Agenda Item No.

RESOLUTION NO. R-121-11

RESOLUTION URGING THE PRESIDENT AND THE U.S. CONGRESS TO BUDGET AND APPROPRIATE $75 MILLION IN FEDERAL CONSTRUCTION FUNDING FOR THE DEEP DREDGE PROJECT AT THE PORT OF MIAMI; URGING THE GOVERNOR AND FLORIDA LEGISLATURE TO IDENTIFY STATE FUNDING SOURCES TO ASSIST IN THE TIMELY COMPLETION OF THE DEEP DREDGE PROJECT

WHEREAS, the deep dredge project at the Port of Miami is one of the most important infrastructure projects in Florida and has nationwide significance in support of international trade, commerce, and job creation; and

WHEREAS, the deep dredge project, now in the planning, engineering, and design stage, entails dredging the Port of Miami channel to minus 50 feet from its current depth of minus 42 feet; and

WHEREAS, the Army Corp of Engineers is scheduled to complete the design work in 2011 and with federal construction dollars appropriated bids would be let in 2012 with a projected completion date in 2014; and

WHEREAS, this timetable would coincide with the scheduled opening of the expanded Panama Canal in 2014; and

WHEREAS, beginning in 2014, large numbers of Super Post-Panamax megaships that previously offloaded cargo on the West Coast of the U.S. will instead be able to traverse the expanded Panama Canal, presenting an unprecedented, one-time opportunity for the Port of Miami to significantly expand its cargo business; and

WHEREAS, three East Coast ports, New York, Baltimore and Norfolk, already have deepened their waters to meet the necessary 50-foot depth; and

WHEREAS, the Port of Miami has received authorization to dredge to the minus 50-foot level and has the ability to complete the project by 2014; and

WHEREAS, without additional East Coast deep draft capacity in place by 2014, the U.S. is at risk of losing jobs to other seaports overseas, as the larger Super Post-Panamax ships have the option of calling at nearby foreign ports such as Freeport, Bahamas; and

WHEREAS, the Port of Miami has approximately 6,200 lineal feet of berth space, supported by Super Post-Panamax cranes capable of servicing the largest ships in the world; and

WHEREAS, the first and third largest cargo lines in the world currently make the Port of Miami their southernmost point of operation in the U.S., and have joined with the Port of Miami in an aggressive landside infrastructure program to improve and expand facilities to accommodate additional cargo business; and

WHEREAS, the deep dredge project provides a high return on the investment, with the scope of the dredge at the Port of Miami being only 2.5 nautical miles, a relatively short distance compared to other potential ports, and the Port of Miami's harbor only requiring maintenance dredging every 10 years rather than river ports that require annual maintenance; and

WHEREAS, it is estimated that the deep dredge project would enable the Port of Miami to double its cargo business over the next 10 years and create more than 30,000 new, high paying, permanent jobs; and

WHEREAS, the deep dredge project will pay dividends not only for Miami-Dade County, but throughout the state and nation for decades to come; and

WHEREAS, the deep dredge project has received Congressional approval, but the Port of Miami must secure a federal construction funds to keep the project on track,
