MIAMI-DADE COUNTY

Agenda Item No. 8(G)(1)(D)

Date: June 2, 2009

To: Honorable Chairman Dennis C. Moss and Members, Board of County Commissioners

From: George M. Burgess
County Manager

Resolution No. R-632-09

Subject: Resolution approving Miami-Dade Public Housing Agency's (MDPHA) application for Set-Aside funding under the Housing Choice Voucher Program from U.S. HUD

Recommendation

It is recommended that the Board of County Commissioners (Board) retroactively authorize the County Mayor or the County Mayor's designee to apply for, receive and expend set-aside funds under the Section 8 Housing Choice Voucher (HCV) Program as provided for in Section 5 of the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (US HUD) Public and Indian Housing Notice PIH 2009-13 (HA) from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (US HUD). The application and supporting documentation submitted as Exhibit A demonstrates a need for $43.7 million. It is also recommended that the County Mayor or County Mayor's designee be authorized to receive and expend any additional HCV Program funds that may become available from US HUD. Finally, it is also recommended that the County Mayor or the County Mayor's designee be authorized to execute all necessary agreements upon approval of the application by US HUD.

Fiscal Impact

US HUD notified the County that the Miami-Dade Public Housing Agency's (MDPHA) federal subsidy for the HCV program will be reduced by a total $43.7 million over the course of the next few months. To completely offset this reduction in federal subsidy, MDPHA has demonstrated in its application that increases in Housing Assistance Payments (HAP), estimated at $32.3 million on an annualized basis as well as over $11.4 million in retroactive HAP payments, are needed in order to maintain the same level of service and number of vouchers under the HCV Program.

Scope

This funding request is only for MDPHA's Section 8 HCV Program. It does not include the HCV programs administered by other Public Housing Authorities within Miami-Dade County (i.e. Hialeah Housing Authority, Housing Authority for the city of Miami Beach, and Homestead Housing Authority).

Track Record/Monitor

US HUD and MDPHA will monitor the appropriate usage of these funds.

Background

US HUD Notice PIH 2009-13(HA) implements the HCV program funding provisions resulting from enactment of the Omnibus Appropriations Act 2009, which authorizes US HUD to recapture $750 million from PHAs nationwide. The County has been advised by US HUD that they intend to recapture $43.7 million from the Section 8 HVC program. US HUD will accomplish this by reducing the funding allocation for each public housing authority (PHA) over the next four months (June 2009 through September 2009), which equates to $43.7 million for MDPHA. US HUD used a complex formula to calculate each PHA's offset amount.

To offset these losses nationwide, US HUD has established a set-aside fund of up to $100 million that will be made available to PHAs for application under one of four categories. MDPHA applied under Category 1, which provides for adjustments for PHAs that a) experienced a significant increase in renewal costs due to unforeseen circumstances such as PHAs whose jurisdiction and tenants had experienced a severe loss of employment/income; b) PHAs that were required by a court to take actions that increased their per unit costs; and c) PHAs that have experienced significant increases in the cost of assistance due to an unforeseeable rise in rental costs. The other three categories were not applicable to MDPHA.

The $43.7 million funding shortfall for the Housing Choice Voucher Program is untimely as MDPHA has just launched a full privatization of its 14,000+ unit program, with significant involvement and commitment by both US HUD and Miami-Dade County, to turnaround the program to improve regulatory compliance and provide quality service to participants and landlords.

An assessment of all major program areas, including the documentation of challenges and plan of action needed to cure program deficiencies has been completed. These actions are integral to transforming this program, and include regulatory requirements such as authorizing overdue increases in contract rents, paying increases in Housing Assistance Payments, remedying underutilization, and increasing utility allowances.

The set-aside funding notice was issued on May 6 (see Exhibit B) and the MDPHA offset calculation was received by MDPHA thereafter. The deadline for submittal of the set-aside funding application was May 22, 2009, therefore a retroactive approval is requested of the Board.

Introduction

Funding shortfalls for the Section 8 Housing Choice Voucher Program occur at a particularly unfortunate time for the Miami-Dade Public Housing Agency (MDPHA). Miami-Dade County, through MDPHA recently launched a full privatization of its 14,534-unit program, with significant involvement and commitment by both the United States Department of Housing and Urban Development (USHUD) and the Miami-Dade community. A turnaround of the long-troubled program has begun and stakeholders, including USHUD, are optimistic that the program is poised to realize dramatic improvements in regulatory compliance, and quality service to participants and landlords. It is an investment that neither USHUD nor the Miami-Dade community can risk at this critical time.

On October 26, 2007, the County and USHUD entered into a Settlement Agreement by which USHUD took temporary possession of MDPHA. Pursuant to the Settlement Agreement USHUD appointed an Oversight Administrator to be responsible for decision making and day-to-day operations of MDPHA's projects and programs. On August 25, 2008, the County and USHUD amended the Settlement Agreement to include a provision requiring the outsourcing of MDPHA's Section 8 Housing Choice Voucher Program as a condition of the return of possession of MDPHA to the County. MDPHA advertised a Request for Proposals (RFP), received responses to the RFP, and in December 2008 selected Quadel Consulting Corporation (Quadel) of Washington, DC and executed a two-year contract effective January 1, 2009.

Quadel has completed assessments of all major program areas, documenting numerous challenges and outlining specific actions needed to cure program deficiencies. These actions are integral to transforming this troubled program, and include regulatory requirements such as authorizing overdue increases in contract rents, paying increases in Housing Assistance Payments (HAP) as calculated, remedying underutilization, and increasing utility allowances. This will result in unfunded increases in HAP expenditures estimated at over $32.3 million on an annualized basis, in addition to over $11.4 million in retroactive HAP payments. These actions cannot be delayed, and they are necessary at the same time that national declining economic conditions must be faced.

Below is a description of the particular areas necessitating funding adjustments, along with appropriate supporting documentation.

Realized Increases in HAP Expense

As a result of the continued economic decline in Miami-Dade County, the Miami-Dade Housing Choice Voucher (MDHCV) Program has experienced steady increases in Housing Assistance Payment (HAP) expense. Although the increase in HAP expenses began before and continued during the Baseline Year (October 1, 2007 to September 30, 2008), the local economic trend continues, causing further increases in HAP expense. As a result, HAP funding based on the Baseline Year is inadequate to support a compliant and fully-utilized program under current economic conditions. Data sets documenting the figures presented and on which all of the calculations are made are provided or will be made available upon request. Appendix A provides the data and sources on which the following charts are based.

Over the course of the baseline year, the unemployment rate in Miami-Dade County rose from approximately 4.5% to over 6.5%. Since that time, the trend of increasing unemployment rates has continued, reaching almost 8.0% at present, as indicated in Chart I, Miami-Dade County Unemployment Rate. Chart II, Heads of Household with Employment Income, shows that MDHCV Program participants have not been immune to that trend. Over the same period, and as a direct result of increasing unemployment, the percentage of Miami-Dade Housing Choice Voucher Program participants with employment income has decreased from 31% in November of 2007 to 24% in April of 2009.

Chart I
Miami-Dade County Unemployment Rate

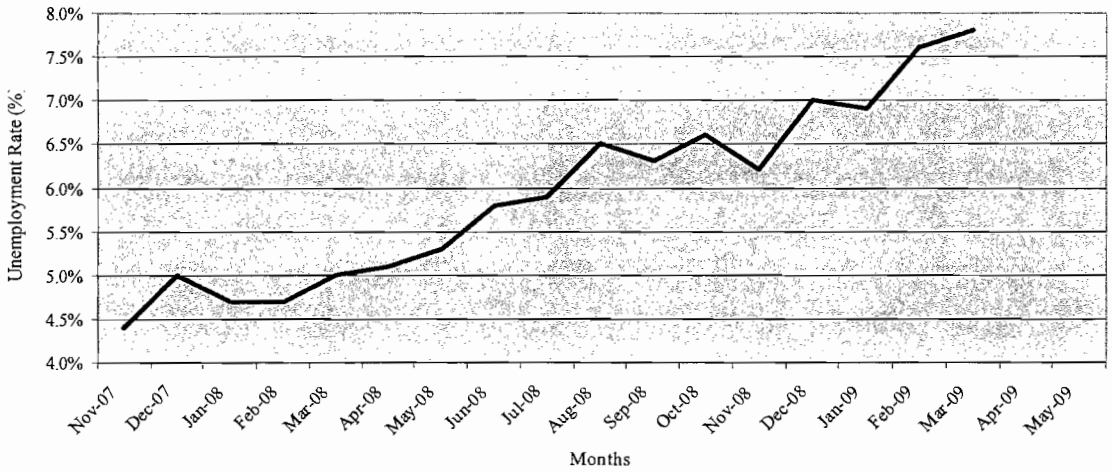

Chart II
MDHCV Heads of Household with Employment Income

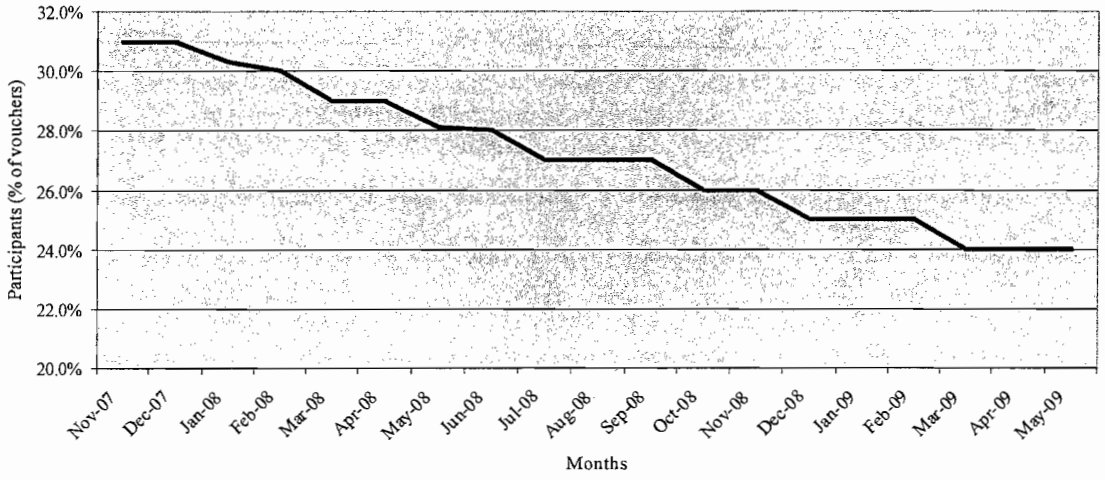

Chart III, Total Tenant Payment (TTP) Trend shows that as a result of the decrease in participants with employment income, the tenant share of rent has fallen by $50 per unit, from approximately $360 in November 2007 to approximately $310 in April 2009, a decrease of almost 14%. Mirroring that trend, Chart IV, Housing Assistance Payments (HAP) Trend, indicates that average HAP payments have increased by the same amount, from approximately $740 in November 2007 to almost $790 in April 2009.

Chart III
MDHCV Total Tenant Payment (TTP) Trend

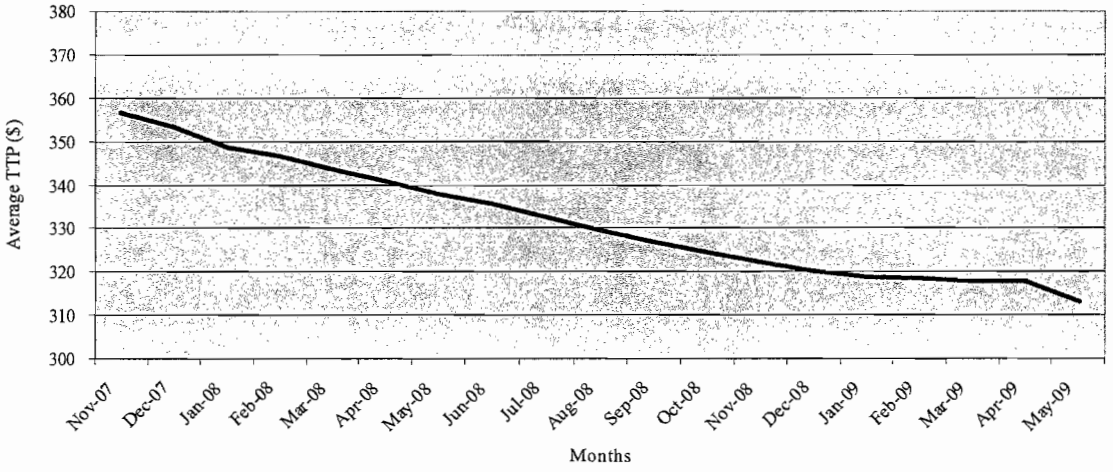

Chart IV
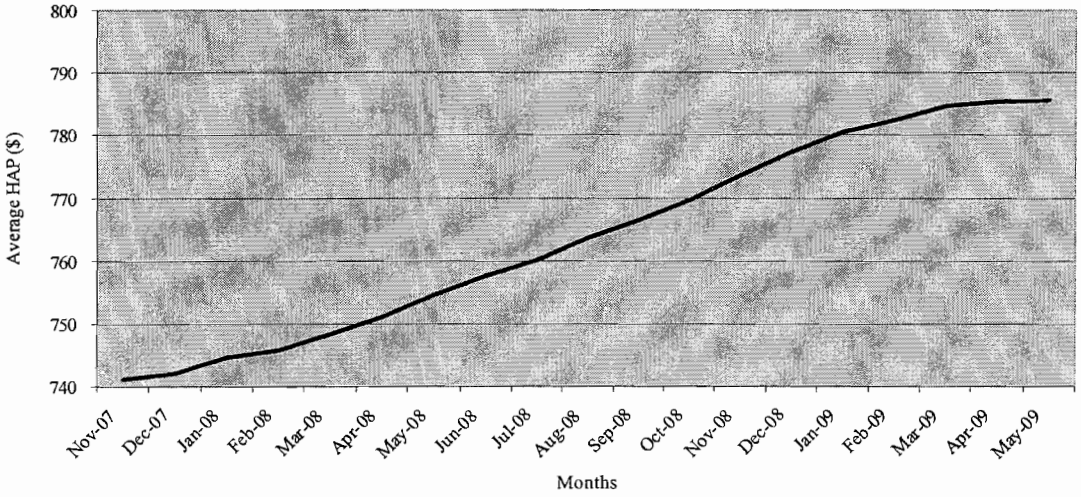
MDHCV Housing Assistance Payment (HAP) Trend



Over the 11 months of the Baseline Year for which data is available, November 1, 2007 to September 30, 2008, the average HAP payment was $752. As of May 2009, the average HAP payment was $786, a difference of $36 or approximately 5%. At full utilization of 14,534 authorized units, this increase results in a projected $6.3 million annual HAP expense increase.

Projected Increases in HAP Expense

In addition to the economic factors discussed above, which have already increased MDHCV's program HAP expense, there are other pending and future actions which will further increase HAP expense. Where the impact of these actions is known and quantifiable, the approximate impact on HAP expense is noted. In no instance was the expense associated with these actions (either retroactive or ongoing), reflected in the Baseline Year expenses, or in expenses reported more recently. All data on which the estimates are based is either included in Appendixes A-F, or is available upon request.

Increased Utility Allowances

A utility allowance study was completed in March 2009, by Alan Fox and Associates. This study identified increased fuel and utility costs, and significant increases in the cost of air conditioning. The revised utility allowance schedules reflect increases in excess of ten percent, and therefore must be implemented in accordance with 24 CFR § 982.517 (c), which authorizes a PHA to review and revise its schedule of utility allowance each year. Appendix F presents the variances between the current and proposed utility allowance schedules.

Retroactive Rent Increase Requests

The MDHCV Program has deferred processing rent increase requests dating as far back as 2006. At least 967 cases have been identified in which a rent reasonableness survey was conducted and the rent increase request was approved, but the appropriate change to contract rent was never processed. As of May 1, 2009, the processing of these backlogged cases would result in retroactive payments totaling approximately $1.2 million, and would increase projected HAP expenditures going-forward in the amount of approximately $1.5 million on an annual basis. Although only 967 such cases have been identified at present, it is projected that as many as 2,500 may be discovered[1], resulting in retroactive payments totaling $3.2 million and increased HAP expenditures going-forward of approximately $4.0 million on an annual basis. Appendix B presents a summary of the backlogged rent increase requests.

Payment Holds & Abatements

The system-of-record for the MDHCV Program currently reports 2,071 open payment holds and abatements, the majority of which will ultimately be lifted and paid. These total ~~almost $10,181,769 in retroactive payments. By taking the 2,071 open holds and~~ abatements, and multiplying by the average HAP as of May 2009, it is estimated that MDHCV Program faces potential unfunded obligations totaling $19.5 million on an annual basis. Appendix C summarizes the outstanding holds and abatements.

Port-Outs

The MDHCV Program has not processed or paid HAP to PHAs for many port-out families since as far back as 2006. This may include as many as 200 MDPHA Program participants. At the average HAP for the month of May of $786, 200 unpaid port-outs would result in an unfunded obligation of $1.9 million on an annual basis. Appendix D provides the detail of this calculation.

Family Self-Sufficiency (FSS) Escrow Accounts

The MDHCV Program includes approximately 140 families enrolled in the Family Self-Sufficiency (FSS) Program. For these families, it is believed escrow balances were not maintained between November 2007 and the present. A full audit of FSS escrow accounts is underway and scheduled for completion, so the full liability remains uncertain at this time.

[1] Nan McKay and Associates completed a financial reconciliation of 4,000 MDHCV program tenant files, and identified 1,087 valid backlogged rent increases. This implies that, for the approximately 13,500 vouchers currently under lease, MDHCV could expect as many as 2,582 valid backlogged rent increases for the remaining 9,500 tenant files.

Foreclosures

Miami-Dade County and other jurisdictions within the State of Florida have experienced some of the highest rates of foreclosure in the nation. In April 2009, almost 65,000 properties in Florida went into foreclosure. This is a ratio of 1 in 135 properties that have gone into foreclosure, Florida has the second-highest foreclosure rate in the nation, and represents an increase of over 37% relative to March 2009.[2] Foreclosures on properties owned by HCV landlords usually prompts a need for the participants to request a change-of-dwelling and move. HAP payment history from the system-of-record indicates that changes-of-dwelling have a significant upward impact on HAP payments. Of over 2,100 changes-of-dwelling among MDHCV Program participants since November, 2007, the annual HAP payment has increased, on average, by over $2,700. Assuming the units on the MDHCV program mirror the overall foreclosure rate in Florida, approximately 1,200 units are expected to go into foreclosure annually, until the mortgage crisis subsides. This is estimated to result in an unfunded foreclosure-related increase to HAP expenses of over $3.3 million. Appendix E includes data on foreclosures, and Chart V demonstrates the continuing upward trend of foreclosure in Miami-Dade County.

Unemployment data is from the United States Department of Labor, Bureau of Labor Statistics, Local Area Unemployment Statistics (LAUS), available at http://www.bls.gov/lau. All other data is from Emphasys Elite, the MDHCV Program's system-of-record. Heads of Household with Employment Income for each month is defined as all effective certifications (Action Types) as of the first calendar day of the month that have a positive entry in the Employment Income field for the Head of Household, divided by all effective certifications as of the first calendar day of the month. Total Tenant Payment Trend, for each month, shows the average TTP, calculated by summing the TTP for all effective certifications as of the first calendar day of the month, and dividing that sum by the count of all effective certifications as of the first calendar day of the month. Similarly, Housing Assistance Payment Trends for each month shows the average HAP, calculated by summing the HAP for all effective certifications as of the first calendar day of the month, and dividing that sum by the count of all effective certifications as of the first calendar day of the month.

Section 8 Utility Allowances: Miami-Dade, Florida

Alan Fox Consulting
747 South Harvey Avenue
Oak Park, IL 60304
March 17, 2009

Introduction

In February, 2008 the Miami-Dade Housing Choice Voucher contracted with Alan Fox Consulting to analyze and update its HUD Section 8 utility allowances. This document provides complete details of the process, and is accompanied by a set of proposed utility allowance revisions.

The Miami-Dade Housing Authority currently uses a very complex set of utility allowances, covering 5 different structure types, with a separate set for the City of Homestead. Its methodology is unknown—although utility prices seems to be obtained annually, there are no consumption figures underlying the system and the updating process is unclear. Furthermore, there are some errors in the current system, which will be explained below.

To replace the current method I used the approach suggested by HUD's Office of Public and Indian Housing in its instructions for Form-52667,[1] converted to a unified spreadsheet model (Microsoft Excel) where only one "Rates" sheet must be updated annually and all calculations are performed automatically. My results are substantially higher, particularly for air conditioning.

Highlights

1. The revised allowances are substantially higher than the PHA's current allowances.

2. A major difference is that the PHA's current air conditioning allowances are unusually low compared to my estimates.[2] For 3 bedroom houses I estimate a monthly air conditioning cost of $70, compared to the PHA's $24. For 2 bedroom apartments the difference is even more striking--$43 against $18.

3. Unlike the current system, I calculate water and sewer allowances for various cities in addition to Miami and Homestead. In the process I found one city—Opa Locka—whose costs are over twice those of any other city.

[1] The 3-page instructions for form HUD-52667 are available from www.hudclips.gov.
[2] As a reality check on my calculations, separate estimates derived from a new system that HUD is in the process of implementing, based on a more sophisticated analysis of more recent data than is used in my system, produces even higher estimates.

4. I suggest using only three structure types, for simplicity and because more structure types don't have substantially different allowances.

5. My system should be much easier to update than the current system, because everything that must be updated is in one sheet (for both Miami and Homestead) and sources are clearly stated on that sheet.

Applicability of This Work

This utility allowance was done under contract with the Miami-Dade Housing Authority for its Section 8 program. It may not be used for any other purpose, or by any other Public Housing Authority or private entity, without the written consent of Alan Fox Consulting. In particular, it is not intended for Low Income Housing Tax Credit projects, as those are likely to be newer than those rented by voucher holders, with lower utility costs.

The Housing Authority's Current Approach

The Miami-Dade Housing Authority currently updates its utility allowances annually, presumably using up-to-date utility company costs. It is apparent that a great deal of work goes into this process, producing a document that spans over 80 pages. Specific comments follow:

1. In the absence of utility usage figures I don't see how one could update allowances based on current utility company charges. While these allowances might once have had a firm basis in fact, without actually reproducing the utility company's billing structure it is impossible to update allowances accurately for more than a few years.

2. An example of how this sort of system can go awry is that electric heating allowances are a great deal lower than gas allowances, while for water heating, electric allowances are a great deal higher. This is counter-intuitive.

3. The current allowances include five different structure types, but the results, at least for what should be the largest single category—air conditioning—are counter-intuitive. Air conditioning a 2 bedroom single family house ($21) should cost a lot more than a high-rise apartment ($18). For 3 bedroom houses, air conditioning is $24/month, compared to $25/month for 3 bedroom high rises.

   My guess is that these patterns are the result of a long-ago sample of actual dwelling units, which almost invariably lead to odd results. In all my years of studying Section 8 utility allowances I have never seen a sample-based system that was internally consistent. Specific problems with sample-based systems include the following:

   a. It is almost impossible to get responses from a truly representative sample of Section 8 families.
   b. Unless utility company data are obtained, it is a rare family that can estimate its annual consumption (in kilowatts, for electricity.) Obtaining utility company data can be very difficult, even with cooperative tenants. Furthermore, it is virtually impossible to separate consumption amounts for individual end-uses (heating, water heating, etc.)

c. Utility consumption is very much under the individual family's control, and a few extreme cases can seriously skew a sample. (In a climate like Miami's, that might be a family that habitually left its windows open for fresh air while using the air conditioner.) A change of tenancy can have a major effect on usage.
d. Consumption in a given year must be adjusted to long-term normal climate patterns, something that is almost never done.
e. Finally, the Section 8 program applies to a wide and constantly changing range of dwelling units, so a sample obtained in one year may not be valid in another year.

4. Fixed monthly costs are added for all three utilities—natural gas, electricity, and propane.
   a. For natural gas this makes sense as it is entirely possible for a home to be heated by electric space heaters while using gas for cooking and water heating.
   b. However, all homes use electricity, so there is no reason not to include the monthly charge in the Other Electric-Lighting line rather than a different line.
   c. Finally, for propane there is no need to add a monthly charge as the price of propane is so high that it will easily exceed the minimum charge—this constitutes double-counting.

5. There are only two allowances for water and sewer—Miami and Homestead. As will be seen later, water and sewer allowances can vary tremendously, so it is important to have separate allowances for at least the largest of the non-Miami cities.

6. Air conditioning allowances seem suspiciously low, and as will be shown later, are in fact much too low.

7. The annual updating process includes several pages of appliance costs, but the appliance allowances are suspiciously low and probably not related to the yearly changes in appliance costs. More on this later

The Utility Allowance Workbook

The utility allowance schedules, for both Miami and Homestead (form HUD-52667) are contained in one Microsoft Excel workbook:

Utility.Allowance.FLDade.20090317.xls which consists of a series of interrelated "sheets." These sheets are discussed in computational order—the way the results are computed—but the forms HUD-52667 are placed at the beginning of the workbook. Cells that might need to be updated in the future are highlighted in gray, and are all contained in sheet "Rates."

Sheet: Fuels Used [3]

According to the American Housing Survey for 2007 (AHS) electricity is by far the most common fuel for all purposes. Piped natural gas is a distant second, followed by a very small number (around 1%) that use propane. Interestingly for an area with such a hot climate, only about three-quarters of units have central air conditioning; presumably many of the remainder have room air conditioners.

Sheet: Consumption

This sheet calculates the consumption of various fuels by end-use, fuel, structure type, and number of bedrooms. It is based mostly on the guidelines that accompany form HUD-52667, with adjustments for the locality's heating and cooling degree-days, the number of bedrooms, structure type, and water inlet temperature.

No adjustments will ever need to be made to this sheet except if the underlying assumptions seem implausible. In particular, weather data (heating and cooling degree-days) must reflect long-run averages (in this case, 30-year averages obtained from the National Weather Service) so they are not expected to change in any substantial way any time soon.

Each worksheet cell has a name, as noted in the left and top margins. For example, the number of kilowatt-hours used for heating a 3 bedroom single family home in Miami is "UEHeat1.SF3."[4] These names are used in subsequent calculations rather than the cell locations (column I, row 18 in this example).

Only space heating and air conditioning consumption are affected by structure type; consumption for other uses of energy is assumed to be the same regardless of type. Thus, the suffix for heating and air conditioning begins with "SF" for single family, "DP" for duplex, and "AP" for apartments, followed by the number of bedrooms. (For example: gas for heating a 2 bedroom duplex is "UGHeat.DP2.") For other applications the suffix simply is the number of bedrooms (e.g., "UGCook.2BR" for gas cooking, 2 bedrooms).

I repeat the heating and air conditioning calculations for Homestead, using Homestead's heating and cooling degree days [displayed starting in row 42; calculations start in row 105].

① HUD Base Data

HUD's base data, published with its instructions for form HUD-52667, are shown here, for a "standard" home.[5] For example, HUD estimates that a 2 ½ bedroom single-family home in [3] The AHS is a cooperative project of the US Bureau of the Census and the Department of Housing and Urban Development. It provides national level data on a semi-annual basis and data for selected metropolitan areas every 4 years or so. The most recent Miami-Fort Lauderdale data were collected in 2007.

a location with 4,000 heating degree-days requires 680 kilowatts of electricity per month for space heating, or 48 therms of gas; for cooking it will require 110 kilowatts of electricity or 8 therms of gas (this is independent of climatic conditions.) This is the starting point of all subsequent calculations.

② Climatic Conditions—Heating and Cooling

Annual average heating and cooling degree-day statistics were obtained from the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration, National Weather Service.[6] Heating and cooling degree-days are a commonly accepted measure of heating and cooling requirements, based on the extent to which average daily temperatures fall short of 65° (during heating months) or exceed 75° (during cooling months.) I use monthly data, to reflect the proportion of heating and cooling that is needed in the various months. For the Miami Airport (MIA) there is an average of 4,361 cooling degree days per year. Homestead is 14% warmer, at 4,982 cooling degree days.

Heating degree days are practically nil in this area.

③ Bedroom Factors

HUD's instructions include factors that convert from its 2 ½ bedroom standard to sizes ranging from efficiency (0 bedrooms) through 5 bedrooms. For the very few units with over 5 bedrooms, I have added 15% to the 5 bedroom factor (for example, the 6 bedroom factor is 1.15 x 1.6 = 1.84 and the 7 bedroom factor is 1.15 x 1.15 x 1.6 = 2.1.)

④ Structure Type

The instructions provided by HUD require separate heating and cooling allowances for various types of structures, but do not suggest any numerical factors. Most utility companies cannot supply factors that hold the number of bedrooms constant.

The Residential Energy Conservation Survey is the best source of actual fuel usage that can be categorized by structure type, number of bedrooms, and size of unit (square feet of heated and cooled space.) This survey has the advantage over other approaches of reflecting actual experience rather than engineering calculations. For example, while engineering calculations would show that electric resistance heating is very expensive relative to other fuels, in actuality electrically-heated homes usually are better insulated than those heated with other fuels, and only certain rooms are heated rather than the entire structure, both of which considerably decrease this differential.

Data from the 1997 RECS were used to estimate energy consumption by building type, holding constant the number of bedrooms. Apartments with 5 or more units per structure needed only 55% as much electricity and 70% as much gas for heating as single-family dwellings having the same number of bedrooms. Smaller attached dwellings (duplexes through 4-flats) required 88% and 96% as many BTUs for electricity and gas, respectively.

There were not enough survey cases to analyze oil, propane, heat pump, or other heating fuels. In a recent report to HUD, it appears that heat pumps cost about one-half as much to run as electric resistance heating, which is what I have used in this report.[7]

The RECS data for air conditioning were implausible. I have set the air conditioning factors at the average of gas and electric heat—93% for duplexes and 62% for apartments. This seems plausible, although the client is encouraged to decide whether these factors seem reasonable for its homes.

Mobile homes (more accurately termed "manufactured homes") are inherently hard to heat, and should therefore use the same factors as single family, even though they tend to be smaller for a given number of bedrooms.

I have created utility allowances for the following three structure types:

Structure Type	Walls	Name Suffix
Single Family Detached or Manufactured Home	4 exposed walls	"SF"
Duplex, Townhouse or Garden Apartment	2 or 3 exposed walls	"DP"
Apartment (high rise)	1 or 2 exposed walls	"AP"

I believe three structure types are good enough for Section 8 uses—there is no need to distinguish between "townhouse" and "duplex-triplex-fourplex," for example. What is most important is to distinguish between high rise apartments (which may have as few as 1 exposed wall) and single family detached homes (4 exposed walls plus roof.)

⑤ Efficiency Factors

HUD's base consumption figures and methodology were originally published around 1975, based presumably on data accumulated through the early 1970s. In several areas where plausible consumption numbers could be obtained from local utility companies it became clear that HUD's numbers were too high, as a result of the energy conservation that has occurred since then. HUD is aware of this problem, but has not yet revised its instructions[8]. Based on my own

[7] Utility Model Evaluation, report prepared by 2rw+di, Charlottesville, VA, September, 2005, HUD Office of Policy Development & Research contract S4C5AAC0062, section 6.1.

[8] A recently developed system for estimating utility allowances, available on HUD's web site at www.huduser.org/resources/utilmodel.html, estimates consumption based on more recent RECS data. That system is still under development, and I am not yet ready to use its consumption estimates. Compared to my PIH-based system, that model points to higher consumption than my 35% efficiency factors suggest, presumably because homes have become bigger, counteracting the better efficiency of their heating and cooling systems. However, the older housing stock that Section 8 families probably would rent might not have gotten larger, so for now I stand by my 35% efficiency factor. In any case, my air conditioning estimates are substantially higher than the current PHA's estimates, and using the new HUD system would make them higher yet.

rough analysis of the Department of Energy's 1997 Residential Energy Conservation Survey (RECS), I have created efficiency factors for heating and air conditioning and set them at 0.65, indicating a 35% decrease in average consumption since the HUD data were compiled.[9]

⑥ Propane BTU Factor

A gallon of propane (also known as LPG or bottled gas) produces less heat (measured in British Thermal Units or BTUs) than a therm of natural gas. This factor (about 1.09) is applied to the propane heating, water heating, and cooking calculations.

⑦ Cold Water Inlet Temperature

HUD's calculation for water heating assumes a 50° cold water inlet temperature, indicating that the water heater must raise water temperature 70° to reach 120°. The locality's average annual cold water inlet temperature is inserted here (named WTempLocal.) Obtaining an annual-average inlet temperature can be very difficult, but in this particular area I did once get a value from the water department that almost precisely matched what I would have estimated based on a regression model.[10]

⑧ Total Annual Consumption

I have added two boxes at the bottom of this sheet—total annual consumption for the most common combinations (3 bedroom single family and 2 bedroom apartments.)

Mathematical Example 1—Air Conditioning

The following example shows the air conditioning calculation for a 2 bedroom apartment, with references to the spreadsheet factors mentioned above:

	180	HUD's base consumption for single-family 2 ½ bedroom, at 1,000 cooling degree-days per year, using 1970's efficiency	①
x	4361/1000	Annual cooling degree-days divided by HUD standard	②
x	0.90	Factor for 2 bedrooms compared with 2 ½	③
x	0.80	Structure-type factor for apartments, derived from RECS	④
x	0.65	Cooling efficiency factor, derived from RECS	⑤
=	367.4	Monthly average kilowatts (cell H-34, named UEAC1.AP2) [11]

[9] These numbers are close to those obtained by two HUD-sponsored contracts. See 2rw+di, Utility Model Evaluation, HUD contract S4C5AAC0062, September, 2005.

[10] Temperature obtained from the Miami-Dade Water Department in late-2008, for some ongoing research for HUD.

[11] Most numbers in the spreadsheet are rounded; however, the actual calculations are carried out to many decimal places.

Mathematical Example 2—Gas Water Heating

I used the PIH formula, adjusted for the local average inlet water temperature, which for this area is 73.5°. Thus, for a 120° water heater temperature (the standard used by HUD) homes in this area require a rise of 46.5° rather than HUD's standard rise of 70° (which assumes a 50° inlet temperature.) The HUD-standard usage has therefore been multiplied by 50/73.5. The calculation for a 2 bedroom apartment using natural gas for water heating is:

	21	HUD's base consumption for 2 ½ bedroom	①
x	0.90	Factor for 2 bedrooms compared with 2 ½	③
x	50/73.5	Local water inlet temperature, compared to HUD's standard of 50°	⑦
=	12.9	Monthly average gallons of propane (cell H-12, named UGHwat.2BR)

Note that this calculation is not affected by structure type—only air conditioning and space heating are affected by structure type.

Mathematical Example 3—Lighting

This item represents electricity used for purposes not otherwise listed—lighting, refrigerators, computers, etc.) HUD provides a range from 250 to 400 kilowatts per month. I use the bottom of that range, arguing that refrigerators have become much more efficient than they were 25 years ago. The calculation is very simple, as it does not depend on structure type or climatic conditions; for a 2 bedroom apartment it is:

	250	HUD's base consumption for single family 2 ½ bedroom	①
x	0.90	Factor for 2 bedrooms compared with 2 ½	③
=	225	Monthly average kilowatts (cell H-7, named UELight.2BR)

Sheet: Rates

This worksheet summarizes the utility rates that must be checked and updated every year. The latest data are contained in the gray-filled cells. These cells are referred to in the columns marked "Rates," and are named for use in other sheets. The sources of these numbers are listed in column D, along with some notes.

Note that I add up various components of each utility's rates to arrive at total costs per unit (kilowatt, therm, or gallon). These summary cells must not be altered in any way when the rates are updated. Only cells with gray background should be checked annually. Yellow cells indicate variable names that are used in future calculations—the cell to the right of each yellow cell has a name that is used in subsequent calculations.

Electricity—Miami & Dade County

The main electric supplier in Dade County, other than Homestead, is Florida Power & Light (FPL.) The cost of electricity consists of the following components:

1. A monthly fixed charge of $5.33, independent of the amount used (cell C-18.)

2. Various charges that are applied to the amount of electricity used. These are:

    a. Base Energy Charge of about 3.4¢ per kilowatt for the first 1,000 kWh consumed each month, and 4.4¢ for amounts over that.
    b. Fuel Charge, which reflects the cost of buying or generating electricity, of about 5.5¢ per kilowatt for the first 1,000 and 6.5¢ over that. These rates were effective January, 2009.
    c. Three riders, totaling about 1¢ per kilowatt.

3. Various taxes and fees that add up to about 15.3%. Taxes in Florida are extremely complicated, because there are 4 different taxes that are each applied to different components of the electric bill. These are shown in sheet "TaxCalculations" for Homestead Electric (but are identical for FPL.) What I have done in this sheet is calculate each of the 4 taxes and fees separately for representative monthly consumption amounts, divided the total by the base electric bill, and calculated an average across these consumption amounts.

    There is no need to update these very complicated calculations any time soon, unless there has been a major change in the tax structure, which seems unlikely.

For computational simplicity I have added up all these charges, fees and surcharges, so that there is just one fixed charge and two variable charges. These are:

1. $6.14 fixed charge (called "E1Fixed" in cell C-12) and

2. 11.532¢/kilowatt for the first 1,000 kilowatts and 13.874¢ for each kilowatt over that. These are named E1Cost1 and E1Cost2 in cells C-14 and C-15, respectively.

Electricity—Homestead Only

Homestead Electric's rate structure is simpler than Florida Power's, because there no rate bands. The total fixed charge (including taxes and fees) is $6.46/month (called "E2Fixed, in cell C-34), and the total per-kilowatt charge is 13.944¢ per kilowatt regardless of amount used, about the same as Florida Power's rate for over-1,000 kWh band (i.e., Homestead Electric's rates are a bit higher than FPL's.) This charge is named "E2Cost" and is shown in cell C-35.

Natural Gas

Natural gas throughout Dade County is supplied by TECO/Peoples Gas, using a simple formula without any rate bands. The cost consists of the following:

1. Customer Charge: a fixed $10.00 per month regardless of usage. [12]

2. Distribution Charge of $0.46 per therm. This is set by the Florida Public Utilities Commission and is likely to remain rather stable.

3. Purchased Gas Adjustment (PGA) which is the cost of natural gas as bought (and passed through) by TECO. It is highly variable—for March 2008 through February 2009 it averaged about $1.21 per therm; in November 2008 it was only $1.02/therm. Given the current state of the economy—and generally lower fossil-fuel costs—I propose using $1.10/therm as an expected average cost for the next 12 months.

4. Taxes and other fees, totaling about 14.4% of the total energy charge (see sheet TaxCalculations.) This calculation is even more convoluted than that for electricity, as one of the largest components is applied to the PGA limited to 1973 [sic.] levels. Thus, total gas taxes are slightly lower than total electric taxes (15.3%, explained above.)

To simplify utility cost calculations I have incorporated all surcharges, taxes, and fees into the fixed charge and the charge per therm. These are $11.44 per month and $1.79 per therm, respectively, and are named GFixed and GCost (cells C-46 and C-46.)

Propane

This fuel is very infrequently used (by about 1% of respondents to the American Housing Survey, except that about 3% of homes use it for cooking.) Furthermore, propane prices are notoriously variable over time and between individual suppliers. I was quoted prices ranging from $3.50 (Amerigas, for a total of over 300 gallons per year) and $4.25 (Homestead Gas, which tried hard to avoid quoting me a price.) I use the average of the two ($3.88; named LCost, cell C-57.)

Water and Sewer

Water and sewer rates tend to vary a great deal between jurisdictions, and can be particularly high in the smaller cities and rural areas. For this reason we decided to examine water and sewer rates among a range of cities, in decreasing order by the number of Section 8 families, as shown in sheet Sec8FamilyLocations. Section 8 families are concentrated in the city of Miami (44%), followed by Homestead (9%), Cutler Bay (7%), Miami Gardens and Hialeah (6% each), Doral (4%), Opa Locka (3%), and many others, each with under 3% of the total. I obtained water and sewer rates for Miami through Opa Locka, which together account for about 80% of the total.

[12] This is an important part of the average customer's bill in Dade County, as heating costs are so small.

The Miami Dade Water and Sewer Department services Cutler Bay, Doral, and Miami Gardens, so there is no need for separate calculations. Others are described below.

Miami, Cutler Bay, Doral, Miami Gardens [and undoubtedly others]: For water, charges are organized in 4 rate bands, from 37¢ per 100 cubic feet (CCF) for under 5 CCF per month, to $3.28 for consumption over 18 CCF/month. Sewer charges are a bit simpler, as there are only 3 rate bands. For both water and sewer there are fixed monthly charges. Trash is a fixed $439 per year regardless of family size.

Hialeah: Hialeah's charges are very tricky, as they are stated per 100 gallons, in 4 rate bands. In addition there is a rather high tax of 17.5%. To simplify the calculations I have converted these to dollars per 1,000 gallons, including taxes; these are shown in rows 84-97. For future updates, it is important to deal with the gray cell area, rows 101-113. Trash is $54 every other month (another subtlety that the user must be aware of.)

Opa Locka: Opa Locka's water and sewer rates are extremely high, ranging upward of $10 per 1,000 gallons.[13] The resulting calculations indicate water and sewer charges that are at least twice as high as any other city considered, particularly for large dwellings that use lots of water. There is no separate charge for trash collection.

Homestead: Homestead's water and sewer rates are relatively low and unblocked; in addition there are relatively high fixed monthly charges. Trash collection costs $35 per month.

Sheet: ConsumptionBaselines

This sheet is used in the calculation of air conditioning and heating, for utilities that have a blocked price structure, like Florida Power. It calculates the baseline consumption for all uses other than air conditioning or heating (electric cooking, water heating, and lighting), and allocates the cost of air conditioning between the under-1,000 kilowatt block and the over-1,000 kilowatt block.

For example, the baseline consumption for a 3 bedroom house is 650.4 kilowatts per month (cell F-16.) In August, air conditioning requires 877.2 kilowatts (sheet Heat_AC_Single_Family, cell I-75.) Therefore, of this 877.2 kilowatts,

1. 349.6 kilowatts are charged at the below-1,000 kilowatt rate (= 1000 – 650.4), and
2. The remaining 527.6 kilowatts are charged at the above-1,000 kilowatt rate (= 877.2 – 349.6.)

[13] They were so high that I verified that the numbers are correct and that here was no confusion over decimal places.

Sheet: Heat_AC_Single_Family_Miami
Sheet: Heat_AC_Duplex_Miami
Sheet: Heat_AC_Apartment_Miami

These sheets show the calculation of air conditioning and heating costs for the three structure types: single family or manufactured homes, duplexes, and apartments. These calculations use the consumption figures already calculated, allocated by the number of heating or cooling degree-days in each month, both found in sheet Usage, the cost structure found in sheet Rates and, for electricity outside of Homestead, the allocation by price block shown in sheet ConsumptionBaselines.

My examples are all for 3 bedroom single family homes. Similar calculations are made for duplexes and apartments.

Electric Air Conditioning [EAC1.SF3]

Calculation	Cell	Explanation
561.26	I-65	Monthly average consumption (from Consumption, cell I-20)
x 12		Convert to annual total
x 0.13025		13.025% of annual consumption is in August (Consumption, cell M-93)
=877.2	C-68	Kilowatts used in August[14]
349.6	P-75	Kilowatts at below-1,000 rate (= 1000 – baseline of 650.4)
x $0.11532		Cost per kilowatt in below-1000 band (E1Cost1, shown in Rates cell C-14)
+ 527.6	Q-75	Kilowatts at above-1,000 rate (= 877.2 – 349.6)
x $0.13874		Cost per kilowatt in above-1,000 band (E1Cost2, shown in Rates cell C-15)
= $113.52	J-75	August cost of air conditioning

Similar calculations are made for each month (cells J-68 through j-79), and these are added up for the year ($843.34; cell J-66) and divided by 12 to get a monthly average ($70.28; cell J-65). This result, named EAC1.SF3, is rounded and transferred to the sheet HUD-52667_SingleFamily_Miami ($70; cell F-17.)

Note that the fixed monthly charge (E1Fixed, $6.14, sheet Rates, cell C-12) is not added to this calculation; it will be added to Other Electric-Lighting.

Electric Heating [EHeat1.SF3]

This calculation is very similar to air conditioning, and for Miami it, too, includes the use of baseline consumption, but only for the very largest single family houses (6 or more bedrooms) does total consumption (baseline plus electric heating) ever exceed the 1,000 kilowatt threshold.

[14] Note that all calculations are carried out to many decimal places but rounded for display, and hence may be very slightly different from what I describe here.

Heat Pump Heating [HHeat1.SF3]

Heat pumps are ideally suited to the warm climate of Dade County. A HUD contractor has estimated that heat pumps use about one-half the electricity of electric resistance heating in mild climates, so the calculation of heat pump heating is simply based on ½ of the monthly electric resistance consumption.[15] See cells H-65 through H-79.

Gas Heating [GHeat1.SF3]

Because gas costs do not vary by level of consumption, the calculations (shown in cells E-65 through E-79) are very simple, and needn't be detailed here. The only subtlety is that the fixed cost of gas (GFixed, $11.44, sheet Rates cell C-46) is inserted as a separate line in form HUD-52667 (row 25.)

Propane Heating [LHeat1.SF3]

Like piped gas, propane is charged by the gallons, without a fixed monthly fee. The calculation of propane heating (shown in cells G-65 through G-79) is therefore very simple and isn't discussed here.

Sheet: Heat_AC_SingleFam_Homestead [16]
Sheet: Heat_AC_Duplex_Homestead
Sheet: Heat_AC_Apartment_Homestead

Air conditioning and heating costs are calculated in these sheets for Homestead residents. Because Homestead Electric does not use a blocked rate structure the calculations are very simple and are not detailed here. Note that the monthly consumption amounts differ from Miami's because Homestead's climate generally is a bit cooler.

The results for Homestead are named differently: EAC2.SF3, etc.

Sheet Water_Sewer_Trash

A. Water and Sewer

Water consumption is based on 80 gallons per person per day for single family homes which are assumed to have yards to care for, and 60 for all other types of structures. These numbers are considered average in the industry

The number of persons living in units of each bedroom size is a matter of conjecture; what I used was 1 person in a studio, 1.5 in a 1-bedroom unit, 2.5 in a 2 bedroom unit, and an additional 1.5 person for each additional bedroom.[17]

[16] Note the slightly different sheet name, made necessary by Excel's limitation on the name width.

These calculations are done separately for the four areas (cities or groups of cities) that have substantial numbers of Section 8 families and different water, sewer or trash rates.

Area 1: Miami and elsewhere supplied by Miami-Dade

The cost of water rises as consumption rises, and hence my example is for a 5 bedroom single family home, which consumes enough to put it in the fourth price block:

Amount calculation:

80	Gallons per day per person
x 7.0	Persons assumed to live in this unit
x 30	Days per month
x .13368	Cubic feet per gallon
÷ 100	Convert to hundreds
= 22.5	Hundreds of cubic feet (CCF) per month [cell H-8]

Cost calculation:

5 x .3740	Cost of 5 CCF, block 1, plus
6 x 1.7402	Cost of 6 CCF, block 2, plus
7 x 2.4834	Cost of 7 CCF, block 3, plus
4.5 x 3.2837	Cost of remaining 4.5 CCF at 3.2837, plus
3.20	Fixed monthly charge
= $47.42	Total cost [cell H-11, named Water1.SF5][18]

The sewer calculation is very similar, except that there are only three price blocks instead of 4.

Area 2: Hialeah

The calculation for Hialeah is very similar, with 4 price blocks, except that prices are per 1,000 gallons (shown in row 7) rather than hundreds of cubic feet (row 8.)

[17] This assumption was supplied by Joseph P. Riley, Director of the Economic and Market Analysis Division, Office of Policy Development & Research, HUD.

[18] The actual formula is complicated by the fact that it must allow for all possible price blocks and consumption amounts, as follows (where H$8 is the consumption, in hundreds of cubic feet):

=IF(H$8<=4.9,W1Cost1*H$8,	In block 1
IF(H$8<=10.9,W1Cost1*5+W1Cost2*(MAX(H$8-5,0)),	In block 2: block 1 + remainder
IF(H$8<=17.9,W1Cost1*5+W1Cost2*6+W1Cost3*MAX(H$8-11),	In block 3: blocks 1+2 + remainder
IF(H$8>=18,W1Cost1*5+W1Cost2*6+W1Cost3*7+W1Cost4*MAX(H$8-18,0)))))	In block 4: blocks 1+2+3 + remainder
+W1Fixed	Plus fixed monthly charge

Area 3: Opa Locka

Opa Locka's water and sewer rates are spectacularly high. The 3 price blocks for water top out at $11.08 per thousand gallons, while the 2 price blocks for sewer top out at $10.27. Furthermore, the highest-cost price blocks begin in the middle of the consumption spectrum. For this reason, total water and sewer costs for Opa Locka are about twice as high as Miami-Dade, and even higher for the largest homes that consume mostly in the highest price block.

This confirms the importance of examining water and sewer costs in different communities within a PHA's jurisdiction—they can vary a great deal.

Area 4: Homestead

Homestead's water and sewer rates are low and simple, with no price blocks. The resulting costs are the lowest in Dade County.

B. Trash

Trash rates (where applicable) are very simple throughout the area. They are a fixed amount regardless of the number of bedrooms or structure type. The only subtlety is that they are stated differently: Miami charges by the year, Hialeah charges bimonthly, Homestead charges by the month, and Opa Locka doesn't charge at all for trash pickup. These amounts have all been converted to monthly amounts in this sheet.

Because none of these jurisdictions charges differently for duplexes and apartments, I have only listed the monthly amounts in the top portion of this table.

Range and Refrigerator Rental

HUD's instructions specify that: "Allowances for ranges and refrigerators must be based on the lesser of the cost of leasing or installment purchasing of suitable equipment."

Sears Roebuck specifies about a 40-month payback period on installment purchasing—a $550 range or refrigerator would cost $14 per month.[19] In other areas where I have worked, rental companies quoted far higher leasing rates than for installment purchasing, about $55 a month for a range and $75 for a refrigerator.[20] Furthermore, I suspect that many Section 8 tenants would not have the type of credit history required for an installment purchase.

In other areas where I have studied this issue, it is clear that most Section 8 clients who have to supply their own range or refrigerator do so by buying second-hand appliances. Assuming that a second-hand appliance costs about one-half of a new one (taking into consideration its shorter expected longevity and greater likelihood of repairs), allowances of $7 per month seem reasonable, which is what I have used throughout.

[19] After adding sales tax and delivery charges the actual payback period would be 44-48 months. See www.Sears.com.

[20] I sent this analysis to the Office of Public and Indian Housing at HUD many years ago, but never received any comments. This is one issue that needs to be dealt with in HUD's revision of utility allowance computations.

Sheet: HUD-52667_Single_Family_Miami or ~Homestead
Sheet: HUD-52667_Duplex or ~Homestead
Sheet: HUD-52667_Apartment or ~Homestead

These sheets summarize all utility allowances as required by form HUD-52667. Except for cooking, lighting, and water heating, the dollar amounts are all transcribed from other sheets.

Heating and Air Conditioning: The costs of space heating are transcribed from the sheets Heat_AC_....

Water, Sewer, Trash, Range, and Refrigerator: These costs are transcribed from sheet Water_Sewer_Trash. For residents of cities not listed here, I suggest simply using the rates for Miami.

Cooking: The cost of cooking is calculated in this sheet, using data from sheets Consumption and Rates. For Miami electric cooking, I use the lower (below-1,000 kilowatts/month) rate.

Other Electric/Lighting: This uses the lower rate, but I have added the fixed monthly amount since electric use is universal.

Water Heating: This is calculated exactly the same as for cooking.

Other: Natural Gas Customers Add: This is where the fixed monthly charge added for customers who use natural gas for any purpose. As explained earlier, there is no need for this type of line for either electricity, whose fixed charge has been added to Other Electric, or for propane, which does not have a fixed charge.

Sheet: Comparisons

This sheet compares the newly calculated utility allowances with those in Miami-Dade's current utility allowances, dated April, 2008. It highlights the most common structures—3 bedroom single family houses and 2 bedroom apartments. Differences are shown for both individual items and common combinations (e.g., all-electric, paying for water and sewer; or mixed gas-electric.)

My conclusions are stated in the "Highlights" section at the beginning of these notes. In brief, the revised allowances are a lot higher than the PHA's allowances—38% higher for all-electric 3 bedroom houses in Miami and 21% higher for 2 bedroom apartments. For Homestead the differences are about the same.

Future Updates—Sheet "Rates"

Updating this utility allowance schedule should be relatively easy, as only a few parameters need to be changed. All that is necessary is a phone call or web search to the person or company listed for each utility, then changing the spreadsheet cell if needed. All numbers that may need to be changed are in sheet Rates, highlighted in gray. There is no need to modify any of the other sheets.

There is no need to update the Range and Refrigerator rates.

The process is as follows:

1. Make backup file: Before doing anything, save a copy of the old file under a different name. In Excel this can be done with the command <File> <SaveAs> {oldname.new-date}. For next year the new name might be: Utility.Allowance.FLDade.20100301.xls (assuming the update is made on March 1, 2010.)

2. Date: Enter the effective date of the allowance, using format mm/dd/yyyy.

3. Update Sheet *Rates

   For all rates, go to the sources cited in sheet Rates, column D. If you use a web site, it is wise to call the company to verify that it's the most current rate.

   I do not recommend relying on utility company or news reports about "changes in utility rates," as these often do not reflect the changes in total costs—only by actually updating the Rates sheet is it possible to ascertain changes in costs.

4. Update Sheet *Comparisons

   HUD specifies that utility allowances must be updated when any utility changes by 10% or more, without specifying precisely what that means. I interpret it as meaning when either the total utility cost changes by 10% or more ("most common combination," in sheet "Comparisons"), or when heating, air conditioning, or water/sewer costs change by 10% or more. I have asked HUD several times to clarify what their instructions mean, without any success.

   To update the "Comparisons" sheet you need to manually enter the old (i.e., current) utility costs in column B. This sheet automatically makes the comparisons (in dollar and percentage terms) against the new utility costs (in column C) that use the updated utility company rates.

Energy Conservation Measures

It is of utmost importance to emphasize energy conservation to your clients. Some years ago I was the volunteer facilities manager of an assisted housing program in Washington, DC, whose tenants were having serious problems paying their utility bills. Upon inspection and interviews I found that almost all were misusing their heat pumps and close to doubling their utility bills. The following suggestions were very helpful to them, and I repeat them for you. I suggest that your staff discuss these and similar issues during initial intake and annual recertification:

1. Dress for the climate—sweaters in winter and shorts in summer.

2. In the winter, set the thermostat to 68 degrees and if you're cold, use a small electric heater to help heat the room you're in rather than raise the temperature of the whole house.

3. In the summer, set the thermostat to around 75 degrees, and use a fan to help you keep cool—it's much cheaper than running the air conditioner.

4. Let the thermostat do its job. If you've gone out and lowered the temperature to 60 degrees, when you return set the thermostat to 68 degrees only. Setting it to 75 to get it to heat faster is terribly inefficient and in most cases doesn't help.[21]

5. Set aside money during mild weather to pay for extra costs in the summer. Utility allowances are an average for the entire year; they aren't intended to be high enough to pay for heating during the coldest months and air conditioning during the hottest months.

Special Attention of: Office Directors of Public Housing; Regional Directors; Public Housing Agencies.	Notice PIH 2009 -13 (HA) Issued: May 6, 2009 Expires: May 31, 2010 Cross References:

SUBJECT: Implementation of the Federal Fiscal Year 2009 Funding Provisions for the Housing Choice Voucher Program

1. Purpose. This Notice implements the Housing Choice Voucher (HCV) program funding provisions resulting from enactment of the "Omnibus Appropriations Act, 2009" (Public Law 111-8), referred to hereinafter as "the 2009 Act," enacted on March 11, 2009. The 2009 Act establishes the allocation methodology for calculating housing assistance payments (HAP) renewal funds, new incremental vouchers and administrative fees.

2. Background. In Federal Fiscal Year (FFY) 2007, the Revised Continuing Appropriations Resolution, 2007 (Revised CR 2007) (Public Law 110-5), enacted on February 15, 2007, established a new methodology for HAP renewal funding for the calendar year (CY) 2007 funding cycle. This new methodology required using the Voucher Management System (VMS) leasing and cost data for the most recently completed period of 12 consecutive months for which the Secretary determined the data to be verifiable and complete, prior to pro rations, and by applying the 2007 Annual Adjustment Factor (AAF) as established by the Secretary, and by making any necessary adjustments for the costs associated with the first-time renewal of tenant protection or HOPE VI vouchers or vouchers that were not in use during the 12-month period in order to be available to meet a commitment pursuant to section 8(o)(13) of the Act. This renewal methodology is commonly referred to as re-benchmarking. The 2008 Appropriations Act continued this methodology of re-benchmarking using a new baseline period (FFY 2007) for calculation of HAP renewal funding for CY 2008. The 2009 Act also continues this methodology and establishes a new re-benchmarking period (FFY 2008) as described below.

3. Calculation of CY 2009 HAP Funding Allocations:

The 2009 Appropriations Act requires that HUD utilize a re-benchmarking renewal formula based on leasing and cost data for the 2008 Federal Fiscal Year. The renewal provisions in the Act are stated in Appendix A. HUD will provide renewal funding as follows:

A. A new HAP funding baseline will be established based on validated leasing and HAP cost data (capped at the total units month available) in VMS for FFY 2008, the period of October 1, 2007 through September 30, 2008.

B. The funding baseline will be increased to provide funds for the first time renewal of certain vouchers as identified in Appendix B, awarded to PHAs effective August 1, 2007 and later and expiring before December 31, 2009 as the HAP costs for those vouchers may not be fully reflected in VMS. HUD will adjust funding for these vouchers to ensure voucher funding is provided for 12 months during CY 2009. For purposes of making the adjustment, HUD will assume that the vouchers are leased 90 days after the effective date of the increment and are reflected in VMS from that point forward. For those periods not covered by the original funding award and not included in VMS, HUD will fund the higher of the per unit amount initially funded or the validated per unit VMS amount. The following is a hypothetical example of an increment awarded in CY 2008 which will expire in CY2009:

New Increment Effective Date:	April 1, 2008
New Increment Expiration Date:	March 31, 2009
Number of Units:	75
Budget Authority (BA):	$472,500
Per Unit BA:	$525
(BA divided by 75 units and divided by12 months)
Average FFY 2007VMS per Unit Cost:	$480

Funding in 2009:	Months
1. January through March of 2009 from the original BA;	3
2. Leasing and costs assumed in VMS beginning July 1, 2008 (90 days after effective date) through September 2008;	3
3. 2009 Adjustment for remaining months funded at higher of original per unit BA or average PUC from VMS baseline; in this example. (They are funded at $525 per unit per month, for 75 units)	6
Total months funded in 2009.	12

C. Adjustment for costs associated with deposits to family self-sufficiency (FSS) program escrow accounts will be calculated based on the number of new FSS participants with progress reports in PIC for the period October 1, 2008 through March 31, 2009 (representing a 6 month period) multiplied by two (for a total of 12 months) then multiplied by the average monthly escrow deposit in PIC (assumes escrows for the re-benchmarking period are already included in the baseline as they are reported in VMS).

D. The HUD-published AAF for 2009 will be applied to the PHA's calculated twelve month renewal requirement after all adjustments have been applied. The specific AAF that HUD will use pursuant to Congress' direction to reflect inflation can be found at HUD's website at: http://www.hud.gov/offices/pih/programs/hcv/. The AAF, from Table 1, that includes the highest cost utility will be applied. The AAF will be adjusted upward by a factor of 25 percent, to reflect the time lag between the end of the re-benchmarking period (October 1, 2008) and the beginning of CY 2009.

E. This baseline amount will be increased or decreased respectively to reflect the transfer of vouchers to or from the PHA, to ensure the costs represented by transferred vouchers are included in the eligibility of the receiving PHA.

F. HUD will determine the total eligibility for all PHAs, compare that amount to the total FY 2009 appropriation available for renewals, and will prorate each PHA's CY 2009 eligibility.

G. In accordance with the 2009 Act (see Appendix B for Appropriations Act text), HUD will reduce the total pro-rated nationwide eligibility by $750,000,000 by offsetting each PHA's CY 2009 allocation by a portion of that PHA's Net Restricted Assets (NRA) balance in accordance with VMS data for calendar year 2008. HUD will utilize the most recent NRA balance (December 31, 2008) when calculating the offsets from PHAs. Note that, by law, this calculation cannot take into account any reduction in NRA balances by PHAs after December 31, 2008.

   For Moving to Work (MTW) agencies, this offset only applies to HCV funds attributable to vouchers that are not covered by the MTW agreement, or as provided specifically in a PHA's agreement.

   The offset for each PHA will be based on the following provisions; these provisions rely on the definitions of usable NRA and unusable NRA that follow:

   - No offset will be applied to any PHA whose baseline vouchers numbered 250 or fewer in CY 2008;

   - If a PHA's leasing rate and utilization rate for CY 2008 were less than 88 percent of vouchers and budget authority available, all unusable NRA and one-half of usable NRA will be offset;

   - If a PHA's leasing or utilization rate for CY 2008 was 88 percent or more of vouchers or budget authority available, but less than 96 percent unusable NRA will be offset to the extent that it exceeds 2.5 percent of the PHA's CY 2008 pro-rated renewal eligibility and 40 percent of usable NRA will be offset.

   - If a PHA's leasing or utilization rate for CY2008 was 96 percent or higher, unusable NRA will be offset to the extent that it exceeds 4.5 percent of the PHA's CY2008 pro-rated renewal eligibility and 35 percent of usable NRA will be offset.

- The Department will make adjustments to ensure that NRA is not offset to the extent it is required to maintain leasing and costs as of December 31, 2008, not to exceed baseline leasing.

- If these procedures do not yield a total of $750,000,000 in offsets, additional amounts will be offset in equal proportion from PHAs with total remaining excess NRA balances.

- Although the funds for the HUD-Veteran's Affairs Supportive Housing Program (HUD-VASH) were fully obligated in April of 2008, the program was not fully operation until later in the year. Therefore, HUD will not take into account any funds awarded under the HUD-VASH program in 2008 for purposes of the offset.

Definitions:

- Usable NRA is that amount of the total that would be required to enable the PHA to reach 100 percent utilization of baseline unit months; it is calculated as the average per unit cost for CY 2008 multiplied by the number of unleased unit months for the year.
- Unusable NRA this amount is calculated as the difference between the total NRA and usable NRA.

4. Net Restricted Assets (HAP Equity): By letter of January 29, 2009, PHAs were advised to review all data currently in VMS for the period of January 1, 2005 through December 31, 2008. PHAs were advised that this review was the final opportunity to update VMS data before it was used for any funding or NRA purposes in CY 2009. PHAs will be advised of the calculated balance in their Net Restricted Assets account as of December 31, 2008, the useable and unusable portions, and the impact on the calculation of any offset to be applied to the renewal funding awarded for CY2009. The calculations will include any validated and approved changes to VMS data for the period of January 1, 2005 through December 31, 2008 that affect the NRA balances. These calculations will be provided with the CY 2009 allocation letters.

   PHAs are advised that VMS data for the period 2005 through 2007 that each PHA confirmed through this process will not be updated in CY 2009 or in the future for purposes of funding or NRA calculations except as determined necessary by HUD (for example, Quality Assurance Division VMS reviews and/or audits).

5. Set-Aside of up to $100 million to Adjust PHA Allocations:

   The 2009 Act provides that up to $100 million shall be available only: (1) to adjust the allocations for public housing agencies, after application for an adjustment by a public housing agency that experienced a significant increase, as determined by the Secretary, in renewal costs of tenant-based rental assistance resulting from unforeseen circumstances or from portability under section 8(r) of the Act; (2) for adjustment for public housing agencies with voucher leasing rates at the end of the calendar year that exceed the average leasing for the 12-month period used to establish the allocation; (3) for adjustments for the costs associated with Veteran's Administration Supportive Housing (VASH) vouchers; and (4) for vouchers that were not in use during the 12-month period in order to be available to meet a commitment pursuant to section 8(o)13 (project-based voucher assistance) of the Act.

The Department will review the latest NRA balance, after the application of the mandatory offsets from the renewal funding, for each applicant agency to determine if the requested set-side funds are needed. Additionally, if eligible requests exceed the funding available, all awards for all categories will be subject to proration. Set-aside funds may not be granted for any purposes other than those cited above. Calculations and funding will be determined by HUD for all eligible agencies, including eligible Moving to Work (MTW) agencies. For all eligible categories, the application deadline is May 22, 2009. Submission requirements are described below.

A. Category (1) eligibility provides for adjustments for PHAs that experienced a significant increase in renewal costs from unforeseen circumstances. To be eligible for funding under this category, the unforeseen circumstances must be substantiated with sufficient evidence for a HUD analyst to justify approval and determine a funding amount under this category. This evidence must be submitted by the deadline date, along with the completed and signed Attachment A to this Notice. HUD reserves the right to request additional information if necessary.

For Category (1), PHAs are required to submit documentation to support a request for funding adjustments. The following are some non-exclusive examples of unforeseen circumstances:

- PHAs whose jurisdiction and tenants had experienced a severe loss of employment/income.
- PHAs that were required by a court to take actions that increased their per unit costs.
- PHAs that have experienced significant increases in the cost of assistance due to an unforeseeable rise in rental costs.
- PHAs directed by HUD not to lease vouchers provided as a result of a housing conversion action, and in place during the baseline period, that were later required to lease those held vouchers.

B. Category (1) eligibility also provides for adjustments for PHAs that experienced an increase in renewal costs from portability under Section 8(r) of the Act for tenant-based rental assistance. Renewal costs for portability will be based upon PIC reporting of portable vouchers being billed to each PHA and the average cost of those vouchers as compared to the PHA's CY 2009 funded rate, which is the FFY 2008 average HAP costs adjusted via the 2009 AAF. The Department will calculate eligibility under this category, therefore, no additional documentation will be required or accepted other than Attachment A, which must be completed, signed and submitted by the deadline date.

C. Category (2) eligibility for adjustment for public housing agencies with voucher leasing rates at the end of the calendar year that exceed the average leasing for the 12-month period used to establish the allocation. To determine eligibility under this category, the Department will compare the PHA's leasing from VMS, at the higher of the unit months leased in December 2008 or the average unit months leased in October through December 2008 to the average of the 12 months of FFY 2008. The Department will then calculate the number of unit months the PHA would be able to lease based on the CY 2009 re-benchmarking funding allocation. If the difference is a decrease of 3 percent or more in the number of unit months the PHA would be able to lease in CY 2009 using the level of funding provided under the re-benchmarking funding allocation, the PHA will be eligible for funding under this category. The Department will calculate eligibility under this category, therefore, no additional documentation will be required or accepted other than Attachment A, which must be completed, signed and submitted by the deadline date.

D. Category (3) provides for adjustments for the costs associated with Veteran's Administration Supportive Housing (VASH) vouchers. To be eligible for funding under this category, the PHA must submit evidence of anticipated VASH costs for CY 2009 which will exceed the CY2009 VASH funding and the PHA's available VASH NRA. A request under this category must be substantiated with sufficient evidence for a HUD analyst to justify approval and determine a funding amount under this category. This evidence, along with the completed and signed Attachment A, must be submitted by the deadline date.

E. Category (4) provides for adjustments for vouchers that were not in use during the 12-month period in order to be available to meet a commitment for project-based voucher assistance under section 8(o) 13 of the Act. Adjustments will apply only to vouchers withheld pursuant to a project based voucher commitment for newly constructed or rehabilitated housing. Adjustments will not apply to existing housing as there is no waiting period for existing housing project based voucher commitments; therefore, there is no need to withhold vouchers. For each project based voucher commitment for which a request is being made under this category, the PHA must provide an executed Agreement to Enter into a HAP Contract (AHAP), in its entirety including all exhibits. If the Housing Assistance Payments (HAP) Contract has been executed by the time of the submission of this request for adjustment, the executed HAP Contract, in its entirety including all exhibits, must also be submitted or the PHA must state that the HAP Contract has not yet been executed. These documents, along with the completed and signed Attachment A, and the completed and signed Attachment B (for every project based commitment) must be submitted by the deadline date.

Documentation requirements for each category are provided on Attachment A (and above) to this Notice. PHAs are advised to provide, where applicable, the appropriate supporting documentation along with the completed/signed Attachment A and Attachment B, where applicable, by the deadline date established below.

Submission Requirements:

To be eligible for consideration of funds under category (1) (2), (3) and/or (4), the PHA must complete Attachment A, and Attachment B where applicable, to this Notice -- Application for the $100 Million Set-Aside – (by marking the applicable category (1), (2, (3)) and/or (4); provide the documentation identified on Attachment A; and must ensure signature by the appropriate PHA official) and submit it to the Department at the address below:

U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development
Office of Housing Voucher Programs
Attn: Miguel A. Fontanez Sanchez, Director, Financial Management Division
Room 4232
451 7th Street, S.W.
Washington, DC 20410

The PHA's request must be received at the above address no later than close of business (5:00 p.m. EDST), May 22, 2009.

It is recommended that requests be sent using overnight mail (USPS, UPS, Fed Ex, DHL, etc.) that requires signature upon delivery. Hand-delivered or standard delivery mail will be accepted; however, it is important to note that non-expedited mail has no guaranteed delivery time and is subject to the Department's security screening, which can delay delivery. Requests will only be accepted at the above location; delivery to other locations will not be accepted. Requests not received on time will not be processed. Faxes and electronic submissions will not be accepted.

6. Number of Replacement Vouchers to be Provided for Certain Actions: HUD will provide replacement vouchers for all units that were occupied within the previous 24 months that cease to be available as assisted housing, subject only to the availability of funds (See Appendix B, "Tenant Protection" provision for Appropriations text).

Housing Conversion Actions. The administering PHA is eligible to receive vouchers for the number of units covered by the Housing Conversion Action that were occupied by an assisted family at any time within the previous 24 months from the eligibility event as determined by HUD's Office of Multifamily Housing. The eligibility event for each category of Housing Conversion Action is as follows:

- Prepayments: The effective date of the prepayment of the mortgage or the voluntary termination of the mortgage insurance.
- Opt-outs: The effective date of the expiration of the project-based contract.
- Terminations: The effective date of the contract termination.

Public Housing. For public housing, PHAs are eligible to receive vouchers for the number of units that:

(1) will cease to be available as assisted housing as a result of the approved demolition, disposition, or conversion action, and

(2) were occupied by a public housing resident within the previous 24 months from the date of HUD approval of the PHA demolition/disposition application, or the HOPE VI revitalization plan or conversion plan that contains the demolition or disposition approval, as applicable.

Moderate Rehabilitation (MR) and Single Room Occupancy (SRO) Replacements. PHAs are eligible to receive vouchers for the number of units occupied within 24 months of the effective date of the expiration of the MR or SRO contract or the effective date of the MR or SRO contract termination.

7. Over-leasing. The 2009 Act continues to prohibit the use of appropriated funds by any PHA for over-leasing. Over-leasing occurs when a PHA has more unit months under HAP contract for the calendar year than are available under its Annual Contributions Contract baseline, even if the PHA has sufficient Budget Authority and/or NRA funds to support the additional unit months. Although a PHA may not over-lease its HCV units, it is also not required to lease up to its authorized baseline if it does not have the funding to do so. HUD has no authority to provide funds to support unit months leased in excess of the PHA's baseline units under ACC and will not do so.

If a PHA engages in over-leasing, it must identify other sources to pay for the over-leasing, and the PHA must take immediate steps to eliminate any current over-leasing.

8. Funding for Administrative Costs

The 2009 Appropriations Act provides $1,500,000,000 for administrative fees to PHAs administering the voucher program (See Appendix C for full Appropriations text).

A) On-going Administrative Fees and Administrative Fees for New Vouchers. Since on-going administrative fees and administrative fees for new vouchers will be paid based on leasing, approximately $1,445,000,000 of the appropriated amount will be provided for these fees. These administrative fees will be calculated for CY 2009 as provided for by section 8 (q) of the United States Housing Act as in effect immediately before the enactment of the Quality Housing and Work Responsibility Act (QHWRA) of 1998 (Public Law 105-276). Under this calculation, PHAs will be paid a fee for each voucher that is under HAP contract as of the first day of each month. Administrative fees for incremental vouchers will also be paid based on leasing.

In order to stay within the appropriated amount, the Department will pro-rate monthly disbursements based on prior leasing activity. The Department has developed and posted administrative fee rates for each PHA, to enable PHAs to calculate potential fee eligibility. Fee rates can be found at http://www.hud.gov/offices/pih/programs/hcv/adminfees2009.cfm.

Each PHA's administrative fee eligibility will be reconciled to estimates and pro-rations every month with a final reconciliation completed after December 2009 leasing data is reported by PHAs in VMS. PHAs have received administrative fee advances for the early months of CY 2009. These advances were based on fee disbursements for December 2008. A PHA should not assume that the amounts advanced in the early months of the year will approximate the amounts across the year.

1. Blended Rate Administrative Fees: PHAs serving multiple admin fee areas may, in lieu of the fee determined for their agency, request a blended rate, based on the actual location of their assisted units. PHAs must submit the request to the Financial Management Division, Housing Choice Voucher Program, in writing to the address cited in Section 5 no later than May 22, 2009, if they are requesting a blended rate. The blended rate will be used for the entire calendar year.

2. Higher Administrative Fee Rates: Section 8(q) pre-QHWRA administrative fee provisions authorizes HUD to provide the opportunity for PHAs to request higher administrative fees for a small program, defined as fewer than 250 units, or if an agency operates over a large geographic area, defined as multiple counties. To request higher fees, an agency must submit the following financial documentation to the PHA's assigned Financial Analyst at the Financial Management Center (FMC):

    - Actual Administrative Fee Equity balance as of December 31, 2008;
    - Actual administrative costs for the HCV program for CY 2008, in sufficient detail for HUD review;
    - The PHA's CY2009 HCV program administrative budget for the voucher program, identifying anticipated reasonable and necessary administrative costs, broken out in sufficient detail to allow for review (positions and salaries, detailed travel costs, overhead and pro-rations, etc). There is no HUD form, nor a mandated format, for this budget;
    - If both the unit month and budget authority utilization in CY2008 were below 95% of available for renewal units, a statement as to why this occurred;
    - An explanation for any withdrawals from the Administrative Fee Equity account at the end of CY2006, CY2007 or during CY2008, or a statement that none were made;
    - An explanation as to why the projected CY2009 administrative fees are insufficient to cover program operating costs;
    - Certification by the chief executive of the PHA that the data is accurate.

In order to request a higher administrative fee rate, PHAs must provide the above information to their assigned Financial Analyst (FA), Financial Management Center (FMC), 2345 Grand Boulevard, Suite 1150, Kansas City, MO, 64108 no later than May 22, 2009.

An approved higher administrative fee rate will apply only to CY2009. At the end of the year the PHA will be required to submit evidence to the FMC of actual costs, to enable HUD to determine if the entire approved increase was needed; excess funds will be recouped by HUD.

B) Special Fees. HUD will make approximately $5 million available to allocate to public housing agencies that need additional funds to administer their section 8 programs. The Department has determined that these funds, up to the amount available, may be provided for the following purposes:

- Homeownership Fees: HUD will provide funds to assist Public Housing Agencies administering Homeownership programs that have not been reimbursed the one-time $5,000 fee bonus for implementing a new Homeownership program, and the $1,000 special fee for homebuyers closings reported in PIC.
- Special Fees for Multifamily Housing Conversion Actions: A special (one-time) fee of $200 will be provided for each unit occupied on the date of the eligibility event, for multifamily housing conversions only.
- Program Specific Audits: PHAs that are required to undergo a program-specific audit in accordance with Notice 2008-9, may receive reimbursement of excess audit costs if approved by the Department.
- Remaining Funds: Any remaining funds will be available to HUD to assist PHAs in need of additional funds to administer their Housing Choice Voucher Program.

C) Family Self-Sufficiency. The 2009 Act provides that $50 million shall be made available for family self-sufficiency coordinators under section 23 of the Act. Guidance regarding the eligibility criteria and application requirements for these funds will be forthcoming.

D) Other Provisions.

i. Administrative Fees for Development Activities. Administrative fees provided from this appropriation shall be only for activities related to the provision of tenant-based rental assistance authorized under section 8, including related development activities. Examples of related development activities include, but are not limited to, unit modification for accessibility purposes and development of project-based voucher units.

ii. Restrictions. Any administrative fees from 2009 funding (as well as 2004, 2005, 2006, 2007 and 2008 funding) that are subsequently moved into the Net Unrestricted Assets Account (also known as the Administrative Fee Equity Account) in accordance with GAAP at year-end must only be used for the provision of tenant-based rental assistance authorized under section 8. If a PHA has not adequately administered its HCV program, HUD may prohibit use of funds in the Net Unrestricted Assets Account and may direct the PHA to use funds in that account to improve administration of the program or to reimburse ineligible expenses in accordance with the regulation at 24 CFR 982.155(b)(3).

9. Quality Assurance. The Department will continue to deploy Quality Assurance (QA) teams to conduct on-site reviews of PHAs to ensure the integrity of PHA-reported data for the HCV program, as well as to ensure compliance with other program requirements, including over-leasing. It is each PHA's responsibility to retain the appropriate records to support their VMS submissions. VMS data is subject to review by the QAD and subsequent recalculation of funding will occur if a QAD review demonstrates that costs were incorrectly reported, resulting in excess funding. QA staff will also review compliance with rent reasonableness requirements to ensure that owners are receiving rents that are comparable to similar unassisted units in the market.

10. PHA Requirements.

A. PHAs may only use CY 2009 HAP funding for housing assistance payments, and only for CY 2009 and future CY HAP needs. PHAs may not use HAP funds or HAP NRA for section 8 administrative expenses, public housing program expenses or development costs, or any other costs of the PHA.

B. PHAs must continue to submit required financial documents including, but not limited to, monthly VMS electronic submissions. PHAs that do not submit the required data by the reporting deadline will be sanctioned as provided by 24 CFR 982.152(d), and in accordance with the procedures outlined in PIH Notice 2008-09.

C. PHAs will receive monthly disbursements based on their budgetary allocations from HUD on a CY basis. PHAs may request adjustments to monthly disbursements, not to exceed their annual budgetary allocations, by contacting their financial analyst at the Financial Management Center (FMC).

D. PHAs must manage their programs in a prudent manner to enable them to serve families within their CY 2009 allocations and voucher baselines. PHAs should review their policies and operations to ensure they are not incurring costs beyond what is needed to support decent housing of a modest nature within market rents for HCV participants.

E. PHAs must continue to submit financial data electronically to the Financial Assessment Subsystem (FASS). The Department is aware of technical issues with FASS submissions at this time. Once the FASS system is fully operational again, PHAs that fail to meet this requirement will be subject to administrative actions including, but not limited to, an imposition of a penalty against a PHA's monthly administrative fees for failure to comply with reporting requirements until such time as the PHA complies with these requirements. This penalty represents a permanent reduction for the current calendar year that shall not be reversed; however, this will not impact the baseline calculations. Procedures are outlined in PIH Notice 2008-09.

11. Restrictions on HAP Net Restricted Assets Account. PHAs are reminded that funds in the HAP Net Restricted Assets account may only be used for eligible HAP needs in the current and future CYs. CY 2009 funds may not be used to cover any prior year deficits, administrative expenses, or public housing expenses. However, PHAs may use funds in the Administrative Fee Equity account (formerly referred to as admin fee reserves) for prior year HCV program deficits and for administrative expenses of the HCV program.

In instances where a PHA is found to have misappropriated HAP and/or NRA funds by using the funds for any purpose other than valid HAP expenses for units up to the baseline, HUD requires an immediate return of the funds to the HAP or NRA account. HUD can take action against a PHA or any party that has used HAP funds and/or the NRA account for non-HAP purposes.

12. Excluded Programs. The changes implemented by this Notice do not apply to renewal funding for the Section 8 Moderate Rehabilitation Program, Five Year Mainstream Program, nor do they apply to the Disaster Housing Assistance Payments (DHAP) to HCV conversion vouchers.

13. MTW. MTW agencies will continue to have their funding determined pursuant to their MTW agreements. Note that MTW agencies may utilize section 8 funds for section 9 purposes in accordance with their agreements. HUD is directed by the Act, however, to apply the same pro-ration factor to the HCV allocations for MTW agencies as is applied to all other PHAs.

14. Renewal of VASH Vouchers Awarded from FFY 2008 Appropriations: VASH vouchers awarded in FFY 2008 were separately funded; therefore VASH units will be renewed separately from the non-VASH vouchers in a PHA's program.

15. Incremental Vouchers. The 2009 Act provides funding for incremental vouchers for the Family Unification Program, Veterans Affairs Supported Housing and for nonelderly disabled families, in the amounts of $20 million, $75 million, and $30 million, respectively. As specifically required by the 2009 Act, incremental vouchers provided under the 2009 Act in these categories must continue to remain available for the intended populations (family unification families, homeless veterans and nonelderly disabled families, respectively) upon turnover. Further guidance on the application process for these vouchers will be issued separately.

Paperwork Reduction Act.
