RESOLUTION NO. R-1115-11

RESOLUTION URGING THE U.S. CONGRESS TO PASS H.R. 511 OR SIMILAR LEGISLATION PROHIBITING THE IMPORTATION OR SALE OF THE BURMESE PYTHONS AND EIGHT OTHER SPECIES OF LARGE CONSTRICTOR SNAKES WITHOUT A PERMIT; SUPPORTING U.S. FISH & WILDLIFE SERVICE RULEMAKING TO LIST THESE SPECIES OF LARGE CONSTRICTOR SNAKES AS "INJURIOUS WILDLIFE" UNDER THE LACEY ACT TO PROHIBIT THE IMPORTATION AND INTERSTATE TRANSPORTATION OF THESE ANIMALS; URGING THE FLORIDA LEGISLATURE AND THE FLORIDA FISH & WILDLIFE CONSERVATION COMMISSION TO EXPLORE ADDITIONAL STEPS TO ADDRESS THESE SNAKES AT THE STATE LEVEL

WHEREAS, many exotic animals have been removed from their native lands and placed where they are not always welcome arrivals as part of an increasingly popular international pet trade market; and

WHEREAS, among these invasive species are a growing number of Burmese pythons and other large constrictor snakes in the Florida Everglades; and

WHEREAS, the same conditions that allow the vast diversity of wildlife to thrive in the Everglades also support invasive exotic species that throw off the delicate balance of the Everglades' unique ecosystem; and

WHEREAS, these invaders can harm native species, some of which are threatened and endangered, and add economic burdens to private landowners and public land managers; and

WHEREAS, giant pythons are well-adapted for success in the Florida Everglades, where the habitat is similar to their Asian home; and

3

WHEREAS, their size and power makes them one of the top predators in the Florida Everglades, taking on alligators, blue herons and full-grown deer, and posing a threat to many of the indigenous and endangered species; and

WHEREAS, in October, 2011, for example, a 15.7-foot python was discovered digesting an intact deer in West Miami-Dade County; and

WHEREAS, finding solutions for eradicating these damaging snakes is challenging for a number of reasons, including the difficulty of locating them in the Everglades and ensuring that actions that are taken do not adversely impact native animals; and

WHEREAS, during the 2010 session, the Florida Legislature passed Chapter No. 2010-185, Laws of Florida (SB 318), which prohibited the following reptiles from being acquired for personal possession:

- Indian or Burmese python;
- Reticulated python;
- Northern African python;
- Southern African python;
- Amethystine python;
- Scrub python;
- Green anaconda;
- Nile monitor; and

WHEREAS, people who owned one or more of these reptiles before July 1, 2010 were allowed to keep their animal for the remainder of its life, provided the pet owners maintained a valid license, while public exhibitors, zoos, researchers and reptile dealers can currently apply for a permit to import or possess these reptiles; and

WHEREAS, the Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission also initiated a program to eradicate these invasive reptiles from the Florida Everglades; and

WHEREAS, these efforts at the state level may have stemmed the flow of these invasive reptiles into Florida, but do not appear to have fully addressed the large and growing population of these snakes currently living in the Everglades; and

WHEREAS, under the Lacey Act, the U.S. Secretary of the Interior is authorized to regulate the importation and interstate transport of species determined to be injurious to humans, the interests of agriculture, horticulture or forestry, and the welfare and survival of wildlife resources of the U.S.; and

WHEREAS, on January 20, 2010, the U.S. Secretary of the Interior announced that it would propose to list the Burmese python and eight other large constrictor snakes that threaten the Everglades and other sensitive ecosystems as "injurious wildlife" under the Lacey Act, Title 18 U.S. Code Section 42(a)(1); and

WHEREAS, this federal rulemaking is currently pending and under administrative review; and

WHEREAS, Representative Tom Rooney (R - Florida) has filed H.R. 511 for consideration during the 112th Session of Congress; and

5

WHEREAS, H.R. 511 would add large constrictor snakes by statute to the “injurious wildlife” list under the Lacey Act, prohibiting the importation and interstate movement of the following species:

- Indian python
- Burmese python
- Reticulated python Northern African python
- Boa constrictor
- Yellow anaconda
- DeSchauemsee’s anaconda
- Green anaconda
- Beni anaconda; and

WHEREAS, Florida Senator Bill Nelson filed similar legislation in 2010 and is expected to reintroduce a similar bill in the U.S. Senate soon; and

WHEREAS, this Board supports H.R. 511 or similar legislation prohibiting the importation and interstate movement of pythons and other large constrictor snakes and also supports the similar rulemaking by the U.S. Department of the Interior, Fish & Wildlife Service,

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE BOARD OF COUNTY COMMISSIONERS OF MIAMI-DADE COUNTY, FLORIDA, that this Board:
