WHEREAS, the United States government shut down from midnight on January 20, 2018, until the evening hours on Monday, January 22, 2018; and

WHEREAS, during this period of shutdown, the 1.3 million members of the uniformed United States Military continued to work but faced uncertainty as to whether they would be paid on a regular basis should the shutdown continue; and

WHEREAS, additionally, during this period of shutdown, there was no appropriation for federal death benefits, which assist families of deceased service members in meeting their financial needs during the period immediately following a service member's death and before other survivor benefits become available; and

WHEREAS, the United States government also previously shut down from October 1, 2013, until October 17, 2013, and

WHEREAS, on September 30, 2013, just before the 2013 shutdown began, the United States Congress passed and President Barack Obama signed H.R. 3210, the Pay Our Military Act, that appropriated money to pay the United States military personnel despite the shutdown; and

WHEREAS, after the 2013 shutdown, the United States Congress passed and President Barack Obama signed H.R. 91, the Honoring Families of Fallen Soldiers Act, which provided a continuing appropriation for military survivor death benefits, but only for fiscal year 2014; and

WHEREAS, on April 5, 2017, Congressman Gerald E. Connolly (D-Virginia) introduced the Families of Fallen Servicemembers First Act, H.R. 1928, for consideration during the 115th Congress; and

WHEREAS, on February 14, 2018, Senator Christopher A. Coons (D-Delaware) introduced the identical Senate companion bill, S. 2430, for consideration during the 115th Congress; and

WHEREAS, H.R. 1928 and S. 2430 provide a permanent appropriation of funds for the payment of death gratuities and related benefits for survivors of deceased members of the uniformed services in event of any period of lapsed appropriations; and

WHEREAS, on January 19, 2018, Senator Richard Durbin (D-Illinois) introduced the Pay Our Military Act of 2018, S. 2328, for consideration during the 115th Congress; and

WHEREAS, S. 2328 and H.R. 4871 provide fiscal year 2018 appropriations for military pay during any period in which interim or full-year appropriations for fiscal year 2018 are not in effect; and

WHEREAS, all four of these bills are currently pending before the 115th Congress; and

WHEREAS, threats to the United States continue during a government shutdown; and

WHEREAS, the United States Military personnel dedicate their lives to defending our country, and the United States government should continue to pay these military personnel and provide federal death benefits during any government shutdown; and

WHEREAS, this Board supports the United States military personnel and wishes to ensure all troops are paid for their service even during a federal government shutdown,
