WHEREAS, Deputy Sheriff Devin Matthew Jaramillo was a deputy sheriff with the Miami-Dade Sheriff’s Office who was tragically shot and killed in the line of duty on November 7, 2025; and

WHEREAS, Deputy Jaramillo, responding to a traffic crash, became involved in a physical altercation with the subject during which he was shot and killed; and

WHEREAS, Deputy Jaramillo was only 27 years old when he lost his life in the line of duty; and

WHEREAS, Deputy Jaramillo was a native son of Miami who was born at Baptist Hospital and raised in the local community, attending Miami Killian Senior High School, where he graduated summa cum laude; and

WHEREAS, while in high school, Deputy Jaramillo received a Congressional Nomination for the United States Military Academy at West Point; and

WHEREAS, Deputy Jaramillo was a member of Alpha Phi Sigma, the national criminal justice honor society; and

WHEREAS, Deputy Jaramillo was a talented athlete and football player who could have pursued other careers, but chose to serve his community as a sworn law enforcement officer; and

WHEREAS, Deputy Jaramillo participated in community service long before he became a police officer, volunteering during the Christmas season to help collect and distribute toys to underprivileged children with the Hispanic Police Officers Association, where his father previously served as President; and

WHEREAS, Deputy Jaramillo grew up in a law-enforcement family and followed his father David Jaramillo, who served for nearly three decades with the Miami-Dade Police Department, into public service; and

WHEREAS, according to family accounts, when Deputy Jaramillo was approximately nine years old, he regularly attended a Wednesday-night domino gathering frequented by law-enforcement officers, reflecting how Deputy Jaramillo was an “old soul” even as a child and how, even in his youth, he dreamt of being an officer; and

WHEREAS, prior to serving nearly two years with the Miami-Dade Sheriff’s Office, Deputy Jaramillo previously served with the Coral Gables Police Department for nearly four years, where he had been named an Officer of the Month in recognition of his efforts with a theft investigation; and

WHEREAS, Deputy Jaramillo carried badge number 1765, the same badge number that had previously been carried by his father during his own Miami-Dade law enforcement career; and

WHEREAS, Deputy Jaramillo's father, David, described the badge as Devin's calling, rather than simply his occupation, and reflected that it was not necessarily the career David had wanted for his son, but Devin's choice to follow his own calling; and

WHEREAS, Deputy Jaramillo's mother, Yolanda Jaramillo, in memorializing her son, noted he "chose a life of service, a life of courage, and a lift centered around protecting others"; and

WHEREAS, Miami-Dade County and the South Florida law-enforcement community have recognized and honored Deputy Jaramillo's life and service through numerous ceremonies; and
