7. Project Description: This project will add a recreation center and amphitheater to the park in a community that is an award winning social experiment funded by the federal government to attract migrant workers for the large agricultural industry located in South Miami-Dade County. The average income of the families is $16,000 to $19,000. This carefully manicured park already has lighted ball fields, paving, drainage, irrigation and fencing paid for by Miami Dade County in 2006. The recreation center will house free programs on arts and culture and performing arts and a computer lab for homework help provided by the Miami-Dade County Children's Trust to more than 800 children of low income migrant agricultural workers living in this government subsidized rental community. The services are now provided in worn temporary trailers left over from Hurricane Andrew. The amphitheatre will provide rain and sun shelter and a stage for the performing arts for these mostly Mexican people whose culture is not shared with the majority of Miami-Dade County's population. The lawn will be used for seating for the amphitheatre, thus minimizing costs and preserving green space.
