Miami-Dade County's Black Affairs Advisory Board

The Black Affairs Advisory Board (BAAB) falls under the Office of the Chair of the Miami Dade County Board of Commissioners (BCC) and was created to serve in an advisory capacity to the BCC on issues affecting and relevant to citizens who emanate from the African Diaspora. The Board was created in 1994 and is also charged with making its constituents aware of the tax-supported services available through their local, state, and federal entities.

Over the past few years, the Black Affairs Advisory Board (BAAB) has revamped its emphasis and moved toward advocating on behalf of a more diverse community as Miami-Dade County has evolved. The subcommittee structure was revamped and adjusted according to those needs as identified by its current members. These various subcommittees are charged with the responsibility of dealing with their respective issues and include: The Black Heritage Planning Committee; Education; Health Care; Housing; Economic Development; Budget and Finance; and Crisis Intervention/Respect Life; HAERC and most recently COVID-19.

The Black Heritage Planning Committee sponsors some of the board's most recognizable programs including the Black History Month photographic exhibit featuring the curated photographic presentation "Vessels" and "Triumphant Spirits" honoring community women and men who contribute positively to the growth and development of our community. This committee also hosts the annual "Pillar Awards" and "Young Pillar Scholarships" both of which recognize individuals and organizations that provide unheralded community service. Since its 2005 inception, the "Young Pillars" scholarship program has provided financial assistance to over sixty (60) students.

Another significant accomplishment of the BAAB is the continuation of "State of Black Miami" which was the brainchild of then-Chairman Jean Monestime. In 2016, and again in 2017, Commissioner Monestime, held the first of two forums entitled: "One Heritage: The State of Black Miami." The purpose of these forums was to identify and address critical, ongoing issues impacting Black Miami. The Black Affairs Advisory Board has convened the event since 2018.

The board holds periodic "Village Dialogues" which provide the opportunity to delve into community issues such as gun violence, economic development, health, and affordable housing. Several initiatives have resulted including the establishment of the "Civil Citation" program developed in conjunction with Miami-Dade Public Schools and the Juvenile Services Department, which has now been implemented statewide resulting in the reduction of long-term involvement in the criminal justice system for juveniles.

DANIELLA LEVINE CAVA
MAYOR
MIAMI-DADE COUNTY

Miami-Dade County is home to a thriving Black community. From the historic communities of Overtown, Richmond Heights, Liberty City, Goulds, Little Haiti and Coconut Grove, to the thriving cities of Opa-Locka, Miami Gardens and North Miami – our County is a beacon of hope for the African diaspora.

As Mayor of Miami-Dade County, I am committed to investing in our Black communities and Black-owned businesses. That is why I created the Office of Equity and Inclusion which is tasked with developing innovative solutions to support Black businesses and others who have been left behind, and crafting policies to make Miami-Dade County a more equitable and inclusive community.

The Office of Equity and Inclusion, in the Division of Innovation and Performance, is led by public policy expert, Jason Smith, with support from Cherienne Floyd, an expert in performance and analytics. Working in collaboration with the Black Affairs Advisory Board, the Miami-Dade Economic Advocacy Trust, the Miami-Dade Chamber of Commerce and the Miami-Dade County Small Business Division, among others, the Office of Equity and Inclusion will help chart a path to greater prosperity for the Black community.

As you know, pre-pandemic Miami-Dade had over 86,000 small businesses employing close to 1 million workers. More than 80 percent of these businesses have less than 10 employees. Miami-Dade County has also consistently ranked in the Top 3 Metro areas for the percentage of minority-owned and women-owned businesses. According to FIU research, about 37 percent of Miami-Dade business owners are Black, Hispanic or women – more than double the U.S. average of 18 percent. These businesses are a key economic engine for our local economy and have been disproportionately impacted by the covid-19 pandemic. My administration is committed to helping our small businesses, in collaboration with our technical assistance partners, to thrive in the post-pandemic economy.

I congratulate the Black Affairs Advisory Board for developing the Black World Guide. This directory is a useful resource for all Miami-Dade County residents and businesses as we build a more inclusive, resilient post-pandemic economy.

Yours in Service,

Daniella Levine Cava

Regardless of the challenges the community has faced, we have been able to produce the 2020-2022 Black World Guide because it is imperative that we continue to highlight these important facets of the Black World Community of Miami-Dade County.

This publication represents our concerted effort to present a landing page for the civic, cultural, professional, businesses, service providers, religious and social organizations that constitute the Black Diaspora here in Miami-Dade County. The significance of this publication lies in the continued growth and resilience of our constituency.

As part of the Office of Community Advocacy, the Black Affairs Advisory Board continues to advocate for the social, economic, political and educations of the Black Community. This publication is an integral part of our effort to connect with and support our organizations and businesses.

August 2021

Dear Friends:

Thank you for this opportunity to commend the Black Affairs Advisory Board (BAAB) on its publication of the newest edition of the Black World Guide. The Black World Guide is an indispensable resource for our community.

In these difficult times, BAAB has been doing amazing work. With the current national calls for racial and social justice and in the midst of a global pandemic, BAAB's voice is more important than ever. I have the deepest admiration for the commitment and dedication of BAAB's volunteer members and I can't say enough good things about Retha Boone-Fye, BAAB's longtime Program Director.

I look forward to working with BAAB on the important issues facing our community and best wishes for a successful and productive 2021.

Sincerely,

Laura Morilla
Executive Director
Office of Community Advocacy

This 2020-2022 Black World Guide represents the culmination of many hours of research aimed at uncovering the many African Diaspora organizations that exist here in Miami-Dade County. It represents the vibrancy and survival of the Black World Community, which has been a part of this metropolitan area since the incorporation of the City of Miami in 1896, where 44% of the City's incorporators were of African descent.

The Black Affairs Advisory Board, along with our community collaborators look forward to recognizing and supporting the many businesses, civic, social and professional organizations represented in this document. Hopefully, it will encourage both residents and visitors to support and recognize the resiliency of those who live, work or do business here in Miami Dade County.

Many thanks and appreciation to all who worked hard on this guide - in particular volunteer Shirley Ellison, who spent many hours making this publication possible.

Retha Boone-Fye
Program Director

THE "I SUPPORT B.O.B." Black Owned Business Campaign:

Miami-Dade County has numerous Black owned businesses and the Black Affairs Advisory Board has been tasked to bring recognition resulting in increased traffic and revenue as part of its economic development strategy. This campaign strives to identify and coordinate a methodology that will bring more economic prosperity to these businesses as well as making them more visible. We invite the general community to support our effort to contribute to the economic strength of Miami-Dade County's minority owned businesses.

Dear Readers:

The Miami-Dade Economic Advocacy Trust (MDEAT) continues to advocate for the “Black World Guide” which includes the “Targeted Urban Area (TUA) Business and Attractions Guide.”

Considering the ongoing Coronavirus Recession highlighting Black-owned establishments in Miami-Dade County’s TUA communities, as well as key attractions within these boundaries is paramount. Thereby, reflecting the strong relationships between the communities along with the many available services and products of those communities.

MDEAT’s mission is to ensure the equitable participation of Blacks in Miami-Dade County’s economic growth through advocacy and monitoring of economic conditions and development initiatives. MDEAT’s staff and board are assessing and addressing the needs of the TUA communities it seeks to serve to strategically manage economic parody for all residents; especially, during this lackluster economic scenario.

During the Coronavirus Recession, we urge you to utilize this guide to make a special effort to patronize these businesses while supporting organizations and entities that adhere to your social and professional needs. We also encourage you to learn more about MDEAT and the various programs we offer. To that end, please visit us at www.miamidade.gov/EconomicAdvocacyTrust or follow us on Facebook, LinkedIn, or Twitter. Also, please visit MiamiBlackPages.com, powered by MDEAT.

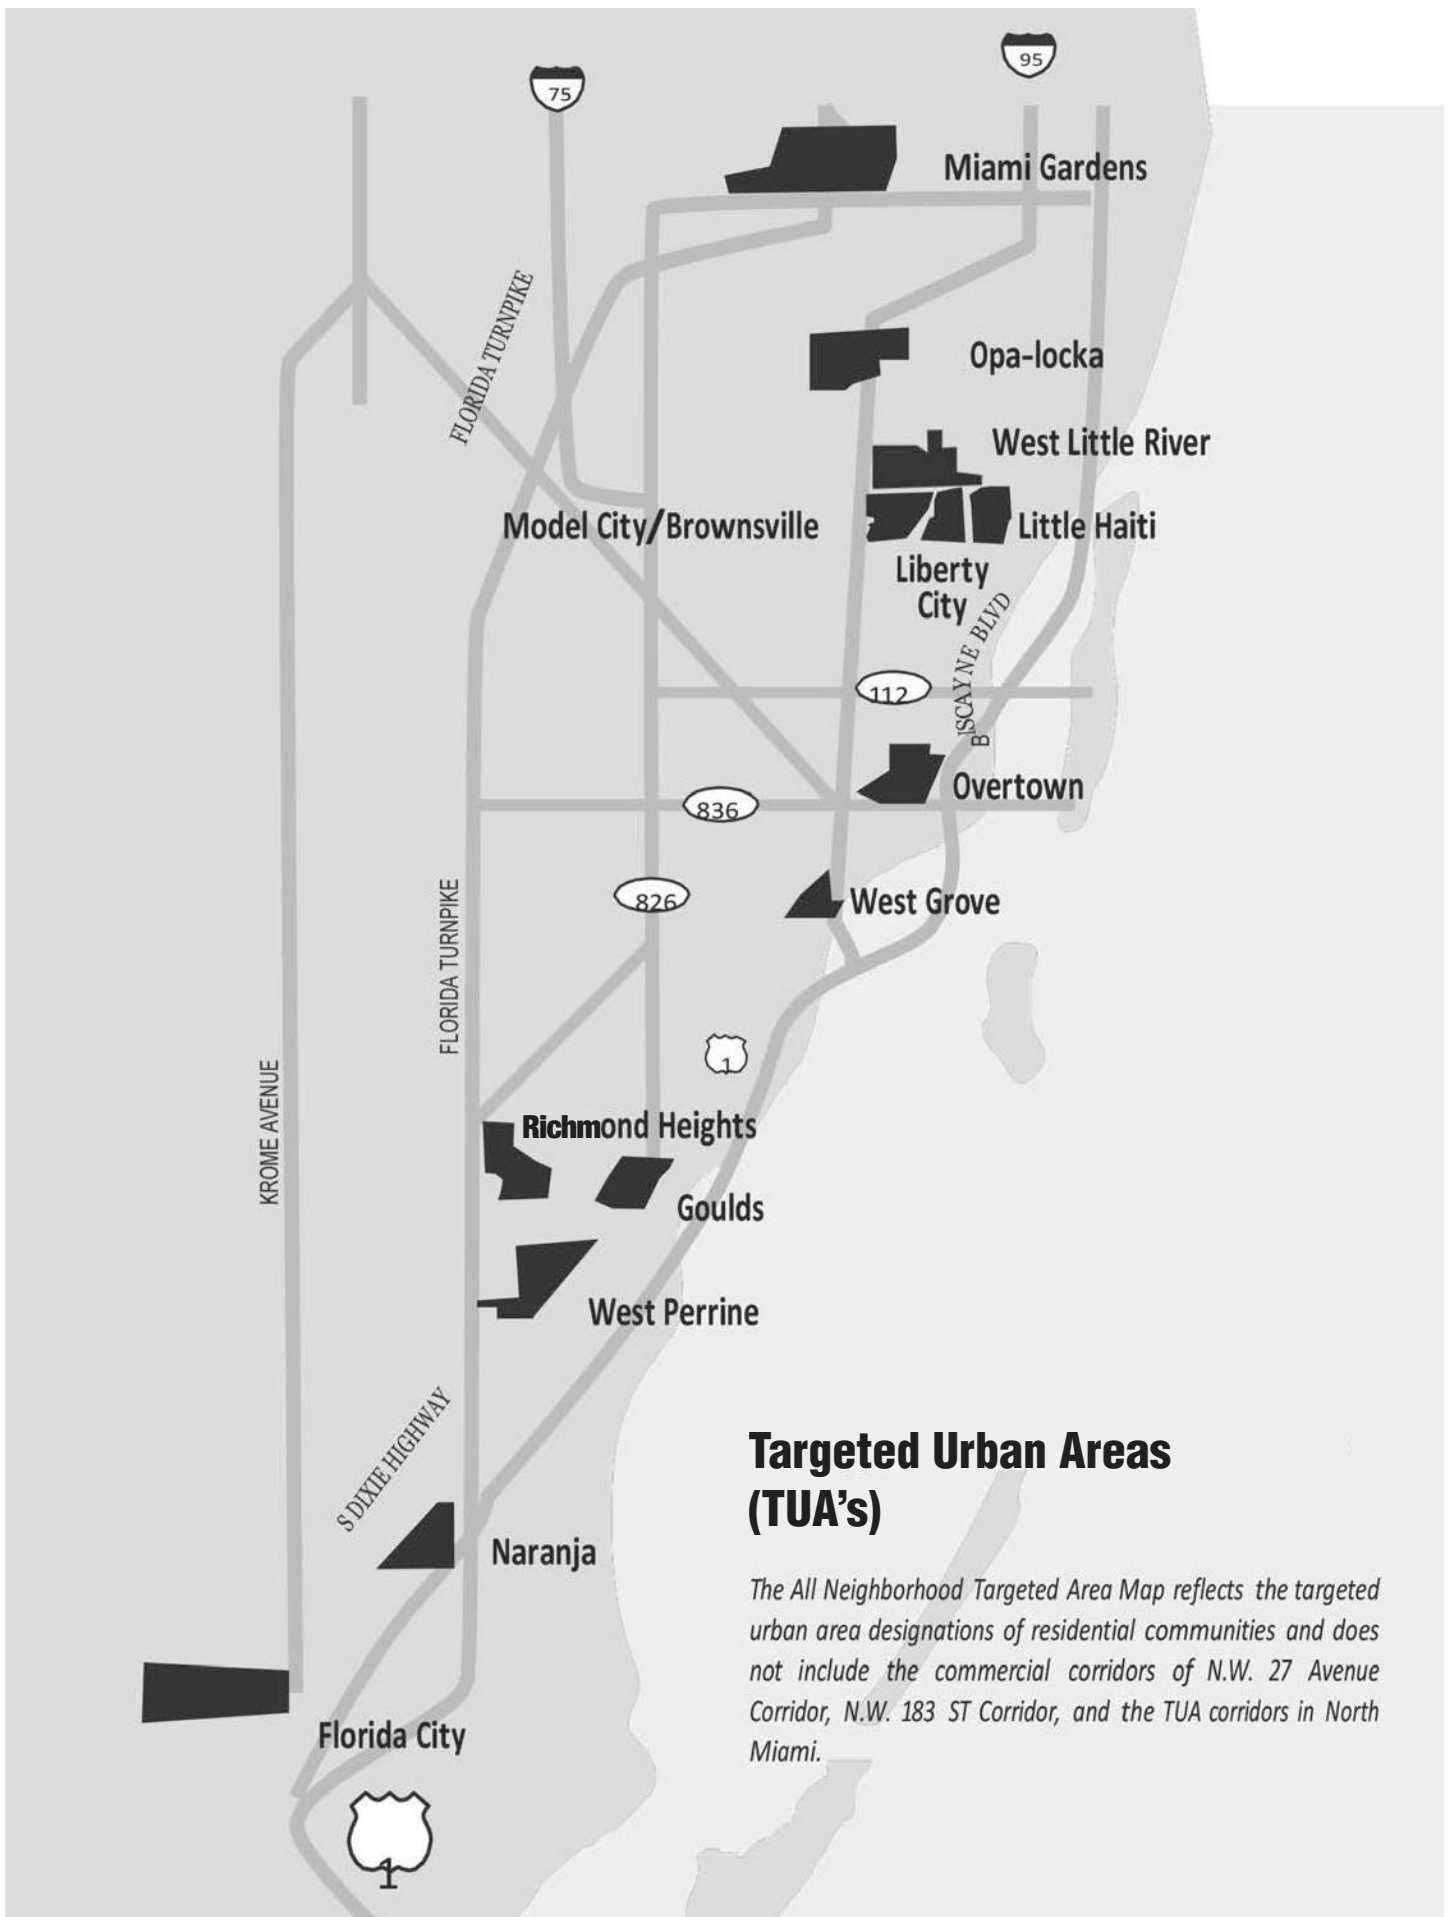

Sincerely,

Hannibal Burton
First Vice-Chairman
Miami-Dade Economic Advocacy Trust

Naranja

Once filled with the sweet succulent scent of oranges emitting from miles of groves growing throughout the area, the neighborhood was appropriately named Naranja from the Spanish word for orange. With a local pronunciation of Na-Ran-Jah, the current day community is now filled with a mixed population of Hispanic and Black residents. It was once a stop for the Florida East Coast Railroad that ran through the town. Today, Naranja is a growing residential and farming community with a desirable rural hometown ambience. The steady population growth combined with the area's proximity to historical sites and major highways makes it a good place for new business development. There are many attractions and great destinations close to Naranja such as the Everglades, Biscayne National Park, and the Florida Keys.

Goulds

Goulds is an equally mixed community of Black and Hispanic residents. The neighborhood has its roots in the expansion of the Florida East Coast Railroad and subsequently named after an operator Lyman Gould. Once known as a saloon town catering to field workers, the community has evolved into a working class population of close-knit families. Highlights of the South Dade community include Mount Pleasant Baptist Church, and many small storefronts and shopping plazas that cater to the local population. The targeted urban area is split across Old Dixie Highway with S.W.212 Street to the north; S.W.232 ST to the south; the Florida Turnpike to the east; and SW 127 Ave to the west. It is also minutes away from such larger cities as Homestead and Florida City.

Richmond Heights

Richmond Heights was one of the first planned communities for Black war veterans and professionals across a number of industries. It was conceived in the 1940s by social visionary Captain Frank C. Martin and became home to such professionals as university professors, Fortune 500 presidents, Tuskegee Airmen and medical physicians, according to information contained on the www.miamirichmondheights.com website. The current inhabitants of the southwest Miami-Dade community are second, third, fourth and fifth generation residents of these neighborhood pioneers. The community borders S.W.136 Street to the north; S.W.152 Street to the south; S.W.103 Avenue to the east; and S.W.117th Avenue on the west. Its proximity to major cities like Homestead and Florida City continue to make it a desirable place to live and raise a family.

West Grove

Nestled between the opulence of Coral Gables and the equally appealing eastside of Coconut Grove, the West Grove has been designated as one of Miami-Dade County's Targeted Urban Areas. The area's rich Bahamian influence dates as far back as the 1880s, has spawned such cultural celebrations as the Goombay Festival and the historic architecture of its adorned business corridor.

Model City / Brownsville

Brownsville (also known as Brown-Sub), is a small neighborhood nestled within the northwest section of Miami. During the mid-1960s, Brownsville was a thriving community for Black professionals. Over the decades, however, the area has seen an ebb and flow in population size and work force including a current concentration of blue collar workers and the encroachment of neighboring City of Hialeah. The area is also the location of the historical Hampton House where famous Blacks such as the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., tennis great Althea Gibson and boxing legend Mohammed Ali lodged

MDC-CRT

The Coordinated Response Team is an initiative of the Miami-Dade Board of County Commissioners and evolved out of community dialogues held by the Office of Community Advocacy's Black Affairs Advisory Board, which identified the need for a coordinated approach to help individuals and families affected by violence or disaster.

For assistance on available services please contact:

Miami Dade County Small Business Development

We are pleased to work with the office of Community Advocacy to present certified Small Business Enterprise (SBE) firms. This section will highlight those local Black owned certified SBE firms and the services they provide within Miami- Dade County.

Small Business Development (SBD) as the arm of the county government which advocates for local small businesses' economic growth. We are mindful of the contract opportunities afforded to SBE firms within County government and would also like to share those businesses with the community. We encourage you to share these contacts and look for the various services you may need.

Please feel free to view the entire certification listing by visiting <https://mdcsbd.gob2g.com/FrontPage/DiversityMain.asp?XID=4166>.

Sincerely,

Gary T. Hartfield

MIAMI-DADE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

The Miami Dade Chamber of Commerce takes this opportunity to support the 2020-2022 “Black World Guide” as continued commitment to serving our community and our members and thanks the Miami-Dade County Office of Community Advocacy’s Black Affairs Advisory Board for making this directory available.

The Miami-Dade Chamber of Commerce was founded in 1974 by a group of Black business owners who sought to form a strong organization that could objectively advocate the needs of a growing Black business community. Led by four Presidents, David Fincher (1974-1984) Dorothy Baker (1984-2004); Bill Diggs (2005-2013) and current President G. Eric Knowles (2014 to the present). Understanding that membership is the life blood of the Chamber we have focused on the needs of our membership through education, advocacy, networking, and creating opportunities in both the private and public sectors.

The Chamber has witnessed the evolving landscape of the black business community in South Florida. We see that new energy is being witnessed with the emergence of young, talented and vibrant entrepreneurs blazing new trails and creating new and sustainable business platforms.

The Chamber welcomes your participation in the continued growth and development of the black business community here in Miami-Dade County.

G. Eric Knowles, President
Miami-Dade Chamber of Commerce, Inc.

Our educational seminars, conferences, workshops, and networking events create business opportunities, partnerships, and economic development for our members. Our upcoming 6th annual HACCOF "Top 20 Under 40" Young Professionals (YoPros) Award ceremony is proof of our steadfast commitment to recognize those who have made a mark in their field while shaping the future of our community.

On behalf of the Board of the Haitian American Chamber of Commerce of Florida, I encourage you to become a member, and I hope to see you at one of our networking events soon!

✓ A WILL

According to Forbes, only 28% of minorities have a will, which leaves the remaining 72% without this legal document to ensure generational wealth. Make sure that your parents and loved ones have a will.

✓ INSURANCE

One of the least costly ways to create generational wealth is to have life insurance.

✓ HOME OWNERSHIP

The biggest difference between Black and white wealth is home equity. Owning/refinancing a home can create generational wealth.

✓ OWNING A BUSINESS

Profitable business ownership can create generational wealth.

Bring Your Family Together and Select At Least 1 Of These 6 Options¹

✓ SAVINGS/INVESTMENTS

Participating in an automatic savings or investment plan including retirement and college fund plans can create generational wealth.

✓ IMPROVING YOUR CREDIT SCORE

Building a good credit score gives you access to better loan programs and lower interest rates. Save money for the next generation.
