2018-2020

- 5000+ Survey Responses
- 1,700+ Text Message Conversations
- 140 Workshops / Presentations that engaged 2,800+ people

Desire for Change

84% Agree

Preference for Ridership Goal

Which network concept do you prefer?

59% Chose Ridership

Wider Stop Spacing

How far apart should bus stops be?

72% say every two blocks or more

Should we run more buses where we have the most bus riders in Miami-Dade County, and less service everywhere else?

Most survey respondents said that Miami-Dade should run more buses in areas with the most bus riders—dense and busy places.

- Most respondents favor shorter waits, even if it means longer walks—and these are usually the results of Ridership goals.
- Respondents were split over whether to shift resources away from low productivity routes towards high productivity routes, which is a method to achieving Ridership goals.

QUANTIFY THE BENEFITS

Nearly 353,000 additional residents in Miami-Dade County will have access to a bus route that arrives every 15 minutes or less within a ¼ mile or a 5-minute walk or less.

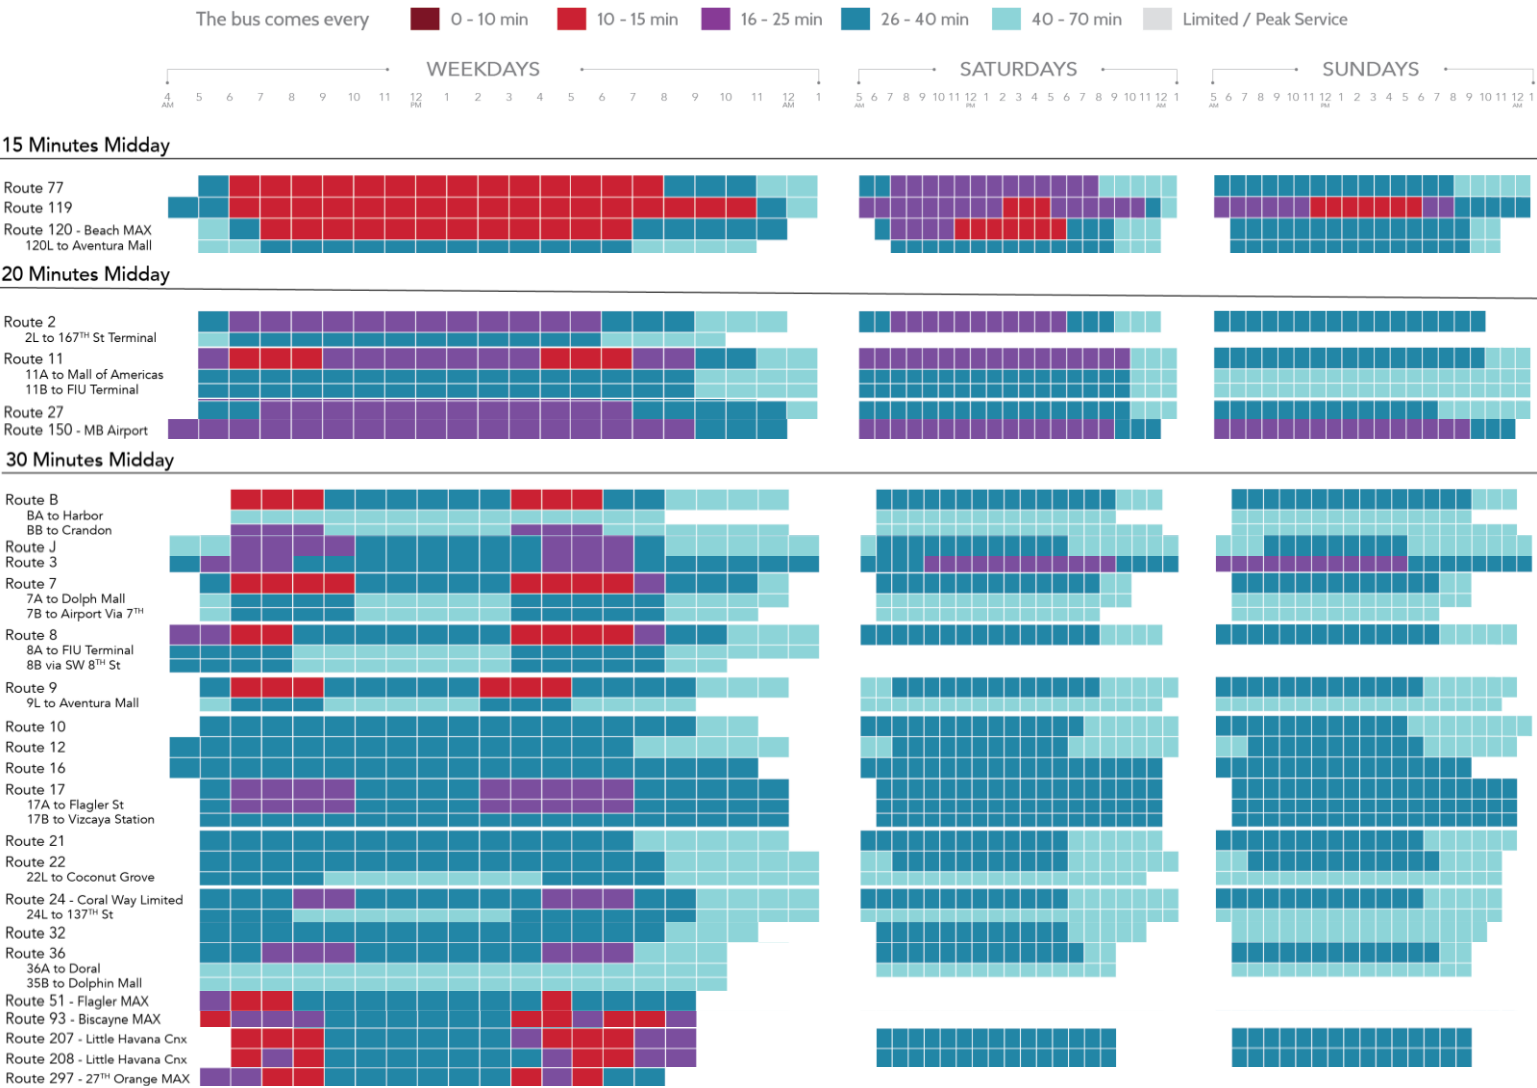

The average resident in Miami-Dade County will have access to 31% more opportunities (jobs and services) in 60 minutes by walking and transit.

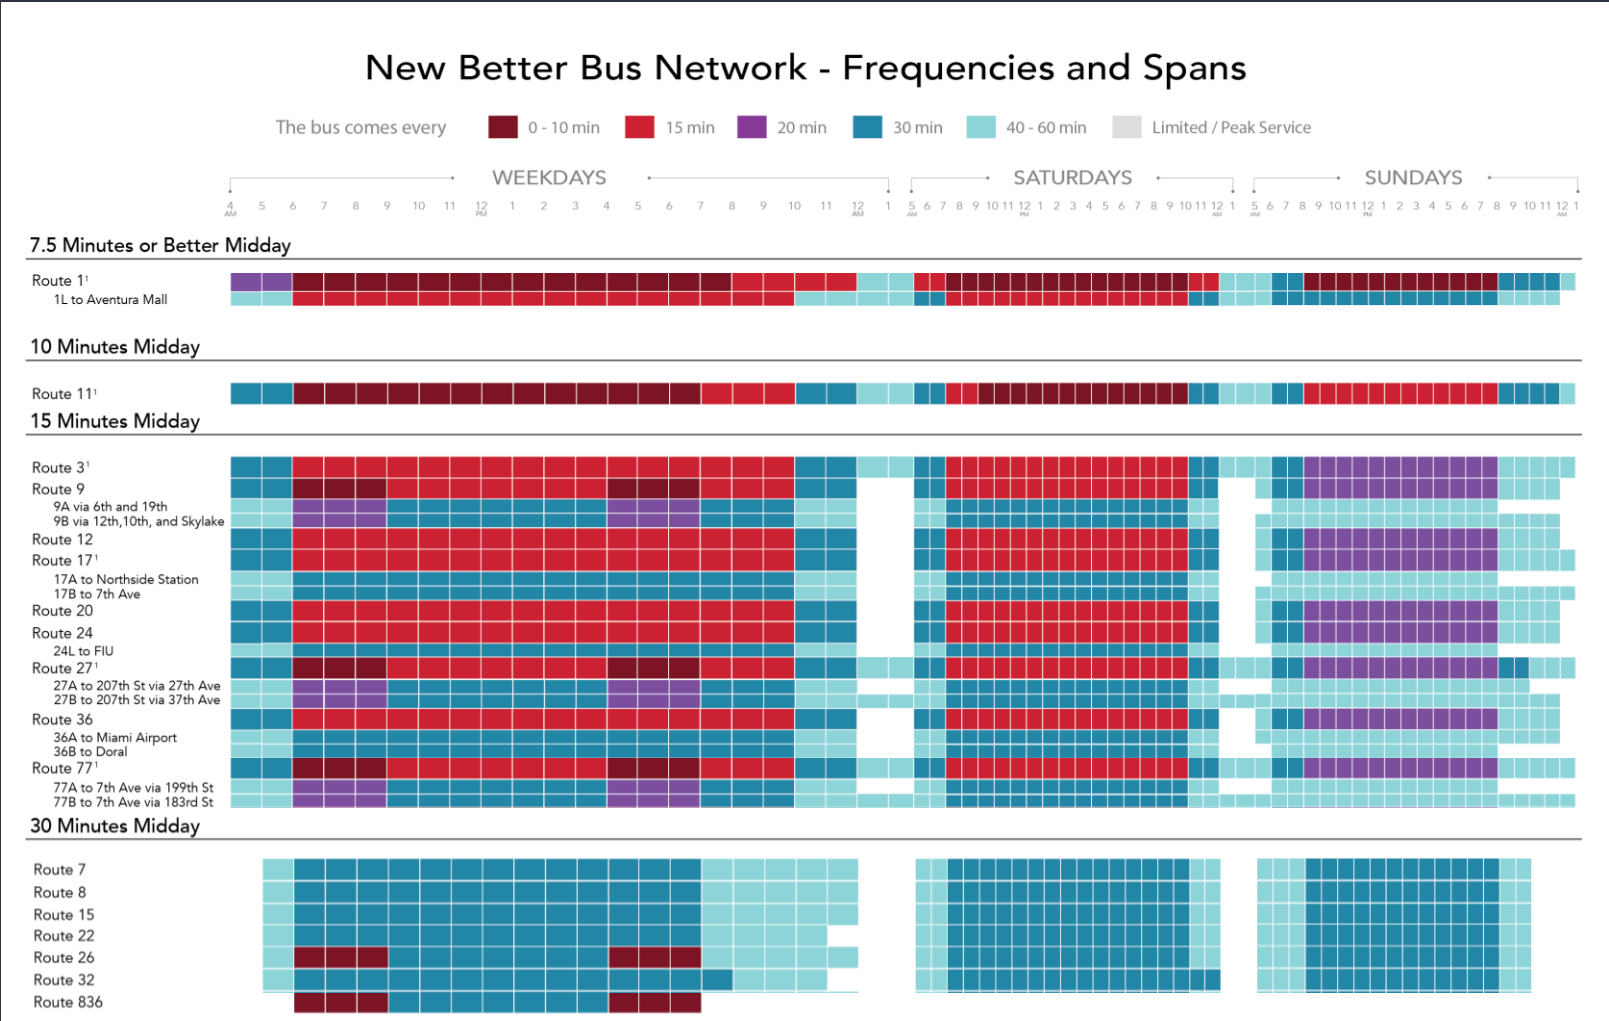

Increase the percentage of jobs near frequent service from 20% to 36% , bringing frequent service closer to 175,000 additional jobs.

Note:

For bus stops that are "Under Review", the Miami-Dade Department of Transportation and Public Works is continuously evaluating the bus network to optimize service in response to customer needs. These are bus stops that may or may not be moved in the future, based on those and other factors.

A Better Bus Network for Miami-Dade County

Miami-Dade Transit is redesigning the bus network to increase frequent bus routes and create better connections across Miami-Dade County.

While elevated rail, like Metrorail and Metromover, is a key part of our County's transit network, buses are the most flexible component of a transit system and have the highest potential for immediate improvement. If we want to improve access to opportunity by transit quickly, changing the bus network is the fastest way to make a difference.

Proposed Better Bus Network

The proposed Better Bus Network will create a ~~more useful network~~, especially across the most dense and walkable parts of Miami-Dade County. View the proposed network.
