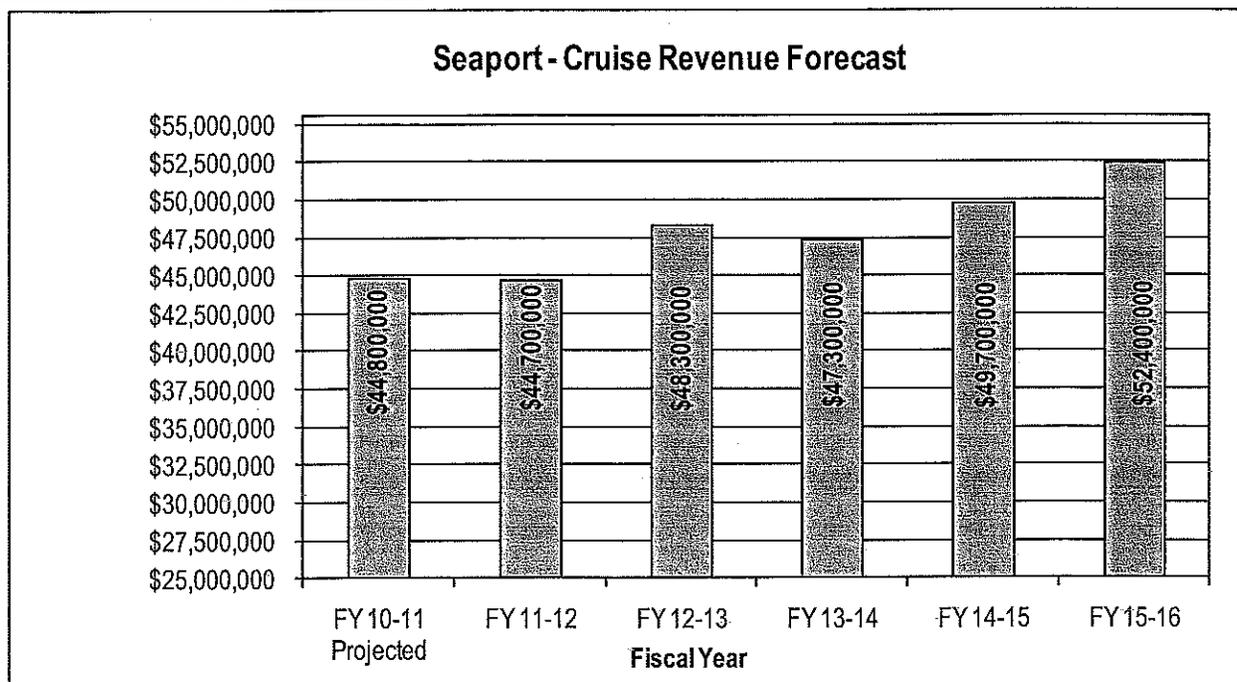

Port of Miami

The Cruise Industry

The Dante B. Fascell Port of Miami-Dade County (POM) is a major economic engine generating approximately $17 billion in economic activity in the South Florida region annually. A diverse group of cruise lines provides an array of cruise destinations and choices, from the larger vessels Carnival/Costa Cruises Lines, Royal Caribbean/Celebrity Cruise/Azamara Line and Norwegian Cruise Line to the mid-size upscale Oceania and Crystal lines. During FY 2010-11, the POM projects to embark and disembark approximately 4.0 million passengers.

A new amendment to the Carnival Corporation Cruise Terminal Agreement was executed in May 2011, providing Carnival incentives to Home Port the new "Carnival Breeze" in Miami beginning in the fall of 2012. This vessel will bring an anticipated net increase of 250,000 new passengers beginning in Fiscal Year 2013. This amendment will increase estimated revenues to the County by a range of $1.15 to $2.1 million annually.

Five-Year Financial Outlook

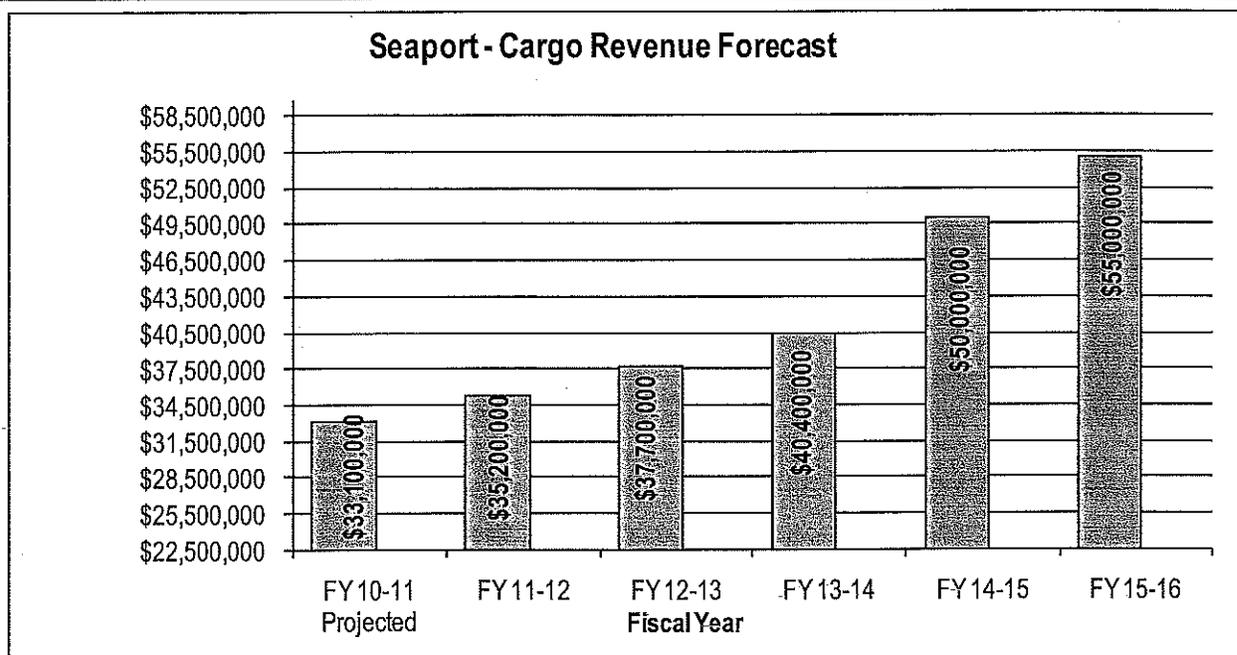

In FY 2013-14 there is a slight decline of cruise revenue due to concessions given by one of the cruise partners that is set to expire.

The Cargo Industry

During FY 2010-11, the Port is expected to throughput nearly 880,000 TEUs or 5% over the previous year. Future cargo revenue is based on anticipated cargo tariffs per agreements with a 20 percent growth expected in FY 2014-15 coinciding with the widening of the Panama Canal and completion of the Port's deep dredging project.

The Department provides incentive discounts that will assist the Port of Miami to improve its competitive outlook and strategically position the Port for additional cargo sector growth by encouraging shipping lines to initiate new services or relocate their existing services from other seaport. Thru competitive new business retention incentives the Department was able to retain the Grand Alliance Service that generated in excess of $1.2 million of annual revenue to the Port. In April 27, 2011, the Grand Alliance new SCE-1 Service joined the GAX service at the port. In April 2011, Orient Overseas Container Line (OOCL) introduced its new Atlantic Gulf Mexico (AGM) containerized service at the Port of Miami. The Port of Miami is the only South Florida port of call for the AGM service which links North Europe to Mexico and the United States South Atlantic and Gulf coasts.

Five-Year Financial Outlook

Port Safety and Security

Security enhancements continue to be among the most significant programs underway at the Port of Miami. Ninety-five percent of US international cargo traffic is waterborne, making port safety a priority. The Maritime Transportation Security Act (MTSA) of 2002 established security requirements to protect the nation's ports and waterways against terrorist attacks, as well as a series of measures that vessels, seaports and other shore facilities must implement. Among the regulations included in MTSA are: passenger, baggage and vehicle screening procedures; security patrols; establishing restricted areas; personnel identification procedures; access control measures; and/or installation of surveillance equipment. The Port is MTSA compliant and is recognized as one of the State of Florida's most secure ports.

As a result of the amendment of Florida Statute 311.12, that address the duplicative security requirements mandated by both state and federal government, the Port is now revising the requirements for seaports to update its security plan, consistent with federal requirements. The Port's expenses for security related operations, including the credentialing section, was $19.5 million for FY 2009-10, are projected to be $20.0 million in FY 2010-11 and are budgeted at $20.5 million for FY 2011-2012. It is anticipated that the revision to the Seaport's facility security plan with result in significant additional savings in security related operating and capital expenditures.

Capital Improvement Plan Financial Update

With some 23,000 vehicles presently entering and exiting the Port daily, by the year 2020 the daily number of vehicles traveling on Port Boulevard is projected to be 35,000 to 40,000. To address future traffic demands, the Florida Department of Transportation, Miami-Dade County and the City of Miami, have reached agreement for financial participation in a Port of Miami

Tunnel project. The agreement calls for the state to fund 50 percent of the capital costs associated with the tunnel's construction (which equates to $457 million of $914 million), and 100 percent of the tunnel's operating and maintenance costs over its life-time (including the term of the concessionaire operating agreement). The local governments are required to pay a 50 percent match for capital expenses. The County has agreed to fund up to $402 million through cash and right of way contributions. Of the County's contribution, the Seaport will provide $45 million in necessary right of way and a cash contribution of $55 million. In addition, the Port would be responsible for a potential contingency charge of up to $100 million. The tunnel is expected to be operational by FY 2014.

Passenger growth has challenged the Port's cruise infrastructure. In anticipation of the needs and expectation of continued growth, the Seaport strives to offer its customers modern, safe and efficient passenger facilities. During FY 2009-10 the Port completed major upgrades to Terminals B & C ($17.9 million) to handle increased Norwegian Cruise Lines (NCL) berthings including the "EPIC", a new class of cruise ships. The Port has completed plans to upgrade Terminals D & E ($15.0 million) to berth the new "Carnival Breeze" which will begin service in November, 2012. Additional improvements totaling $9.0 million to Terminal J will include restroom upgrades, a new elevator, replacing flooring and ticket counters.

To meet the anticipated increase in operations the Port's capital improvements includes enhancements to the container yard ($41.0 million); purchase of additional gantry cranes ($42.0 million); a Seaport tunnel ($55.0 million); new rail intermodal construction ($27.5 million); and Phase III dredging ($165.6 million) which will deepen the south channel from 44 feet to a depth of 50 feet.

Major security related capital projects recently completed include a new Communications, Command and Control Center, C3, for $6.9 million, consolidating various law enforcement agencies, the United States Coast Guard (USCG), Customs and Border Protection (CBP), Miami Dade Police Department and Seaport Security offices; a waterside surveillance system, CCTV cameras and access control updates, primarily funded by the Department of Homeland Security (DHS) grants. Future security items include a port wide Mass Notification System and Disaster Relief Program ($3.0 million).

Five-Year Financial Outlook

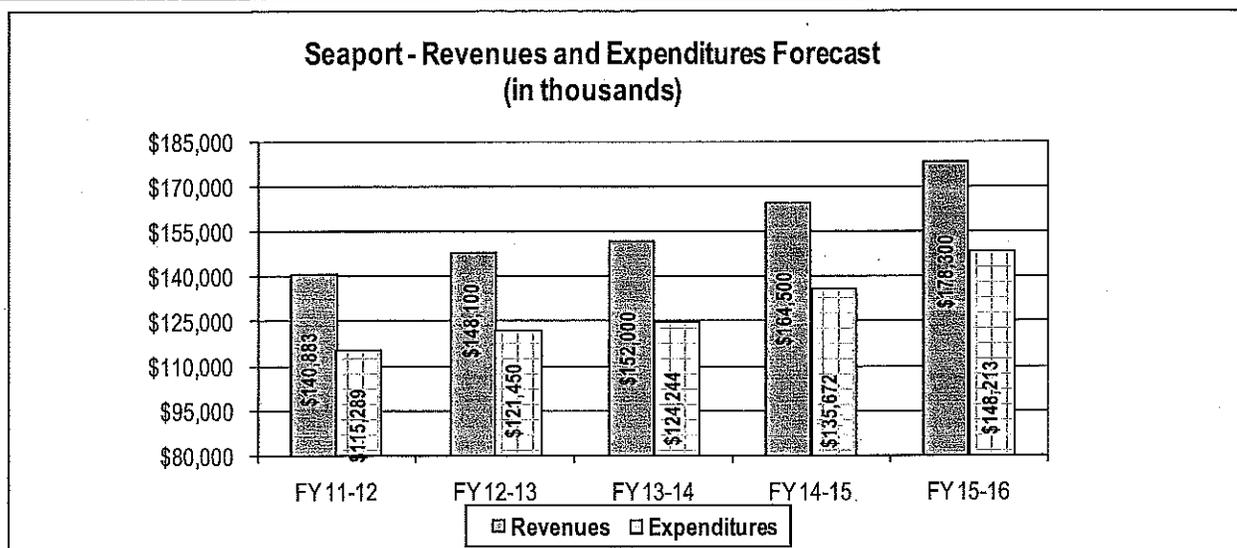

Financial Outlook

The Department recognizes sound management and financial investment strategies as priority outcome. Currently, Seaport Revenue bonds are rated at A3, stable by Moody's. The Department has embarked in converting approximately $330 million of variable interest rate Sunshine State Loans to fixed interest rate. In February 2011, $85.8 million was refinanced, with the remainder targeted to be refinanced within the next 3 years as market conditions improve. This will allow the Department to better prepare long range forecasts as well as reduce exposure from market fluctuations that may negatively impact the Department's ability to meet debt requirements.

For the past six years, the POM has been successful in attracting new cruise and cargo business, in spite of the competitive pressures from neighboring ports, federal and state security mandates and a downturn in the local and national economy. As part of its obligations to bondholders, the Department is required to maintain a two months O&M reserve, which is built into its operating budget. The Department has managed to increase tariff rates for dockage, wharfage and cranes as stipulated contractually, but not increased miscellaneous tariff fees for the past three years, while at the same time building a Reserve Maintenance fund to address deferred maintenance and improvements to its aging facilities.

Five-Year Financial Outlook

Revenues include cruise, cargo, rentals, parking, carryover and other miscellaneous items like harbor fees and ground transportation. Expenditures include salary, fringe, other operating, and debt service but excludes restricted and unrestricted cash reserves. In FY 2011-12, the total reserve is programmed at $25.594 million and includes a restricted reserve of $11.7 million and an unrestricted reserve of $13.894 million that includes county imposed salary concessions that amounted to $2.429 million and a retirement contribution of $1.9 million that was imposed by the State of Florida. Due to the proprietary nature of the Port's operations and a $400 million capital program expansion that is pledged by non property tax supported general fund revenues, a unrestricted reserve of this capacity is required to hedge against any future risk associated with cargo and cruise revenue fluctuations.

For the purposes of this Five Year Financial Outlook, Cruise line revenue forecast is based on cruise lines itineraries coupled with existing agreements through FY 2012-13 and includes an annual three percent increase in passengers and three percent tariff increases thereafter. Cargo throughput is projected to increase annually by four percent, and tariff rates increase by three percent through FY 2013-14 with a projected twenty percent increase in TEUs in FY 2014-15, as a result of the widening of the Panama Canal and the completion of the dredging of the channel to -50 feet (Deep Dredge); other revenues generally assume a three percent annual growth and rate increases. Associated expenditures, excluding mandated two months operating and maintenance cash reserves, assume salary concessions and a retirement contribution in FY 2011-12, flat growth of salaries restoring partial benefits in FY 2012-13 through FY 2013-14, and a growth rate of five percent for salary and fringes thereafter. Other operating expenditures assume a three percent growth rate for the next two years and assumes an increase in expenses to accommodate expected cargo growth in FY 2014-15 and FY 2015-16. Current year and future year borrowings assume amortization of principal and annual interest payments at five percent; existing Sunshine State loans effective interest rate is assumed at 2.5 percent for FY 2011-12 and at 4 percent thereafter, with the intent to refinance the remaining variable rate portion to fixed rate by 2013, contingent upon favorable market conditions. The financial forecast includes an operating reserve at least equal to the required two months operating and maintenance.

Five-Year Financial Outlook

The Seaport is actively examining various revenue options, refinancing opportunities and expense changes that may significantly affect current data used to develop the five year plan. The department is aggressively pursuing other sources of operating revenues. Currently under consideration are concessionaires, management agreements, and advertising opportunities.

Miami-Dade Aviation Department

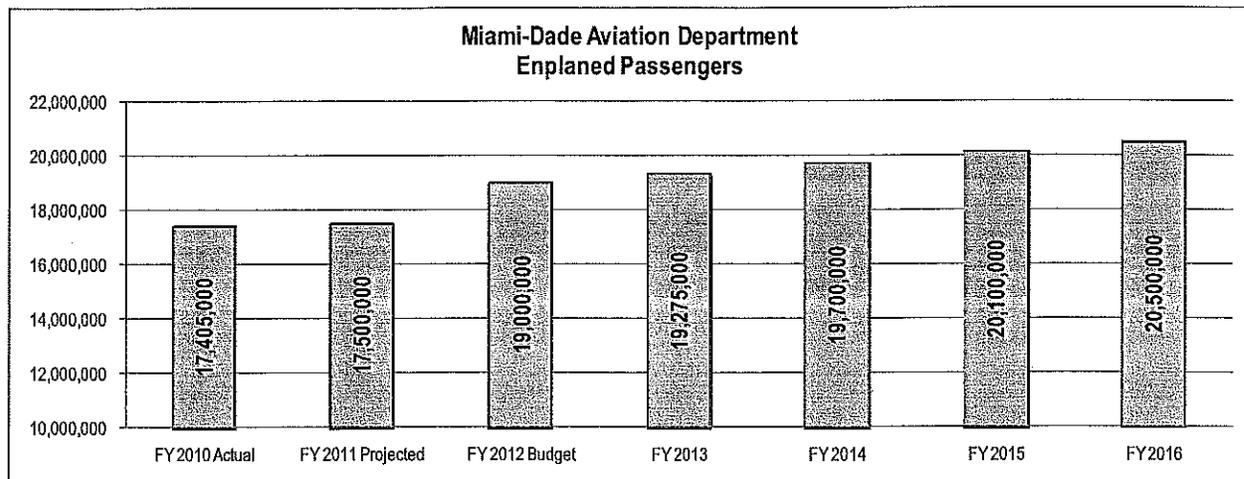

The Miami-Dade Aviation Department (MDAD) operates a system of airports for Miami-Dade County which consists of Miami International Airport (MIA) and four general aviation and training airports: Opa-locka Airport, Kendall-Tamiami Executive Airport, Homestead General Aviation Airport, and Dade-Collier Training & Transition Airport. The Airport System is considered the primary economic engine for Miami-Dade County as well as for South Florida. Over 36,000 people are employed in the Miami-Dade County System of Airports, 1,209 of whom are County employees. An economic impact study released in 2009 reported that MIA and the General Aviation Airports had an annual impact of $26.7 billion. MIA and related aviation industries contribute approximately 282,043 jobs directly and indirectly to the South Florida economy, responsible for one out of every 4.1 jobs. Additionally, the airport system contributed $1.016 billion in state and local taxes, and $654.9 million of federal aviation tax revenue.

Enplaned Passengers

A diverse group of airlines provides scheduled passenger service at the Airport including 13 U.S. airlines and 34 foreign-flag carriers in FY 2010-11. It is projected that during FY 2011-12, 19,000 million enplaned passengers will transit through MIA, representing a 8.5 percent increase over FY 2010-11 when 17,500 million enplaned passengers are projected to move through MIA. Similarly domestic traffic for enplaned and deplaned passengers is projected to increase 2.5 percent in FY 2011-12 to 19,735 million from FY 2010-11 figure of 19,253 million passengers. Domestic traffic represents 52 percent of MIA total passengers while international traffic is projected at 48 percent or 17,996 million passengers, up three percent from the previous year.

In international air travel, MIA's geographical location, close proximity to cruise port, and cultural ties provide a solid foundation for travel to and from Latin America, handling 47 percent of the South American market, 31 percent of Central America and 29 percent of the Caribbean market. With 47 percent of total passenger traffic being international, MIA ranks second (preliminary rankings) in the USA for international passenger traffic and maintains one of the highest international-to-domestic passenger ratios of any U.S. airport.

Five-Year Financial Outlook

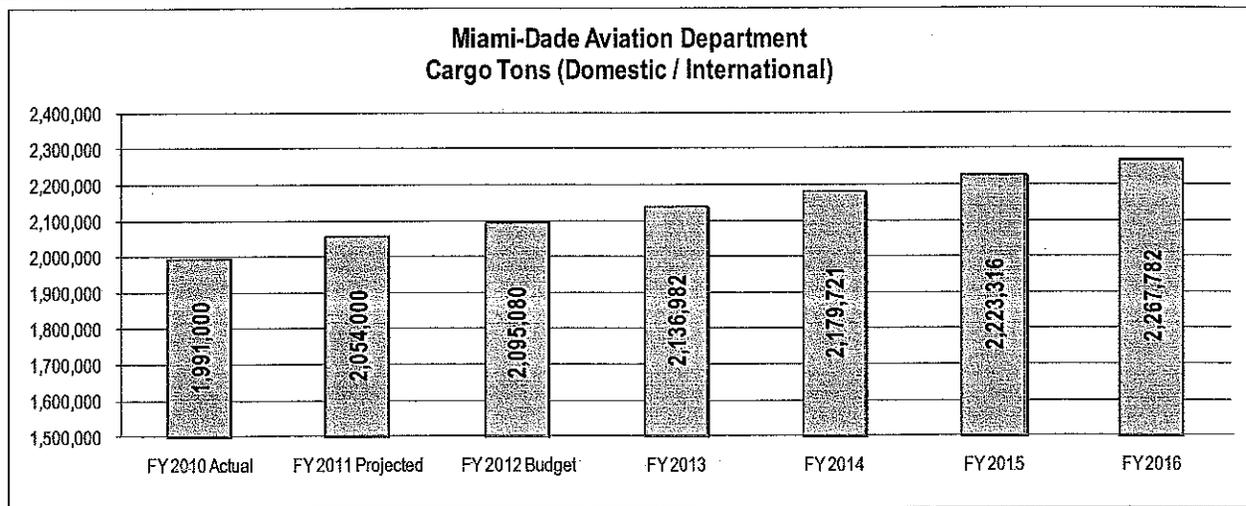

Cargo

In international trade, MIA is the major air cargo trans-shipment point between Latin America and the Caribbean, and other global markets primarily in the USA and Europe, ranking number one in the USA for international freight. Freight tonnage is projected at 2.054 million in FY 2010-11, resulting in an increase of 3 percent above the prior's year's tonnage of 1.991 million. The cargo tonnage is projected to increase by two percent in FY 2011-12 to 2.095 million tons and maintain the same growth rate thereafter. International tonnage, representing 88 percent of total tonnage is projected to be 1.844 million tons in FY 2011-12 and domestic tonnage is projected at 251,000 tons. It is projected that these amounts will grow proportionally at the two percent growth factor.

MIA's total air trade is valued at nearly $50.7 billion annually, or 96 percent of the dollar value of Florida's total air imports and exports, and 41 percent of the State's total (air and sea) trade with the world. As the center for hemispheric air trade, MIA now handles 83 percent of all air imports and 81 percent of all air exports between the United States and the Latin American/Caribbean region. MIA is the USA's leading airport in the handling of perishable products, handling 69 percent of all perishable products, 89 percent of all cut-flower imports, 51 percent of all fish imports, and 73 percent of all fruit and vegetable imports.

MIA's cargo facility development program that began in 1992 has been completed, providing the Airport with over 2.7 million square feet of space in 17 new cargo buildings. Apron space has grown to over 3.8 million square feet, capable of handling 17 B747s or 38 DC-10F's.

Five-Year Financial Outlook

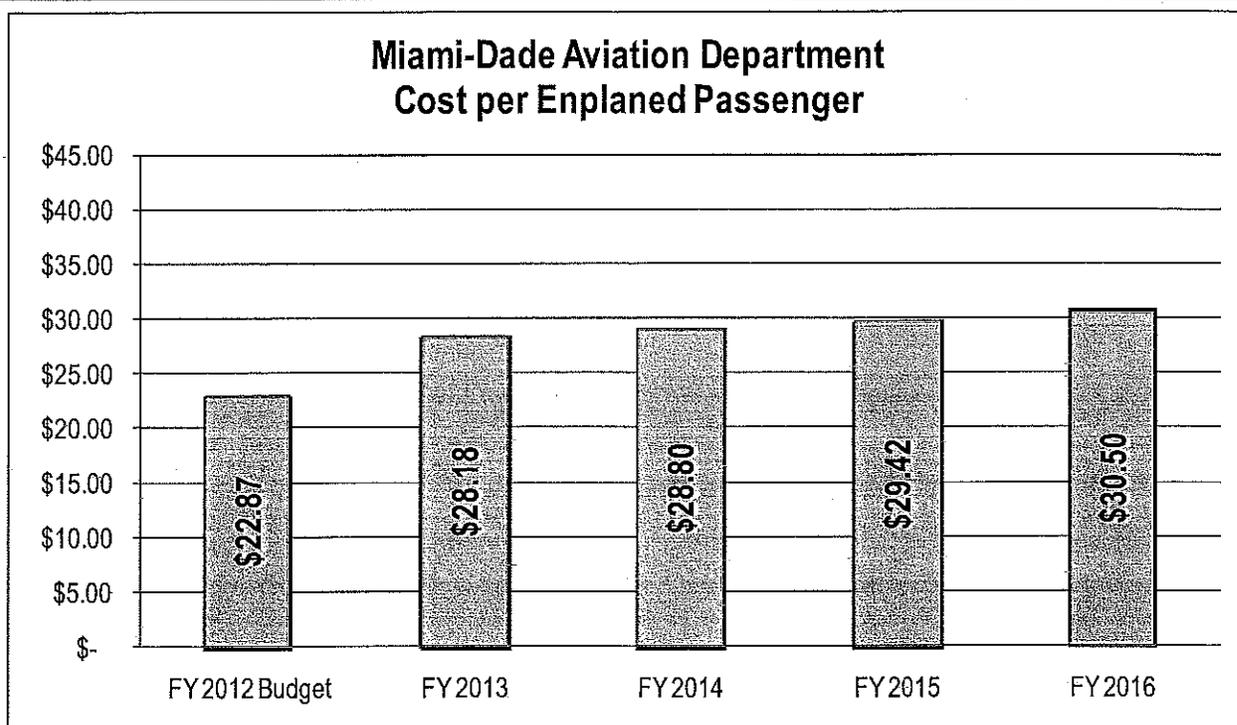

CIP Financial Update

The overall purpose of the CIP is to accommodate future MIA growth (e.g., MIA Mover) and to make the Airport more efficient from an airline operational perspective (e.g., North Terminal). The CIP is funded primarily by long term debt, to be paid from charges to the airlines, supplemented by grants and limited other pay-as-you-go revenues. MDAD will be winding down its $6.568 billion dollar expansion program with most core projects nearing completion or completed in FY 2011-12.

Besides increased passenger traffic, the Department also plans to mitigate the cost increases in the future with reductions in operating expenses. A goal has been established to reduce these expenses by 20 percent over five years. The Department's ultimate goal is to meet a $35 airline cost per enplaned passenger target by FY 2014-15, which represents a target internally adopted by the Department so as to keep the Airport competitive with other airports and affordable to the air carriers serving MIA.

Five-Year Financial Outlook

Safety and Security

MDAD strives to operate a system of airports that provides for the safe and comfortable movement of people and goods in efficient and attractive facilities while offering competitive prices to all users. With the current threat against civil aviation, the Miami-Dade County System of Airports has been faced with an ever-growing number of security directives and restraints on passenger activities. MDAD has reacted promptly to meet the deadlines imposed and has adjusted staff assignments and used outside MDPD resources when possible to minimize overtime costs in an effort to respond to these requirements. Other issues require continuing dialogue with the Department of Homeland Security (DHS) and members of Congress to secure funding for federal security mandates, as well as ensuring that the DHS officials, and the policies they create, recognize the unique features of MIA, its passengers and the greater Miami community. MDAD continues to work with DHS to achieve an effective balance between implementing necessary security measures and protecting and expanding MIA's air service operations and the associated economic impact.

Following the tragic events of September 11, 2001, the Transportation Security Administration (TSA) was tasked by Congress to deploy security equipment for detecting explosives in passenger baggage. MDAD has worked with TSA on a viable long-term solution to efficiently screen passenger checked baggage by installing Explosive Detection System (EDS) in-line with MIA's baggage conveyor system. The TSA has committed $77 million to offset the cost of an inline EDS.

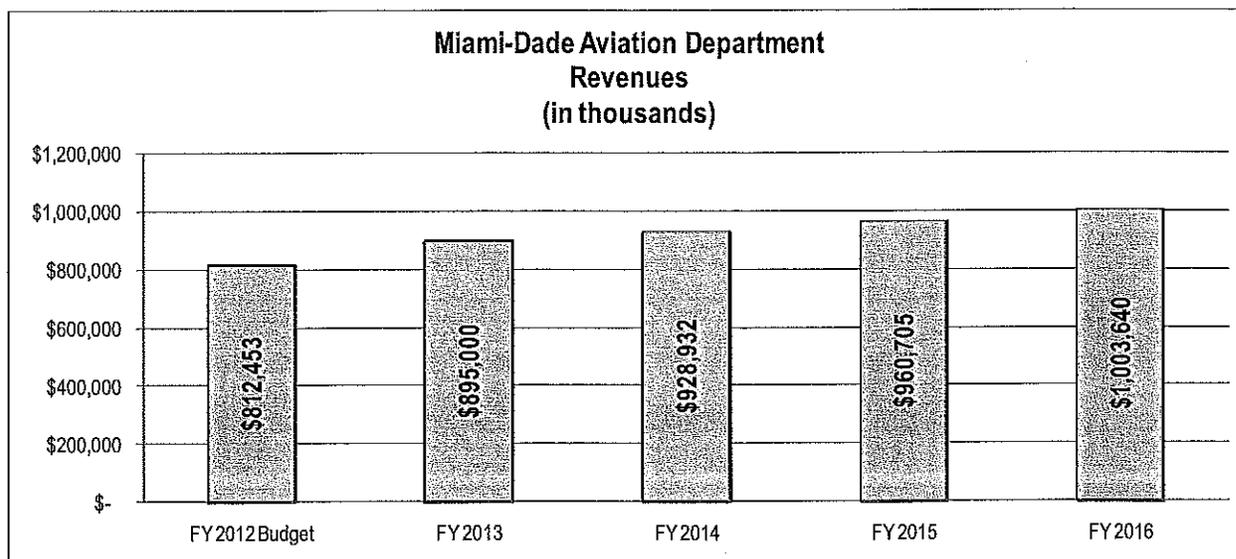

Five-Year Financial Outlook

Economic Outlook

MDAD recognizes sound management and financial investment strategies as a priority outcome. Currently, the Department's bonds are rated at A2 by Moody's, A- by Standard & Poor's, and A by Fitch Ratings. All of the rating agencies cite MIA's role as the nation's largest international gateway to Latin America as an important strength.

Traffic has continued to grow from FY 2002 through FY 2008. In FY 2008-09 and FY 2009-10, MDAD experienced a leveling off of traffic consistent with consolidation of the airline industry due to economic conditions worldwide. The Department has assumed an 8.5 percent growth rate in the FY 2012 Budget over the FY 2011 projected enplaned passengers, but will be evaluating and revising this figure during the summer. Passenger Facility Charges (PFC), imposed per passenger to provide revenues to pay debt service for approved projects within the CIP, have generated $778.5 million since its inception in October 2001. MDAD is authorized to collect $2.757 billion including interest, before the authorization expires on October 1, 2037.

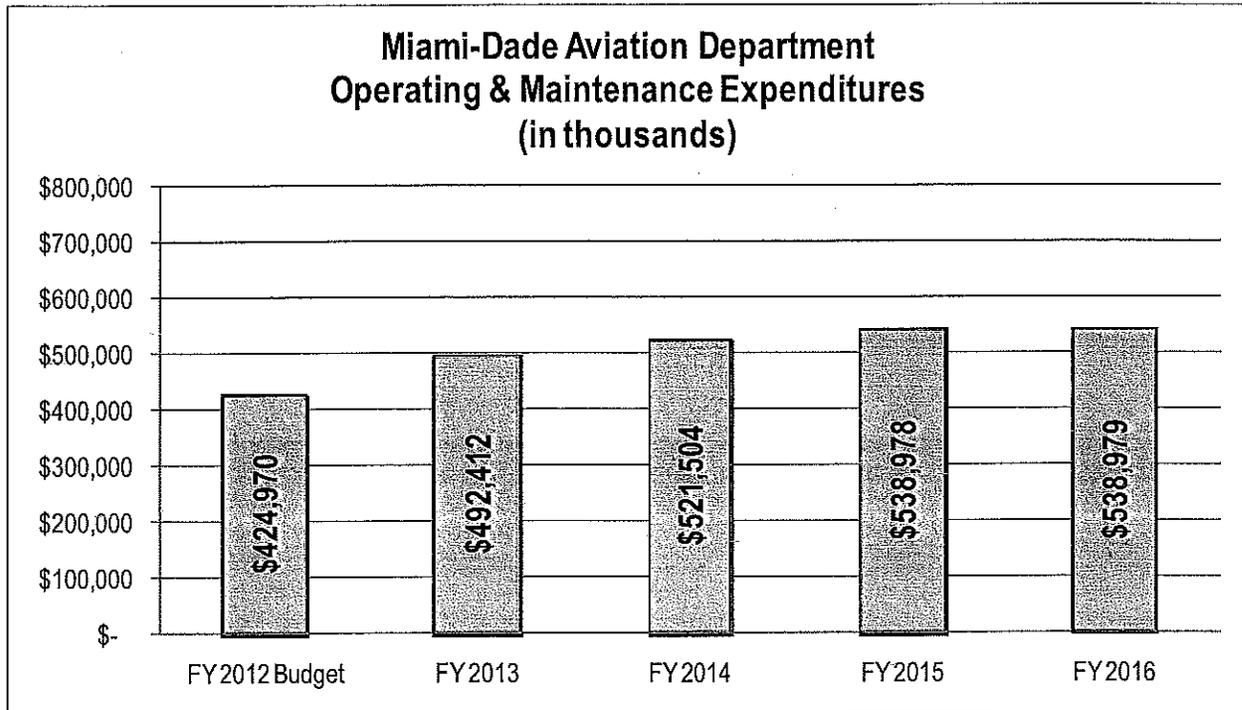

The airline rates and charges at MIA have continued to increase due to the issuance of additional debt required for the department's ongoing Capital Improvement Program. The department is making herculean efforts to increase its ranking as a major airport system as exemplified in its "WE MEAN BUSINESS" Campaign, a five-year plan to refine and improve the department's goals and measures, consistent with its management strategy to increase efficiency, streamline operations, and reduce operating expenses, ensuring MDAD a greater share of the aviation market.

MDAD's revenue forecast is based on a residual revenue model. Unlike traditional fee for service models, MDAD calculates landing fee rates based on expenses that are not covered by direct fee for services provided. The revenue forecast incorporates additional debt service related expenditures that will be realized in FY 2011-12 that will require an increase in landing fee rates. The increase in landing fee rates as well as CPI driven increases for direct fee for services provided contribute to the increase in revenue over the next five years.

MDAD's operating and maintenance expenditures include expenditures associated with running Miami International Airport as well as four general aviation airports. This amount excludes depreciation, transfers to debt service accounts, improvement fund and maintenance reserve accounts, as well as a mandated operating cash reserve. The majority of North Terminal is now open and the related incremental expenses for maintaining the new facility have been reflected in the adopted operating budget of the Aviation Department for fiscal year 2012. The last component of the North Terminal, Federal Inspection Services area, as well as the MIA Mover connecting Rental Car Center and the Airport, will be completed in late 2011. For 2011-12, the North Terminal is expected to contribute an increase of 5 percent in operational expenditures.

Five-Year Financial Outlook

MDAD's debt service obligations reflect an increase as a result of a $6.377 billion capital improvement program being finalized in the next five years.

People's Transportation Plan (PTP)

The FY 2010-11 MDT Proforma programs moderate revenue and expense projections based on current budgetary constraints. Farebox revenues are projected to increase based on a one percent a year ridership increase as well as a consumer price index factor of 3 percent applied every three years for a fare increase. State operating assistance is projected to increase by two percent a year and Federal preventative maintenance grants are projected to increase by five percent a year. The PTP Surtax revenue reflects an increase of 4.5 percent in FY 2011-12, three percent in FY 2012-13 and three percent thereafter. The General Fund and Capital Improvement Local Option Gas Tax (CI-LOGT) both are forecasted based on Maintenance of Effort (MOE) that stipulates a growth factor of 3.5 percent and 1.5 percent respectively.

The expenditures for salaries and fringes assume collective bargaining concessions. Other operating expenses incorporate a growth factor of 2.5 percent. The Department's capital plan does not include the North or East West Corridors.

The debt service expenditures assumes capitalized interest for two years for the 2010 issuance and capitalization of interest and deferral of principal of each issuance thereafter until FY 2015-16, which marks the finalization of the transportation capital improvement program as programmed in the FY 2010-11 Adopted Budget.

The PTP Five-Year Proforma (below) summarizes revenue and expenditure projections for the next five years.

 It is anticipated that a fare increase will be programmed in FY 2013-14 of $.25

RE: Public Health Trust FY 2011-12 Proposed Budget

When I became president of the Public Health Trust (PHT) and CEO of Jackson Health System (JHS) on May 1, 2011, Jackson faced great uncertainty and a $382.3 million shortfall for the upcoming FY 2011-12 budget. Past practices created a culture that struggled to embrace fiscal responsibility and accountability. Contrary to contemporary best practices, many budgeted figures were based on estimates or averages that did not reflect the unique characteristics of separate agencies and distinct service areas. As a result, the FY 2010-11 adopted budget lacked both financial precision and operational buy-in from the managers who should be the first line of fiscal accountability.

We immediately set about changing the process commencing with a zero-based budget development that reflected the performance expectations of every department and focused upon one key financial goal: a balanced, break-even budget. The attached proposed budget, recommended unanimously by the members of the Financial Recovery Board, meets that goal.

This budget proposal embodies two critical parts of our new vision. First, it makes substantial reductions to personnel spending without requiring layoffs or service cuts, reflecting the increasingly competitive nature of healthcare delivery in our community. Second, it lays the groundwork for Jackson to move beyond a conversation of survival or sustainability. Rather than diminish our mission to fit short-term reductions in revenue, we intend to expand revenue-generating services in order to improve our facilities and enhance our public duty to provide excellent care to everyone.

While I am satisfied with this recommendation, I believe we can and will do better in the future. This budget was essentially assembled in just two months, far less time than is needed for an organization of this size and complexity. It is based on goals and objectives that are still being developed by a management team that is still being built. And, as with other parts of Miami-Dade County's proposed budget, it relies upon savings from contract negotiations that – while productive and proceeding quickly in good faith – are not yet finalized.

Development of the FY 2011-12 Proposed Operating Budget

The first step was to determine expected patient volume as measured by admissions, which were held flat with FY 2010-11 levels before ongoing and new initiatives increased the volume to the FY 2009-10 level, about a 4 percent growth. However, even with the anticipated growth, net patient revenue decreases from the FY 2010-11 level due to state legislative reductions to Medicaid reimbursement rates ($35 million) and to the Low Income Pool allocation to the PHT ($75 million) for FY 2011-12. The volume estimate is a conservative approach and considered realistic when compared to recent actual revenue performance.

The next step was to develop FY 2011-12 cost estimates at individual cost centers, which roll up to the health system as a whole. Care was taken to estimate costs for the three major categories of operating expenditures: personnel, purchased services and supplies. For the first time, we measured wages and benefits for each filled and each vacant position planned to be filled in FY 2011-12. Staffing levels per adjusted occupied bed (a standard productivity measurement for hospitals) were measured at current levels, and then lowered for cost savings – for example, using natural and managed attrition to reduce regular and overtime hours. The result is a 2 percent reduction in programmed staffing, which can be achieved without layoffs and without reducing existing services. It is also sufficient to operate the new facilities at Jackson South for the full year and to expand and reinvent Corrections Health Services to meet Department of Justice standards and our own service goals. Purchased services costs were estimated, at the cost center level, based on expected patient volumes, current contract use, and new contracts obligated during FY 2010-11. Efficiencies and curbing of certain discretionary spending items were then introduced, reducing the estimate by $7.6 million. The estimated cost of supplies, prior to final budget adjustments, was based on current-year use without an inflation factor and incorporated ongoing savings ($19 million) anticipated from the group purchasing initiative begun in FY 2010-11.

All program initiatives begun in FY 2010-11 were carefully vetted and yielded an estimated positive impact of $129.7 million derived from 43 initiatives that will continue to provide a net benefit in FY 2011-12. In addition, 31 new initiatives that will begin in FY 2012 are expected to produce a net benefit of $18.1 million.

After initial development of the volume estimates and cost estimates, review meetings were held among top management and staff representing each cost center. Critical issues were discussed and resolved. Managers of each cost center are expected to be responsible and accountable for adhering to the final budget, including all adjustments required to balance, and to be diligent in the management of staff productivity to meet expected budget outcomes.

During the summer we also concentrated on reducing costs and improving billing and collection in FY 2010-11. As a result, I am pleased to make note that the need for an advance from other County funds during August, as had been requested earlier this year, was avoided, and FY 2010-11 year-end cash is projected at $58.9 million.

This zero-based rebuilding of the budget reduced our projected budget gap to $234.5 million. A review of our projected expenditures showed that personnel costs represented approximately 50 percent of the total operating expenses, while the industry standard among our competitors is approximately 35 to 40 percent. In order to balance the budget without reducing services or requiring layoffs, we began negotiations with our labor partners to reduce personnel costs by $174.3 million. Our proposal included eliminating the cost-of-living increase and merit increases - which had already been eliminated for non-union employees - as well as capturing approximately $16.7 million of reduced payments required by the state into the Florida Retirement System (FRS) and saving an additional $39.3 million by updating the PHT Defined Benefit retirement program to mirror FRS. Good-faith negotiations over those matters and approximately $67.1 million in additional savings are ongoing; they have been productive and we are optimistic for a speedy resolution. We expect to have a firm indication of the results of our negotiations before the County's second budget hearing.

Because the budget was based on full staffing levels for each cost center, effective management of natural labor turnover will allow for an additional $51.2 million in savings that does not need to be negotiated. We also remain engaged with labor partners to identify other savings opportunities; the commitment of our union leaders to efficient operations is commendable.

We are in conceptual agreement with the University of Miami to reduce the cost of our annual operating agreement by $52.7 million based upon legislative changes regarding sovereign immunity for University of Miami doctors treating patients at our facilities, as well as adjustments in the method for reimbursing the university and its doctors for the work performed on Jackson's behalf. Because time is of the essence and the university functions on a different fiscal year, we believe it is possible to finalize an agreement that achieves these savings over the course of the next six months using a variety of jointly-established initiatives.

We have begun examining alternatives to balance the budget if the current plan for savings are not achieved, particularly if the negotiations with our labor partners and the University of Miami fail to conclude in the way we currently expect. In that event we would have no choice but to include service reductions that impact the availability of care to residents who can least afford such changes. Such a plan would be inconsistent with our public mission, our moral obligation and our legacy in this community. It should be seen only as a worst-case scenario taken only to preserve our public hospital system, and our staff is taking every step to ensure it need not be considered.

Development of the FY 2011-12 Proposed Multi-Year Capital Plan

The FY 2011-12 Proposed Multi-Year Capital Plan was developed using a comprehensive, prioritized survey of needs. It totals $176.7 million, with $95.6 million of expenditures programmed in FY 2011-12. The multi-year plan represents a 43 percent reduction from the current year's capital plan, a reduction of $133.7 million. Proposed expenditures for FY 2011-12 are 50 percent lower than the current year's plan, resulting from a realistic programmed reduction in operating cash available for capital expenditures as well as the completion of the Jackson South expansion in the current year.

Funding sources for the multi-year plan consists of $24.6 million of prior, current and future operating cash for funded depreciation, $12.3 million of prior year and projected interest earned from the Series 2005 Public Facilities Revenue Bonds, $57.6 million of Series 2009 Public Facilities Revenue Bond proceeds and earned interest, $769,000 of Jackson Memorial Foundation funding already on deposit, $6.4 million of federal grant funds and $75 million of future financing proceeds through the existing master bond ordinance, which is assumed to occur in late FY 2011-12, subject to approval by the PHT Financial Recovery Board and Board of County Commissioners.

Programmed funding addresses $82.9 million of infrastructure improvements at Jackson Memorial Hospital (JMH) and Jackson North Medical Center, $23.6 million of technology and telecommunications improvements, $59.7 million of general facility improvements and equipment, and $10.4 million of replacement medical equipment.

Projects funded through the County's Building Better Communities General Obligation Bond Program in FY 2011-12 assume $7.3 million of expenditures and include ongoing renovations to the Emergency Department at JMH, completion of a replacement catheterization lab at JMH, and expansion of the pneumatic tube system at JMH.

Unfunded needs are currently estimated at $785 million, consisting of five-year priorities that total $345 million – which could not be addressed with programmed funding – as well as more strategic long-term needs estimated at $440 million. These capital needs are expected to be modified in the upcoming fiscal year as we resolve the future strategic direction of JHS.

Next Steps

Our path forward becomes clearer every day. Over the next five years, we must make the operational changes that will attract patients and increase revenues. We must accumulate a cash position that allows us to meet our capital needs, pay vendors in a timely manner, allow for fluctuations in the receipt of payments and meet emergency situations without needing backing from other County funds. Industry standards suggest that another $100 million in annual cost savings and $50 million in annual increased revenues can be achieved over time. That will be crucial to rebuild our working capital, fund capital expenditures and absorb future changes to Medicare and Medicaid. Following the Board of County Commissioners' adoption of Jackson's FY 2011-12 budget, we will begin developing a realistic strategic plan that will define our goals, guide us to our objectives and prepare us for the changing federal and state healthcare policies.

As I told the members of the Financial Recovery Board during their public hearing on this proposed budget, our conversation in recent years has been about making Jackson sustainable -- essentially about making sure Jackson can survive. But no one at Jackson is going to be satisfied with survival, least of all me. This budget makes a giant leap toward sustainability, but sustainability is just a small step toward what we can and should be. No health-care provider in South Florida practices better medicine. None has a more important legacy to preserve or more critical mission to fulfill. In an era of more competition and more innovation, more regulation and more education, we have to move beyond sustainability. We can and will be the healthcare provider of choice while solidifying our traditional role as a leading force and voice for building a healthier Miami-Dade County.

But that vision requires farsightedness. It requires the continued support of the Mayor, the Board of County Commissioners and the public. It will take years to achieve, and those years will be built of long days, challenging weeks and, to be sure, some frustrating months. The constant will be the men and women of Jackson Health System, whose talent and passion are equal to the task.

Subject: Information for Second Budget Hearing -- FY 2011-12 Proposed Budget

This memorandum accompanies the FY 2011-12 Budget Ordinances for your consideration at the Second Budget Hearing on September 22, 2011. This document provides information requested and details all adjustments necessary from what was included in the FY 2011-12 Proposed Budget and any actions taken by the Board of County Commissioners at the September 8, 2011 First Budget Hearing, as well as making recommendations for other adjustments for your consideration. The total value of new allocations contained in this document is $17.436 million.

During the First Budget Hearing on September 8, 2011, the Board of County Commissioners (BCC) approved the following tentative millage rates: Countywide 4.8050, Unincorporated Municipal Services Area 2.0083, Fire Rescue Service District 2.4496, and Library System 0.1795 mills. At these millage rates, the Proposed Budget is funded and the adjustments included in this memorandum may be supported. Because the budget ordinances were adopted at first reading as amended by the first change memorandum, but without approval of my proposed reorganization, the interlineated ordinance schedules for agenda items B, D, and F reflect the Proposed Budget as amended. Adjustments described in this memorandum are described as part of the original organization. However, as noted, some of these adjustments will be possible only through the reorganization.

I have met with all of you and discussed my proposed reorganization of County government. I am confident that by realigning County functions we can provide more efficient government services and maximize our resources to preserve core County services to our community. Attachment A details the tables of organization (TOs) presented to you during the first budget hearing adjusted for changes that occurred during the first budget hearing including the transfer of funding and positions of Agenda Coordination to the Board of County Commissioners. To recognize the importance of the resident-focused services provided by the current Public Works and Solid Waste Management departments, the new department will be called Public Works and Waste Management. Attachment B illustrates the TOs if the reorganization is not adopted by the Board. As stated before, I recommend any savings generated by these reorganizations be used to support services in FY 2012-13. The final adopted budget documents will reflect performance data and anticipated results based on the resource allocation by department. If the Board funds the departments consistent with my organization plan, the final adopted ordinances will include language amending, waiving or rescinding, if necessary, various chapters of the Code of Miami-Dade County, Florida, and creating Section 1-4.3 of the Code of Miami-Dade County, Florida to conform the Code, applicable implementing orders and other legislative enactments to the County's Fiscal Year 2011-12 adopted budget as it relates to various administrative departments and delegations of commission authority, power, and responsibility associated therewith necessary to implement the proposed reorganization.

Technical changes and adjustments, corrections of scriveners' errors, corrections of appropriation posting errors, and current estimates of grants for agencies and departments are also included. Cash carryover for proprietary funds has been adjusted where appropriate. Amendments to various code requirements, and/or resolutions are recommended including waiving Section 2-1799(e) related to the disposition of unexpended commission district office budgets.

PROPRIETARY AND OTHER REVENUE ADJUSTMENTS

Building and Neighborhood Compliance

At the September 20, 2011 Committee of the Whole meeting several Commissioners stated concerns regarding the elimination of 21 code enforcement officers. I recommend that no code enforcement officers be laid off and that the funding to support these positions be identified through savings derived through the proposed reorganization of the Permitting, Environment and Regulatory Affairs Department and the additional revenues generated by the enforcement activities. If necessary, a mid-year budget amendment will be presented to the Board to recognize any additional revenue.

Office of Economic Development and International Trade

At the first budget hearing, the Board requested that Port of Miami promotional funds allocated to support Economic Development and International Trade (OEDIT) activities be eliminated. As a result, the OEDIT budget will be reduced by $365,000 and placed in the Port of Miami Reserve Maintenance Fund. The impact of this reduction will be mitigated through the implementation of efficiencies as a result of the proposed reorganization of the Sustainability, Planning and Economic Enhancement Department.

Office of Emergency Management

Subsequent to the first budget hearing, the Department received a higher than projected federal Emergency Management Performance Grant and Florida Power and Light authorized the modification of existing funds that will allow the reinstatement of two Bureau Manager positions ($199,000 grant, and $20,000 in General Fund match). Under the proposed reorganization, this will be part of the Fire Rescue Department.

Public Housing Agency

As a result of an adjustment to the federal housing subsidy, the Public Housing Agency budget requires a reduction of $12 million in federal funds for the Section 8 Housing Choice Voucher program. This reduction will be reflected as part of the Housing Assistance Payment revenues through reduced subsidy payment to landlords that participate in the program. An additional reduction of $850,000 in Section 8 Administrative Fees will be reflected as a reduction to the department's reserves. Under the proposed reorganization, this will be part of the Public Housing and Community Development Department.

GENERAL FUND ADJUSTMENTS

Additional general fund carryover, resulting from better than expected utility tax revenue collections in the current year, and lower than budgeted operational expenditures in the Corrections and Rehabilitation Department, has been identified to support the programs and activities described below. A reconciliation of revenue that should have been transferred to the general fund from the administrative allocation of Tourist Development Surtax revenues identified $154,000 to be transferred in the current year. The general fund carryover has also been adjusted to reflect current year savings in the Office of the Mayor ($850,000) which will be utilized to create a Seniors First Trust Fund to support services to seniors in our community. Adjustments have been made for the revised BCC carryover balance into FY 2011-12, which was reduced by $1.196 million from original projections. Further requirements for general fund supported programs are provided through adjustments to the Wages, Separation, and Energy Reserve.

Community-based Organizations (CBOs)

During the first budget hearing concerns were raised regarding reduced funding to the Mom and Pop program. Promoting small businesses and job retention and growth is one of my top priorities. Therefore, I am recommending that $464,000 of additional funding be provided to the Mom and Pop program which will bring its FY 2011-12 funding to 90 percent of the previous year's allocation.

In addition, upon further review of the CBO allocation list, it was found that eight additional organizations were inadvertently misclassified. These adjustments require that the general fund subsidy that supports CBO allocations be increased by $683,000 which brings the total FY 2011-12 CBO allocations to $18.832 million. Attachment C provides a revised listing of CBO funding recommendations. Attachment D details the cultural grant allocations for FY 2011-12.

Corrections and Rehabilitation

As a result of concerns brought up by the community and the judiciary, the Miami-Dade Corrections and Rehabilitation Department will be reinstating the Boot Camp Program (BCP) ($3.7 million), and reinstating 18 positions. Certain staffing modifications will allow us to deliver the same level of service at reduced costs without impacting the effectiveness of the program.

Phase 1, which is the intensive regimented boot camp style instruction, will not have reductions in staffing or operating procedures. Phase 2, which focuses on preparation for employment, life skills, job interviews, job referrals via South Florida Workforce and/or educational/vocational training for better qualifications and Phase 3, which focuses on after care supervision, will also be restored. However, some of the staff associated with these phases will be shared with other functions in the department which will allow for efficiencies in the allocation of resources. Specifically, Correctional Officers will have expanded responsibilities in supervising the BCP and Monitored Release Program participants, as well as court liaison responsibilities.

Funding for the BCP will be provided from lower than budgeted operational expenses in FY 2010-11 associated primarily with a lower than budgeted inmate population ($3 million) and higher than anticipated carryover from FY 2009-10 in Fund 110 ($700,000). Revenues in Fund 110 include revenues generated by Jail Commissary sales, food catering, house arrest, inmate work program, and subsistence fees, as well as Second Dollar Funds for staff training. The Department utilizes these funds to pay for the operation of the Jail Commissary, Monitored Release Program, Inmate Industry, law enforcement training, other operational expenses associated with inmate housing, and transfers to the Inmate Welfare Trust (Fund 600). This funding may also be used to support the BCP.

Administrative Office of the Courts

At the request of representatives of the Eleventh Judicial Circuit, funding to make up for reduced grants for the Court Care Program currently managed by the YWCA will be provided. An agreement will be administratively executed with the YWCA to support continuing operations, once approved for legal sufficiency ($180,000).

The continuation of the Eleventh Judicial Circuit Criminal Mental Health Project (CMHP) will be supported with funds from the Inmate Welfare Trust Program ($279,000). These funds which are governed by Florida Statute 951.23 require that all proceeds must be used solely for the welfare of inmates. The CMHP was established to divert individuals with mental illnesses who are involved in or at risk of becoming involved in the justice system into more appropriate community-based treatment and support services. Stakeholders involved in this collaborative effort include the Court, the State Attorney's Office, the Public Defender's Office, Corrections and Rehabilitation, local law enforcement agencies, the Florida Department of Children and Families, South Florida Behavioral Health Network, Jackson Health Systems, community-based treatment and service providers, and the Miami-Dade County Homeless Trust. In 2008, Miami-Dade County was awarded a three-year $1 million grant by the State of Florida to expand the CMHPs services to individuals with serious mental illnesses who are arrested and charged with less serious felony offenses. Grant funding ended earlier in FY 2010-11, with partial year continuation funding provided. This allocation will allow for program continuation.

Fire Rescue

As a result of innovative operational reviews, it will be possible to continue providing fire boat services at both the Port of Miami (Fire Boat 1) and Haulover Beach (Fire Boat 2) stations. Both fire boats will be tendered and manned by staff assigned to Stations 21 and 39, respectively. To support any fire boat calls that occur outside of the Fire District, $500,000 will be set aside from the countywide general fund.

In addition, the department is reinstating funding for one Ocean Rescue Lifeguard position and part-time hours ($228,000). These additional resources, supported by the countywide general fund, will allow more operational flexibility when providing coverage at Haulover Beach and Crandon Park locations.

Community Information and Outreach

At the first budget hearing, the BCC recommended that one full-time photographer position be restored to Community Information and Outreach to provide additional photographic coverage of County events. This position will be supported through personnel savings within the Department as a result of positions that were filled at a lower rate than budgeted. Also, as requested by the Board, $375,000 in general fund revenues will be allocated to support advertising in community periodicals.

Jackson Health System

As a result of these adjustments to the countywide general fund revenue, the Jackson Health System maintenance of effort payment for FY 2011-12 will be increased by $344,000.

Public Works

As I have said, how our community looks is an important aspect of its attractiveness and livability. With additional UMSA general fund revenues, I recommend that one roadway contract landscape maintenance and litter clean-up cycle be restored to the Right of Way Assets and Aesthetics Management Division increasing the cycles to 12 per year from the proposed 11 per year (one position, $210,000 General Fund). The additional cycle will help reduce litter and control overgrown vegetation on the County's medians. Furthermore, it is recommended that the Tree Canopy Restoration project be reinstated with $290,000 of Capital Outlay Reserve funding. The project will plant an additional 966 trees, which bring us closer to the 30 percent tree canopy coverage throughout the County as stipulated in the BCC approved Street Tree Master Plan. The requested funding increase will also contribute to the ongoing "Million Trees Miami" initiative. In addition, funding will be incorporated to fund the Community Image Advisory Board Manager, to continue the coordination of beautification projects through the County, specifically on gateway corridors. Funding will be provided by the countywide general fund ($147,000). This function is transferred to the Parks, Recreation and Open Spaces Department under the proposed reorganization.

Small Business Development

As a result of concerns raised during the first budget hearing, it is recommended that one Special Projects Administrator position be reinstated to continue the Wage Theft recovery function ($117,000). Funding will be provided by the countywide general fund. As part of the proposed reorganization this function will be part of the Sustainability, Planning and Economic Enhancement Department.

Head Start

We have reviewed all processes linked to the current Head Start program model. Issues with the open request for qualifications for delegate agencies may require us to recommend its rejection. If so, a new request for applications will be developed. We remain committed to implement a plan that will ensure that the number of children served by Head Start remains the same for this school year with no additional general fund subsidy for FY 2011-12 beyond the required match already included in the budget. Any position adjustments necessary to maintain slots until full delegation will be made. This process will require employee salary concessions for the FY 2011-12, which we anticipate will be negotiated as a separate MOU.

Additionally, a plan to delegate County-operated slots will be reported to the Board as noted in resolution R-591-11. Staff will communicate this process, by October 2012, directly to the Department of Health and Human Services as we prepare for the FY 2012-13 school year.

Other Allocations

In recognizing the importance of the Miami International Agriculture and Cattle Show and its impacts on the local economy, it is recommended that $150,000 be allocated for the cattle show. It is also recommended that $150,000 be allocated to fund an In-Kind Reserve to provide in-kind County services for events sponsored by not-for-profits to benefit the community.

CAPITAL BUDGET/CAPITAL IMPROVEMENT PLAN (CIP) UPDATES

Building Better Communities Bond Program

The appropriation schedules for the BBC GOB Program's municipal projects were updated to reflect expenditures that were expected to be incurred in FY 2010-11 but are now anticipated to occur in FY 2011-12. These adjustments did not increase the overall appropriation of the projects. In March 2011 the Board adopted Resolution No. R-134-11, which among other things, listed the projects eligible for funding from the Series 2011 Bonds. That project list assumed adoption of a 0.445 millage rate in FY 2011-12, as well as a 45 month financing plan for the BBC GOB Program, with funding for many projects timed to cash flow needs. As a result of the adoption of a 0.285 millage rate for FY 2011-12, the proposed appropriations and project financing timelines have been adjusted for those projects detailed in Attachment E. Resolution numbers R-954-10 (Project No. 93140), R-1144-10 (Project No. 984963), R-1145-10 (Site No. 76677), R-28-11 (Site 70633), R-54-11 (Project No. 115951) and R-55-11 (Project No. 115951) each as amended by Resolution No. R-134-11 must be further amended to provide that projects will be fully funded within the next 45 months in the amounts and fiscal years set forth in Attachment E. In addition, Resolution No. R-1133-10 as amended by Resolution No. R-134-11 (Project No. 932730) must be further amended to provide that the project will be fully funded by FY 2015-16 in the amounts and fiscal years set forth in Attachment E.

The Proposed Budget included an allocation of $7.5 million for the Economic Development Fund, intended for the infrastructure work required for the Miami International Air Show. Because approvals for this show have been delayed, the funding may be reallocated for other projects. At Tuesday's meeting, the Board adopted agenda item 11A8, providing funding for the Villa Capri project ($2 million) and agenda item 3025A accepting a grant to reimburse 50 percent of the expense associated with the purchase of development rights for agricultural lands ($2.334 million to be spent in FY 2011-12). The project schedule will be updated for the West End Park project ($286,000 million in FY 2011-12 and $1.214 million in FY 2012-13). The balance will be available to begin the second phase of the Equestrian Center project ($2.880 million). The Martin Luther King Business Center will be allocated $1.231 million in FY 2011-12 which will be funded by using available proceeds from the following projects whose funding schedules have been adjusted (Project No. 114964 ADA Barrier Removal; Medical Examiner $286,000; Project No. 673150 Bike Path $700,000; and Project No. 931360 Miami Dade Auditorium $245,000.) An additional $2.269 million will be funded in FY 2012-13 from Project No. 9310040 Amelia Earhart Park to complete funding of this project.

There are a number of projects that have been identified to require funding in FY 2011-12 and FY 2012-13, including work at the Vizcaya Museum and Gardens, Cuban Museum, and HistoryMiami and other infrastructure projects. We will be working with these stakeholders to make sure that funding is identified as needed, once we have updated projections for available revenues in future years as the property tax roll values are estimated and the commercial paper program is implemented. In order to fund additional projects, another debt issuance must be planned, which will require a millage increase in future years.

PAY PLAN

Attached to Item F is a Pay Plan which contains the existing rates of pay for bargaining unit employees. These rates are subject to change through the collective bargaining process. The Pay Plan reflects the adjustments implemented on July 1, 2011 to the non-bargaining unit employees under my purview as amended by my August 17, 2011 memorandum. It also contains updates that clarify Pay Plan language and provisions and includes the addition of new classifications, the abolition of obsolete classifications, and occupational code and title changes. The pay rates reflected in the Pay Plan will be administered in accordance with the provisions of the Living Wage Ordinance 99-44.

Honorable Chairman Joe A. Martinez
and Members, Board of County Commissioners

POSITION ADJUSTMENTS

In some instances, the above recommendations and correction of errors will adjust the number of positions in the FY 2011-12 Proposed Budget. The adjustments included in this memorandum increase the total number of recommended positions by 54 to 26,514. This is 1,139 positions less than authorized in FY 2010-11, more than 500 of which are vacant.
