RECOMMENDATION

It is recommended that the Board of County Commissioners (Board) approve the attached resolution which does the following:

- declares a 10-acre, County-owned parcel located at SW 157 Avenue and SW 324 Street, Homestead, FL as surplus,
- authorizes the property to be sold to the highest bidder through the County's competitive bidding process; and
- waives Administrative Order 8-4 as it relates to review by the Planning Advisory Board because the property is located within the City of Homestead. The action to surplus and sell was not presented to the Planning Advisory Board because they do not have jurisdiction in the City of Homestead.

AppraisalFirst Real Estate Appraisers LLC, an independent State of Florida certified appraiser, valued the property at $480,000 as of January 12, 2012 (see attachment). If approved for surplus, the property will be put out to bid with a minimum bid amount of $480,000.

SCOPE

The property identified in this item is located in County Commission District 8.

FISCAL IMPACT/FUNDING SOURCE

The sale of this property will eliminate the County's obligation to maintain the property, which costs approximately $2,000 per year, and will place the property back on the tax roll, generating approximately $9,000 in annual ad valorem taxes.

TRACK RECORD/MONITOR

The Internal Services Department, Real Estate Development Division is managing the sale of this property.

DELEGATION OF AUTHORITY

Authorizes the County Mayor or the County Mayor's designee to sell the property via sealed bid to the highest bidder, take all actions necessary to accomplish the sale of the property, and authorizes the Chairperson or Vice Chairperson to execute a County Deed for such purpose.

BACKGROUND

The County acquired this parcel in 1939 for the excavation of marl soil (a mixture of fine-grained minerals) for County construction projects. Records show that only the eastern portion of the site was excavated between 1939 and 1966, and, for a short period of time in 1966, that same area was used by the City of Homestead and the City of Florida City as a sanitary landfill.

During the 1970's and 1980's there appears to have been no activity on the site. On July 25, 1989, the Board approved Resolution R-902-89, which declared this property surplus and authorized its sale to the highest bidder. However, the property was not sold at that time because the Parks, Recreation and Open Space Department (formerly known as Park and Recreation) subsequently reconsidered their need for the property and requested that it be retained by the County for future park use. From 1995 to 1998, approximately four acres were leased to Gulf State Tree Suppliers for a tree farm at a rental rate of $1,000 per year.

In 2004, the City of Homestead annexed the surrounding area, negating any future use of the property as a County operated neighborhood park. The property was offered to both the City of Homestead and the Miami-Dade County School Board for trade or other considerations, but each declined to acquire the property. The property has never been designated, classified or utilized as a park, and is not governed by Article 7 restrictions; therefore, in accordance with State Statute and County Code, the property can be disposed of as surplus property. The property was circulated to all County departments and no present or future County use was identified.

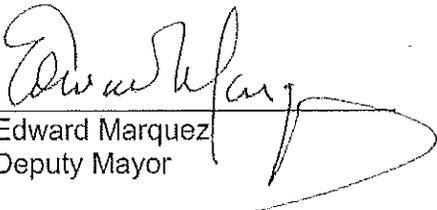

Additional property details are as follows, and, shown in the attached property map:

Re: A 10.0 Acre Vacant Tract of Land, located at SW 157th Avenue and SW 323rd Street
Homestead, Florida 33033
PROJECT: PROS - 10-7917-001-0580

Dear Mr. Duval:

As requested we have prepared the attached Self Contained Appraisal Report of the above referenced property. The purpose of the report was to estimate the current "as is" Market Value of the subject property in fee simple title, as of January 10, 2012.

Market Value may be defined as the most probable price in terms of money which a property should bring in a competitive and open market under all conditions requisite to a fair sale, the buyer and seller, each acting prudently, knowledgeably and assuming the price is not affected by undue stimulus.

The subject property consists of a 10.0 acre vacant tract of unimproved land in Homestead, Florida. The site is zoned G, General Use, per the City of Homestead Zoning Map. This is an interim zoning for annexed properties, until they are rezoned per the Future Land Use Map. The subject site is designated ISU, Institutional Use, by the City of Homestead Future Land Use Map. Currently, there is no paved road access to the site, however, there is a dirt road that leads directly to the eastern border of the property, from SW 323rd Street. The subject abuts Ventanas del Sol, a 117 unit single family project, which is not yet completed. This adjacent property originally contained 30 acres, and was subdivided at a density of 3.9 units per acre. The area surrounding the subject is in the Homestead Future Land Use Map for low density residential, which would allow a maximum density of 6 units per acre. There are no known contracts or listings on the subject property at time of appraisal.

The subject land was valued by the "across the fence" method. This is a land valuation method often used in the appraisal of corridors. The across the fence method is used to develop a value opinion based on comparison to abutting land. Source: Appraisal Institute, The Dictionary of Real Estate Appraisal, 5th ed. (Chicago: Appraisal Institute), 2010. In this case, the subject is "across the fence" from low density residential land, and that would be its most likely use, if it were not restricted to special and institutional uses. This method of valuation does not assume that the subject could be improved with a residential use. This valuation estimates the value of a restricted site based on the price of similar adjacent properties that have no restrictions.

The Dictionary of Real Estate Appraisal, 5th edition published by the Appraisal Institute, 2010 defines an Extraordinary Assumption as "An assumption, directly related to a specific assignment, which, if found to be false, could alter the appraiser's opinions or conclusions. Extraordinary assumptions presume as fact otherwise uncertain information about physical, legal, or economic characteristics of the subject property; or about conditions external to the property."

The current condition of the subject site is overgrown, with large trees. It does not appear to have ever been cleared or farmed, due to the large trees on the site. The interior portions of the site could not be inspected, and were only viewed from SW 157th Avenue, which is a dirt road. Aerial views of the subject indicate that the entire site appears to be forested. The legal description of the site does not depict any restrictions such as NFC (Natural Forest Community) or EEL (Environmentally Endangered Lands). It is assumed that there are no wet areas, protected pine forests, or any other environmentally endangered trees, and that the site may be cleared for development at any time. Any deviation from this assumption will have a direct effect on the value conclusion of this appraisal report.

This is a Self Contained Appraisal Report which is intended to comply with reporting requirements set forth under Standards Rule 2-2(a) of the Uniform Standards of Professional Appraisal Practice. When appraising vacant land, the only applicable approach to value is the Sales Comparison Approach for land valuation. No plans, costs or specifications were provided in order to analyze any proposed construction on the subject. This self contained appraisal report only values the current "as is" market value of the subject property, as a 10.0 acre vacant site, by way of the Sales Comparison Approach, which will employ the "across the fence" method of valuation. This appraisal includes all applicable methods of valuation.

This appraisal has been made in accordance with the Standards of Practice and Code of Ethics of the Appraisal Institute, the requirements according to USPAP and FIRREA.

In our opinion, the current "as is" market value of the subject land, in fee simple title, as of January 10, 2012, is concluded at:

FOUR HUNDRED EIGHT THOUSAND DOLLARS
($480,000)
