Memorandum

Date: April 4, 2023

To: Honorable Chairman Oliver G. Gilbert, III and Members, Board of County Commissioners

From: Pedro J. Garcia, MNAA
Property Appraiser

Subject: Resolution Authorizing Intergovernmental Cooperation Agreement with the Town of Cutler Bay

Recommendation

It is recommended that the Board of County Commissioners (Board) authorize execution of the attached Intergovernmental Cooperation Agreement (Agreement) by and among Miami-Dade County on behalf of the Tax Collector (Collector), Miami-Dade County Office of the Property Appraiser (Appraiser) and the Town of Cutler Bay (Town) to utilize the uniform method for the levy, collection and enforcement of non-ad valorem assessments, as prescribed in Section 197.3632, Florida Statutes.

Scope

The Town is located within County Commission District 8, represented by Commissioner Danielle Cohen Higgins. The Town has requested that the Appraiser and Collector include its proposed or adopted non-ad valorem assessments for Stormwater Utility of the Town on the notice of proposed taxes as specified in Section 200.069, Florida Statutes, and on the combined notice of ad valorem and non-ad valorem assessments provided for in Sections 197.3632 and 197.3635, Florida Statutes.

Delegation of Authority

This item authorizes the County Mayor or County Mayor's designee to execute the agreement approved by this item on behalf of the Tax Collector, following approval by the County Attorney's Office as to legal sufficiency.

Fiscal Impact/Funding Source

The Town agrees that the County shall be entitled to retain two percent on the amount of special assessments collected and remitted to cover all the County's associated costs. There is no negative fiscal impact to the County because of this Agreement.

Track Record/Monitor

The Town agrees that all certified assessment rolls will be maintained and transmitted to the Appraiser and Collector on compatible electronic medium as defined in Section 197.3632(1), Florida Statutes. The Agreement is managed by the Office of the Property Appraiser.

Background

In accordance with Sections 197.3632 and 197.3635, Florida Statutes, and the Agreement, the Town will charge separate non-ad valorem assessments for Stormwater Utility of the Town. The Agreement affords the Town the convenience and financial savings of utilizing the TRIM notice and combined tax bill for collection of its non-ad valorem assessments. Use of the ad valorem method for collection of these assessments could result in issuance of tax certificates, tax deeds and the loss of title to the property, if said assessments are not paid by the property owners. The term of this Agreement commences with special assessments collected in 2023 and continues until cancelled by either party.

Scientists question Ladapo's policy against certain COVID vaccines for men ages 18-39

BY RONY ELLENDOWN
rallask@sunshinepress.com
Herald/Times Herald/News Bureau

Florida Surgeon General Dr. Joseph Ladapo on Friday announced new guidance advising against COVID-19 mRNA vaccines for men aged 18-39, citing a Florida Department of Health study that some have said relies on imperfect data and does little to explain its methodology.

The move is the latest instance of Ladapo and the department recommending against coronavirus vaccines for certain age groups. Earlier this year, Florida became the first state to recommend against vaccines for healthy children, a recommendation that ran counter to major national health groups. Florida was also the only state to not proscribe coronavirus vaccines for children under 5.

The state's non-binding recommendation says the risk of cardiac complications from the mRNA vaccine "likely" outweighs the benefits of vaccination, citing an increase in relative cardiac-related death among men studied in the analysis.

But some epidemiologists say that while risks of cardiac issues do exist, the state's study — whose authors are not named — was too thin.

Jason Salmeri, a University of South Florida epidemiologist, said he supports studying both the risks and benefits of vaccination. But he said the department's study only

"It's not a complete picture," Salmeri said. "It's taking one part of it and using that seemingly in isolation to make a recommendation."

The state's study, which was not peer-reviewed, used death certificate data and information from the state's reportable disease repository to analyze information on Floridians who died within 25 weeks of receiving an mRNA vaccine.

Salmeri said the study doesn't compare the risk of cardiac issues from the vaccine to the risk of contracting COVID-19 for men in that same age group. He also said the state's use of death records instead of medical records offers a limited understanding of the cause of death, and said the department should have pulled the more detailed records instead.

Ladapo on Friday posted the guidance to his Twitter account and said that "FL will not be silent on the truth."

His tweet was temporarily removed for violating Twitter's rules but was later restored. A Twitter spokesperson provided little detail on what happened, saying only that the company "took enforcement action on the Tweet you referenced in error, but the action was reversed."

"While it is unfortunate that Twitter had removed the tweet temporarily, the larger conversation should be surrounding how opposing scientific viewpoints are so feared today," said Wee-sam Khouri, the deputy chief of staff for the Department of Health. "It is unfortunate that science, which is dependent on the importance of debate and conversation, has turned into a new opportunity for cancel culture."

Ladapo returned to Twitter on Monday morning to respond to some critiques of the study, including its small sample size.

"Isn't it great when we discuss science transparently instead of trying to cancel one another?" Ladapo said in a tweet.

Daniel Salmon, the director of the Institute for Vaccine Safety at the Johns Hopkins School of Public Health, said the state's report is missing key details. The methodology section is so brief, Salmon said, that he cannot make out what exactly the department did.

"If you were to submit that to any decent journal it would be almost certainly rejected quickly," Salmon said. "I think it's irresponsible for a state government agency to put out something like that without sufficient detail."

Salmon said one of the keys of science is the ability to reproduce the findings, but Florida's study lacks the ability to do that because of limited information. Salmon is leading a large global study looking into myocarditis and the coronavirus vaccine.

"I know these data really well," he said. "Based on everything we know, I believe the benefits outweigh the risk."

Salmon said his young adult sons, now ages 20 and 22, are vaccinated, as are his 16-year-old twins.

John Grabenstein, the director for scientific communications at the non-profit Immunize.org, said the study's conclusion isn't seen elsewhere in the national data. He said while it's clear there is myocarditis, a cardiac condition, seen in some older teenagers and young adult men who get the vaccine, "essentially nearly everybody recovers from it."

"People should still fear the virus more," said Grabenstein, who previously worked in the U.S. Army overseeing immunization. For men who are concerned about the mRNA vaccine, there are other non-mRNA options, like the Novavax and Johnson & Johnson vaccine, Grabenstein said.
