Recycling at your apartment complex or condominium is easy.

Three easy steps to comply with mandatory recycling

Multi-family recycling is the law. Property owners and condominium associations are required to provide a recycling program for their residents.

Step 1: Establish a recycling program that collects the following items:

- Glass containers used for food and beverage such as juice and salad dressing bottles;
- Plastic containers such as milk, juice and water bottles as well as dishwashing and laundry detergent containers;
- Aluminum cans used for food and beverage;
- Steel cans used for food and beverage;
- Newspapers

Step 2: Arrange to have your recyclables picked up by a Miami-Dade County permitted hauler.

- Start with your current waste hauler. Many offer recycling services.
- Or call a private recycling vendor. Check the business section of the telephone directory for companies that provide recycling collection services.

Step 3: Design a recycling program to fit your property's needs.

- Appoint a capable and enthusiastic person as your recycling coordinator.
- Identify the types of containers you'll need, how many and where you should place them.
- Design a system for collecting recyclables and moving them to a central location for hauling.
- Educate residents on your new program and the benefits of recycling.

Are there penalties for not recycling?

The County will provide technical assistance to help your property comply with the County's recycling law. Apartment complexes or condominiums that don't comply could be fined. Fines range from $300 to $950 based on the number of units on the property and can be assessed daily until compliance is met.
