

TRACEY E. GALLENTINE

Ms. Gallentine is a Senior Account Executive with Ameresco, the largest independent Energy Services Company in North America who has designed, implemented and managed over $4 billion in successful energy solutions, has been directly involved in delivering energy performance contracting and energy efficiency solutions to customers for the last 15 years.

Ms. Gallentine worked for FPL Energy Services, Progress Energy Solutions, and Energy Systems Group in the same capacity prior to joining the Ameresco team. Prior to that Ms. Gallentine was a Director of Facilities Planning for two large school districts in Florida.

She has 25 years professional experience in: facilities planning and building; managing multi-million capital budgets; and initiating, developing, and facilitating energy efficiency projects throughout the State of Florida.

Ms. Gallentine holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Engineering from the University of South Florida, and is currently pursuing her LEED accreditation. She is a past president of the FEFPA and her local Junior League, a current board member of FSPMA and FASBO, and is currently a State co-chair of the Florida Energy Services Coalition.