PROPERTY APPRAISER: 2009 PRELIMINARY ROLL CONFIRMS SIGNIFICANT DECLINE IN VALUES

(MIAMI, July 01, 2009) – It's official. The July 1, 2009 Preliminary Tax Roll has confirmed a substantial decline in the countywide taxable value of existing properties in Miami-Dade County of 13 percent, excluding new construction value. Compared to 2008, Taxable Value of existing properties declined by $31.8 billion. When adjusted for new construction of $8.4 billion, the 2009 countywide taxable value came in at $222.1 billion, a net decline of $23.4 billion or 9.5 percent.

These figures, contained in the 2009 Preliminary Tax Roll released today by Property Appraiser Pedro J. Garcia, verify a countywide taxable value of $213.8 billion of existing properties, as compared to $245.6 in 2008. The decline was offset by the $8.4 billion in new construction value, which were projects started during the real estate expansion cycle and completed in 2008.

These figures directly reflect market value declines throughout Miami-Dade County and confirm a trend, which had been projected in the June 1st Estimates issued by the Property Appraiser.

Mr. Garcia said that in arriving at the countywide 2009 taxable value his staff first had to determine the Just (Market) Value of all properties in the county as of January 1, 2009 by conducting analyses of market data, including 2008 comparable sales, short sales and the impact of foreclosure activity on the various markets within Miami-Dade County.

The 2009 Preliminary Tax Roll summarizes aggregate valuation information for each Miami-Dade County taxing authority (such as County Government, municipal governments, School Board), which levy taxes on Miami-Dade property owners.

He recalled his election promise to establish the correct values for Miami-Dade properties and said that is exactly what his Office has done.

Mr. Garcia expressed concern that despite the $8.4 billion in new construction value, the taxing authorities nevertheless face a major dilemma: how to provide services residents expect in light of declining property values.

"We all have to be concerned with this dilemma," Mr. Garcia said. "However, as I have stated to the County Mayor, County Chairman and Commissioners and other elected leaders, I am even more concerned with the daily struggles of residents during these difficult economic times."

The next step will be the delicate and difficult task for the various cities and the County to set their budgets and proposed tax rates for their respective jurisdictions.

After the taxing authorities have set their proposed tax rates, the Property Appraiser's Office will, on August 24th, mail a Notice of Proposed Property Taxes to each property owner in the county.
